Morning Oregonian.

VOL. 27—NO. 8448 PORTLAND, OREGON. THURSDAY. JUNE 9. 1887 PRICE FIVE CENTS.

GRAND CELEBRATION!

—AT—

PORTLAND, ORE.,

MONDAY, JULY 4th, 1887.

The citizens of Portland extend to the people of Oregon and Washington Territory a cordial invitation to join them in celebrating the 111th anniversary of our National Holiday. An unusually attractive programme has been arranged for the occasion.

Beginning Saturday, July 2d, and Ending Monday, July 4th.

[illegible] Fireworks

(New Designs, never before seen in the Northwest.)

Veteran Firemen's Contest, Grand Military Display and Parade, Out Door Sports, Literary Exercises, Regattas and Races.

And other new and novel attractions, to conclude with a

Grand Illumination of the Willamette River

In the evening, and a gorgeous

PYROTECHNIC DISPLAY

SPECIAL—The SECOND CAVALRY BAND of Walla Walla and other celebrated bands have been engaged for this occasion.

REDUCED RATES on all transportation lines.

[illegible] & CO.,

Manufacturers, Importers and Dealers in

[illegible]

—AND—

BRUSHES.

42 Front Street, - Portland, Or.

—PROPRIETORS OF—

PHOENIX OIL WORKS.

—AGENTS FOR—

BERRY BROS'. VARNISHES, Detroit, Mich.

JNO W. MASURY & SONS COLORS, New York and Chicago.

DEADGATE OIL COMPANY'S OILS, Victoria, B. C.

ANALYSIS

—OF THE—

Gambrinus Beer.

LOUIS FEURER Esq Portland Oregon

Dear Sir: We have examined your Gambrinus Beer [illegible] and have obtained the following [illegible]:

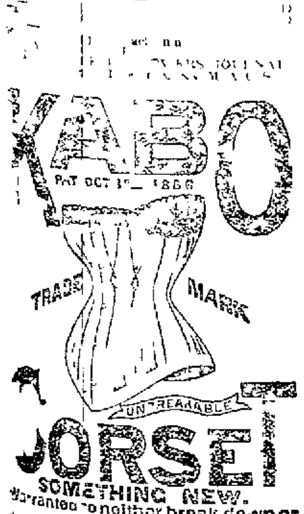
Specific gravity of beer free from carbonic acid [illegible]

The beer contains in 100 parts by weight

Alcohol	4.000 per cent
Extract	[illegible] per cent
Water	[illegible] per cent
	100.000 per cent

[illegible]

BREWERS JOURNAL [illegible]



KABO

PAT OCT 1[illegible] 1886

TRADE MARK

UNBREAKABLE

CORSET

SOMETHING NEW.

Warranted not to neither break down or roll up in wear.

None Genuine without KABO stamp [illegible] inside of Corset. [illegible]

CHICAGO CORSET CO.

CHICAGO. NEW YORK.

WAGONETTES, CARRYALLS,

HOTEL WAGONS,

FINE CARRIAGES PHAETONS,

BUGGIES, CARTS, ETC.

We have just received some very fine Wagonettes or Carryalls suitable for hotels or livery use. The finest of the kind ever carried in stock here. Send for Catalogue and Price List, free.

MITCHELL & LEWIS CO.,

Portland, Oregon.

BORQUIST AND REFFLING.

No. 31 Washington St., Labbe's Block,

MERCHANT TAILORS

NORTH PACIFIC MFG. CO.

Offer for the Spring Trade a Full Line of FINE

Carriages, Buggies, Spring Wagons, [illegible]

And Vehicles of Every Description.

Our goods are made of the BEST eastern material, and are SUPERIOR to any imported goods.

Factory 22d and T st. W. JACKSON & CO., Prop'rs.

WILLAMETTE IRON WORKS.

Incorporated Sept 14, 1865.

Boilermakers and Gen'l Machinists.

MANUFACTURERS OF

Building Fronts and Castings of Every Description, Marine and Stationary Engines, Saw Mills, Quartz Crushing and Amalgamating Machinery, Moore & Parker Turbine Water Wheels.

Prompt Attention to Repairing of Machinery & Boilers.

Largest Stock of Patterns north of San Francisco.

CORNER NORTH FRONT AND E STS. .... PORTLAND, Or.

Eight Reasons Why the

[illegible] Refrigerator

Is Superior to Other Makes:

1. It is the ONLY Refrigerator with five walls to preserve the ice.
2. It is the ONLY Refrigerator with Removable Flues.
3. It is the ONLY Refrigerator with Solid Iron Shelves.
4. It is the ONLY Refrigerator with Air Tight Locks.
5. It is ONLY made of Kiln Dried Hard Wood.
6. It keeps Ice longer and food better than any other, proven by ACTUAL TESTS
7. The principal parts of superiority are covered by PATENTS, and thereby secured for their exclusive use.
8. They are NOT SOLD FOR LESS PRICE than inferior ones, because any one examining the different styles in market will willingly pay the difference for a Vastly Superior Article.

CHAS. HEGELE & CO.,

Sole Agts., Cor. Front and Pine.

Staple, Popular, Pure,

United We Stand Bourbon Whisky

30 years on the Oregon Market

AND STANDS UNRIVALED

Do not be deceived into taking any other

Chas Kohn & Co. Agents Portland Or.

Patronize Home Industry!

It is an indisputable fact that railroad communication with the Eastern states has opened [illegible] the business of the Northwest and brought us into competition with Eastern [illegible] in all classes of goods.

It is [illegible] that protection of Home Manufacture is the only true method of building up and enriching this great Northwest country.

KEEP YOUR MONEY AT HOME

Is my motto, and to give the public a chance to [illegible] furnish ALL [illegible] OF FIREWORKS [illegible]

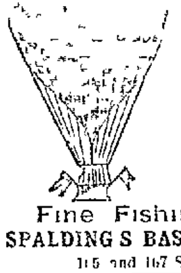
[illegible]

New York [illegible]

[illegible]

Laboratory—[illegible]

GEORGE BUCHTS.



WILLIAM BECK & SON,

Wholesale and Retail Dealers in

GUNS AND SPORTING GOODS,

FIRE WORKS!

Roman Candles,

BOMBS

SKYROCKETS

TRIANGLES,

Fire Crackers

LANTERNS

TORPEDOES,

FLAGS

Toy Pistols.

Fine Fishing Tackle,

SPALDING'S BASE BALL GOODS.

115 and 167 Second Street

P GOLDSMITH, New York | SOL. OPPENHAIMER, BERTHOLD GOLDSMITH Portland

GOLDSMITH & LOEWENBERG

Importers and Dealers in

METALS, Plain, Stamped Japanned Tinware, Tinners & Plumbers' Stock and Tools House-furnishing Hardware, Granite Ironware Lead and Iron Pipe, Pumps, etc.

84 and 86 Front st.

Depot of Northwestern Foundry.

LITTLE'S

Patent Fluid Dip

NON-POISONOUS

Sheep Dip & Cattle Wash

A Safe and Certain Cure for Scab. Destroys all Insects Ticks Lice etc on Sheep—Promoting a healthy natural growth of the fleece thus rapidly improving the wool and necessarily its market value.

CATTLE WASH—Most valuable for Killing Lice and all Insects, Bots, Warbles and Gad Flies on Feeding of Dairy Cattle, Calves, Hogs, etc. Safe and Effectual.

HORSES and DOGS are Immediately Freed from Mange, Lice and other Insects, without the least danger.

Pat. Powder Dip

Is a much improved form of Dipping Powder. The Best the Cheapest and Most [illegible] Containing [illegible] without any dry [illegible]

Ask for Little's Dips and Take No Others.

Send for Circulars etc to

JAMES LAIDLAW & CO., Portland,

General Agents for

Oregon, Washington Idaho Montana Dakota [illegible]

GEORGE POPE & CO.,

30 North Front st., Portland,

Shipping and Commission Merchants,

—IMPORTERS OF—

PORTLAND CEMENT, FIRE BRICKS CHEMICALS, SALT, WOOL AND GRAIN BAGS, TIN PLATES, WINES AND LIQUORS.

OFFICE AGENTS FOR

McDougall Bros' SHEEP DIP,

I. C. Gosling & Co's PORTLAND CEMENT

Procter & Gamble's SOAP & CANDLES.

Special Attention given to the Grading and Sale of WOOL.

We Have a Full Line of

Top & Open Buggies, Carriages, Surreys, Phaetons [illegible]

We Carry a Full Line of Farm & Mill Machinery, Wagons, Farm [illegible]

[illegible]

FRANK BROS. IMPLEMENT CO.,

[illegible]

EVERDING & FARREL,

Wholesale and Retail

Feed, Groceries,

Provisions, Etc.

[illegible] 140 FRONT ST.

WOOD! WOOD! WOOD!

Slab wood—$1.50 per load—from WILDERS MILL. Orders left at mill or in the box at Bow Saloon will be promptly attended to.

W. S. M. L. & M. CO.

Disease and Death

Force their way into many a household that might be protected from their inroads by the simple precaution of keeping in the house that benign family medicine and safeguard of health, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Particularly where there are children, should it be kept on hand as a prompt remedy for infantile complaints in their outset easily conquerable but which if allowed to engraft themselves on the delicate childish organism are not easily dislodged and speedily work grievous mischief. Irregularity of the bowels indigestion and biliousness are ailments of common occurrence in the household. Children living in malarious regions are more liable to be attacked with chills and fever than adults and the ravages of that fell disease in their system are speedier and more serious. In remote localities far from professional aid it is especially desirable.

FULL WEIGHT PURE

DR PRICE'S CREAM BAKING POWDER

SOLD ONLY IN CANS

DR PRICE'S SPECIAL FLAVORING EXTRACTS

NATURAL FRUIT FLAVORS

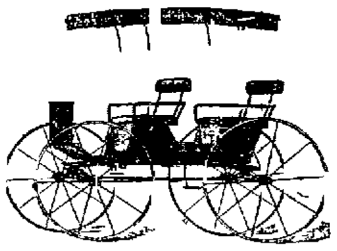
MOST PERFECT MADE

Prepared with strict regard to Purity, Strength, and Healthfulness. Dr Price's Baking Powder contains no Ammonia Lime, Alum or Phosphates. Dr Price's Extracts, Vanilla, Lemon, etc, flavor deliciously.

PRICE BAKING POWDER CO , Chicago and St. Louis.

A CAR-LOAD OF

Elegant Surrey Carriages



FOR SALE AT LOW PRICES.

It will pay all parties wanting Fine Vehicles of any kind to call upon or address

STAVER & WALKER

208 to 214 FRONT STREET,

PORTLAND OREGON

"Pet" Cigarettes!

ARE THE BEST.

[illegible]

"Pet" Cigarettes

[illegible]

WITHOUT ADULTERATION OR DRUGS

ALLEN & GINTER [illegible]

POND'S EXTRACT

VEGETABLE PAIN DESTROYER

Hemorrhages. [illegible] No [illegible] from any cause is [illegible] controlled and stopped.

Sores, Ulcers, Wounds, Sprains and Bruises. It is cooling, cleansing and Healing.

Catarrh. It is most efficacious [illegible] Cold [illegible] Our "Catarrh Cure," [illegible] prepared to meet [illegible] Our Nasal Syringe is simple [illegible]

Rheumatism, Neuralgia. [illegible] the Extract. Our Plaster is invaluable [illegible] Back or Side &c.

Diphtheria & Sore Throat, Use the Extract promptly. Delay is dangerous.

Piles. Blind Bleeding or Itching. It is [illegible] curing, when other medicines have failed. Our Ointment is of [illegible] the removal of clothing is inconvenient.

For Broken Breast and Sore Nipples. Mothers who have once used The Extract will never be without it. Our Ointment is the best [illegible] that can be applied.

Female Complaints. In the majority of female diseases, the Extract can be used, [illegible] with the [illegible] full directions accompany each bottle.

CAUTION.

Pond's Extract Has been [illegible] The words "Pond's Extract" [illegible] glass and our picture [illegible] surrounding buff wrapper. [illegible] Always insist on having Pond's Extract. Take no other [illegible]

Sold everywhere. Prices, 50c, $1, $1.75.

Prepared only by POND'S EXTRACT CO., NEW YORK AND LONDON.

Spring Millinery.

All the Latest Styles Pattern Hats and Bonnets. Elegant Novelties.

MISS A. N. JOHNSON,

103 First St.

Old and reliable Medicines are the best to depend upon. Acker's Blood Elixir has been prescribed for years for all impurities of the Blood. In every form of Scrofulous, Syphilitic or Mercurial diseases, it is invaluable. For Rheumatism, has no equal. For sale by all druggists.

NEWS BY CABLE.

Attitude of the Powers on the Egyptian Question.

THE CZAR IN FAVOR OF PEACE

The Jubilee Yacht Race—Colliery Disaster in Germany—Davitt Tired of Moderation—Old World Notes

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 8.—Sir Henry Drummond Wolff, special English representative in charge of the Egyptian question, and Sir Wm A. White, the English ambassador, discussed with the Ottoman commission last evening the objections of Russia and France to the Anglo-Turkish convention relative to Egypt. The French and Russian embassadors had declared in presenting the objections of their governments that the convention was contrary to the Sultan's sovereign rights. It is announced that the adhesion of the powers to the convention will be invited after it is ratified, and that if any powers fail to give their sanction within three years such refusal will be regarded as constituting external danger to Egypt, and British evacuation of the country will be postponed. The Porte will ratify the convention at the Bairam festival.

AMBASSADOR DISMISSED

LONDON, June 8.—A dispatch to the Cologne Gazette from St. Petersburg says that M. Saburoff and M. Tatischeff formerly Russian ambassadors at Berlin, have been dismissed from the diplomatic service of Russia for publishing secret official documents in connection with the controversy between the North German Gazette and the Russian press, and that Editor Kaetkoff, of the Moscow Gazette, will be reprimanded for publishing the documents.

THE CZAR WANTS PEACE

BERLIN, June 8.—A dispatch from St. Petersburg says: The czar is incensed at the tone adopted by the Russian press in regard to his foreign policy. The czar aims at maintaining peace. His policy emphasizes the tradition of amity between Russia and Germany.

A MEASURE OF POLICY

CAIRO, June 8.—Mahdi, at a recent council of war at Ondurman, decided to refrain from making attacks on the frontier because such hostilities would prolong the English occupation of Egypt.

FRANCE WILL NOT CONSENT

PARIS, June 8.—The French government has informed the French ambassadors abroad that France cannot assent to the Anglo-Turkish convention, except as a basis for negotiations.

ENGLAND.

THE ENGLISH COTTON MARKETS

MANCHESTER, June 8.—The Guardian's commercial article says the effect of the latest rise in cotton in Liverpool will undoubtedly be to cause a further curtailment in the consumption of cotton. The opinion is held that a further advance in cotton will be absolutely beneficial, as it will hasten the closing of mills and favor the adoption of the short time movement. There is no sign of improvement in business or even in current demand. At low prices a moderate business has been done in the export of yarns, but sales have not reached the full amount. Home business has been poor. Cloth is quiet. Manufacturers are discontented with the current prices. Quotations are largely beyond the reach of buyers. The best printers are firm, but there is little fresh business. Prices are being upheld chiefly by unexecuted orders.

DONOVAN, THE JUMPER

LONDON, June 8.—Lawrence Donovan was arrested on Westminster bridge this afternoon, while attempting to jump therefrom into the Thames, and taken to the Bow street police court, where he was charged with disorderly conduct. The constable who arrested Donovan testified that the latter had pulled off his coat and had climbed up on the parapet of the bridge, when he was seized by two men and dragged to the bridge floor, after a severe struggle. An enormous crowd was attracted to the spot by the proceedings. Donovan, in his turn, complained to the magistrate that the police had meddled with his affairs. He had wanted to show the public that it was possible for him to jump from the bridge and swim ashore. The magistrate cautioned him against again attempting the jump and discharged him.

ASCOT HEATH RACE

LONDON, June 8.—At Ascot heath to-day the race for the Royal Hunt cup was won by Gay Hermit, Pearl River second, Condelmar third.

Manton's colt Timothy won the Ascot Derby stakes for three year olds, Swinley course, by three lengths, Duke of Beaufort's colt Dante second, Lord Bradfield's colt Chippeway a bad third. Douglas Baird's filly Maize and Sir R. Jardine's colt Agitator also ran.

Triennial stakes, for two year olds, over the "T. Y. C.," won by a length and a half by Lord Setland's colt by Isonomy out of Ellen Gowan, J. H. Houldsworth's colt Springhaven second, Lord Bradford's colt Gerroy Andrew third. Gen Owen Williams' colt Holyrood, Lord Hartington's colt, by Barcaldine out of Chapel and A. N. Taylor's colt Pull Together, were starters.

THE JUBILEE YACHT RACE

LONDON, June 8.—The time allowances in the jubilee yacht race around the British isles will be regulated by the time the first yacht arrives at Andover, the finishing point. In the event of the first yacht arriving in ten days after the start, allowance will be reckoned on the assumption of the total length of the course, 2000 knots, this length to be increased by 100 knots for each day less than ten that the first yacht consumes in reaching the goal, or increased by 100 knots for each day over ten. The owner or an authorized representative must accompany each [illegible]. Each owner or representative will be required to sign and deliver at the end of the race [illegible] that [illegible] the rules [illegible] observed. Yachts will be allowed to [illegible] during the progress.

THE LIBERAL UNIONISTS

LONDON, June 8.—The English liberal unionists [illegible] passed resolutions regretting that, [illegible] Irish [illegible] that the [illegible] will [illegible] the liberal unionists [illegible]

THE [illegible]

LONDON, June 8.—Hartington and Chamberlain had an interview with members of the government to-day, and it is reported that the result was the dropping of the venue clause of the crimes bill in favor of a provision for trial by a commission of judges.

THE IRISH LAND BILL

LONDON, June 8.—It is expected that the Irish land bill will reach the house of commons next week, and that the government will ask a second reading of that measure before taking final steps in the crimes bill.

THE MANCHESTER CANAL COMPANY

LONDON, June 8.—In the house of commons to-day the bill enabling the Manchester Ship Canal company to raise a portion of its capital by the issue of preference shares passed its first reading.

LORD HARTINGTON TO SPEAK

LONDON, June 8.—Lord Hartington will speak at Manchester on the 24th inst., with reference to Gladstone's proposal for a conference.

FRANCE'S ACTION NOT APPROVED

LONDON, June 8.—Austria and the central powers do not approve France's refusal to assent to the Egyptian convention.

GERMANY.

BERLIN NOTES

BERLIN, June 8.—The Strasburg Post denies semi-officially that Prince Von Hohenlohe will resign the governor generalship of Alsace Lorraine.

A bill was presented in the reichstag yesterday to regulate municipal appointments in Alsace Lorraine.

THE ROYAL PATIENTS

BERLIN, June 8.—The emperor, who is suffering from a cold, passed a restless night, but is better to-day, and left his bed. His doctors are of the opinion that he will entirely recover in a week.

Dr McKenzie pronounces the crown prince's condition satisfactory.

TAXATION OF LIQUORS

BERLIN, June 8.—A committee of the reichstag has decided to impose a sur tax of 30 pfennigs on the stock of brandy existing October 1, when the spirit-tax bill becomes a law. The import duty on arrack, cognac and rum in casks has been fixed at 12[illegible], and on other spirits at 180 marks.

TERRIBLE COLLIERY DISASTER.

BERLIN, June 8.—An explosion of fire-damp occurred in a coal pit at Gelsenkirchen in Westphalia this morning. The bodies of forty-one persons, killed by the explosion, have been recovered. Twelve more miners are believed to be dead.

THE CROWN PRINCE'S THROAT

BERLIN, June 8.—If the result of Dr. Mackenzie's examination of the crown prince's throat is favorable, the prince will start for London on Saturday. From there he will go to the Isle of Wight.

DEATH OF FATHER FORAN.

ANAHEIM, June 8.—Father Foran, the Catholic priest who shot himself, died this morning. A letter was found indicating that he had attempted [illegible]

AUSTRIA.

AID [illegible]

VIENNA, June 8.—[illegible] to represent the [illegible] of the Opera Comique sufferers [illegible] has appealed to [illegible] for the kindness [illegible] to the sufferers by the burning of the Ring theater in Vienna.

OVERTURES FOR A NEW TREATY

VIENNA, June 8.—The government has proposed to Germany that negotiation [illegible] for a new commercial treaty.

FRANCE.

UNIVERSAL SUFFRAGE PROPOSED

PARIS, June 8.—At a meeting [illegible] the extreme left adopted M. Ladare's proposal to elect the senate by universal suffrage, and [illegible] decided to submit the proposal to [illegible] left, with a view to action upon it.

TALK OF POSTPONEMENT.

PARIS, June 8.—It is said the government contemplates postponing the Paris exhibition, to have been held in 1890.

CANADA.

BLAKE VERY ILL.

TORONTO, June 8.—Hon Edward Blake is very ill, and his more intimate friends are much alarmed at his condition. He is threatened with an attack of paralysis, of which he had alarming symptoms in 1878.

AFRICA.

STANLEY'S EXPEDITION

LONDON, June 8.—Dispatch from St. Paul de Loanda. The latest Congo advices are to the effect that Stanley's expedition is making successful but slow progress up the river, owing to the fact that the vessels are heavily laden. The expedition passed the confluence of the Kassai river May 6. Stanley expected to arrive at Bolobo May 8.

ITALY.

IN HONOR OF GARIBALDI.

ROME, June 8.—Crowds of persons arrived at Caprera yesterday to commemorate the anniversary of Garibaldi's death. They laid wreaths on his tomb and visited his house. Many veteran Garibaldians who were among the visitors were deeply affected.

A DUKE RECEIVES AN ORDER.

ROME, June 8.—King Humbert to-day conferred upon the duke of Edinburg the order of Annunciada.

IRELAND

EVICTIONS ON CLARE ISLAND

DUBLIN, June 8.—The gunboat Banterer took the sheriff of County Clare and a body of police to Clare island, where they evicted twelve tenants. The scenes witnessed while writs of execution were being executed were pitiable.

DAVITT TIRED OF MODERATION.

DUBLIN, June 8.—Michael Davitt made another speech at Bodyke to-day. For the last eight years he has counseled moderation, and the result has been his imprisonment. As soon as more tory blackguards showed moderation he would return the favor.

THE WEST INDIES.

THE ODIOUS SPANISH ORDER.

HAVANA, June 8.—The excitement in Matanzas and Pinar del Rio over the announcement of the suppression of those provinces and the formation of a new division is increasing. Messages protesting against the new arrangement are being incessantly sent to Spain, and preparations are being made for further demonstrations. Business in both provinces is paralyzed.

HUNGARY.

THE GREAT FLOODS

VIENNA, June 8.—The inhabitants of Lele in the flooded district, have been rescued in boats, and are now camping around Makad, where 1000 men are working with frantic energy at the dykes. Water is within 500 yards of the town, and the place is doomed unless the flood soon subsides. The government has sent funds to relieve the immediate wants of the sufferers.

SPORTING NOTES.

THE ST LOUIS RACES

ST LOUIS, June 8.—The track was muddy, but improved somewhat during the afternoon.

Mile—Mamie Hay won, May Corl second, Birak third. Time, 1:17[illegible]

All ages, mile and a quarter—Volante won, [illegible] second, Ernnet third. Time, 2:18.

All ages, one and one sixteenth miles—Biddy B. [illegible] won, Alfred second, Mary L. third. Time, 1:5[illegible]

For two year olds, three-quarters mile—[illegible] won, Ocean Wave second, Jack Cocks third. Time, 1:[illegible]

One and a quarter miles—[illegible] won, [illegible] second, [illegible] third. Time, [illegible]

All ages, seven furlongs—[illegible] won, Fred [illegible] second, John Alexander third. Time, 1[illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] June 8.—The attendance was excellent, the weather fine and the track good [illegible]

[illegible] for two year olds, [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible]

One and three sixteenths miles—[illegible] won, [illegible] second, [illegible] third. Time [illegible]

Five furlongs—Choctaw won, King Arthur second, [illegible] third. Time, 1:0[illegible]

Steeple chase, full course—Shamrock won, [illegible] Lance second, [illegible] third. Time, 4[illegible]

BASEBALL

INDIANAPOLIS, June 8.—Indianapolis [illegible], Chicago 8.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Washington [illegible], Boston [illegible]

BALTIMORE, June 8.—Baltimore [illegible], Louisville [illegible]

NEW YORK, June 8.—[illegible] Cincinnati [illegible]

PHILADELPHIA, June 8.—New York 7, Philadelphia [illegible]

NEW YORK, June 8.—Metropolitans 1, St Louis [illegible]

PHILADELPHIA, June 8.—Morning: Athletics [illegible], Cincinnati [illegible]. Afternoon: Athletics [illegible], Cincinnati [illegible]

DETROIT, June 8.—No game; rain.

THE CHURCHES

REFORMED CHURCH SYNOD

CLEVELAND, June 8.—The general synod of the Reformed church, which has been in session at Akron eight days, adjourned this afternoon. The new constitution was favorably reported, and accepted without debate. The report of the committee on board of foreign missions was adopted, and the action of women in organizing a general [illegible] of missions approved. A temperance resolution was adopted. The biennial question was laid over three years. Lebanon, Penn, was chosen as the place for holding the next synod, in 1891. The report of the committee on church union was adopted. It cited the fact that the Reformed church has always been ready to extend the right hand of fellowship to all Christians, and hailed with joy the signs of a closer union of God's people.

STEAMER MOVEMENTS

HAMBURG, June 8.—Arrived—Rhaetia, from New York.

QUEENSTOWN, June 8.—Arrived—British King, from Philadelphia.

PACIFIC COAST.

Hostiles Kill a Brother of Ex-Mayor Grace.

THE PORT TOWNSEND MYSTERY.

A Fisherman Drifts Twenty Miles to Sea and is Rescued—Pacific Coast Railroad Notes—A Desperado Killed

TOMBSTONE, A. T., June 8.—Word was received here this morning of the killing of Mike Grace and the narrow escape of Billy Williams and Billy Lee from two Apaches at Tompora gulch, eighty five miles south of Crittenden. There is no doubt that the Indians have separated in two or more parties, one of which has already escaped into Mexico. Their signal fires were seen in the Santa Rita mountains Monday night. Capt Smith, from Fort Lowell, reports by courier to-day that he can find no trace of any hostiles near Mountain Springs, which would prove that they have passed this troop and are between Lieut. Johnson and Capt. Lawton, but will probably reach the Sonora line. They have made about seventy miles a day since the killing of Diehl in the Santa Catalinas. Lieut. Johnson has orders to pursue even into Mexico. The hostiles must have crossed the railroad near Pantano.

A troop of picked men left Ft. Apache last evening to try to head off the band of Indians seen on the Santa Ritas Monday evening. From present appearance all hope of the peaceable return of the renegades has been abandoned, and extermination is the order of the day.

Mike Grace, who was killed this morning, is a brother of ex-Mayor Grace of New York.

GEN. HOWARD'S OPINION

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—Gen Howard, speaking of the latest Apache outbreak, said today: "If they are bent on marauding there is no doubt they will cause trouble before being captured. But I have no fear of their speedy capture by the troops. It is small parties of Indians that create the most trouble. Geronimo last year had only a small party with him, yet see all the depredations he committed. Geronimo was in some respects an extraordinary Indian, and that accounts for the long time it took to capture him. If the Indians who have now gone out have not a sharp, strong leader it will not take long to capture them. The department will leave nothing undone to surround and capture them.

THE REPUBLICAN CLUB

NEW YORK, June 8.—The Republican Club of New York met to-night, and listened to a report from its committee on national affairs. The committee advised that the club do not anticipate the action of the republican convention by any premature action, and added these words: "A conference with the leaders of the Irish Americans who voted for Blaine in 1884 discloses that they will again vote for him, and prefer his nomination to any other man." After a discussion over this, the report of the committee was adopted without a negative vote. The committee appointed to consider a national convention of republican clubs reported that 100 clubs in various parts of the country had been communicated with, and all favored such a convention.

THE PORT TOWNSEND MYSTERY.

Investigation of the Disappearance of 1000 Return Certificates.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—At least one paper here is striving to make political capital of the alleged mysterious disappearance of 1000 return certificate blanks issued to Chinamen from the Port Townsend custom house office in 1885. From purported transcripts presented here there seems to be a gap of 1000 certificates between numbers 2547 and 3548, and Chinamen are attempting to land on numbers between these two figures.

When the cases came up yesterday in Judge Hoffman's court the attorney for the Chinamen argued that his clients had received their certificates at Port Townsend, in the proper and legal way, and if there was anything wrong about them it was not their fault, and therefore they should be allowed to land.

"A commission," said the judge, "should be sent to Port Townsend to investigate this matter and find out whether all the signatures to these certificates are in the same handwriting or not. This transcript is second hand evidence. Let us have the original documents, and see if the same jump in the numbers exists there. Can they overhaul the records and give us a correct transcript in this form? Is there any record of these five certificates which now turn up here? Are they outstanding? Have they ever been issued? Is it certain that these are the seals of the Port Townsend custom house? In whose handwriting are the signatures? The jump in numbers may be clerical errors. We have no direct and decisive testimony on these points. We want more light. I want these cases to be so far developed now as to enable a commission to be sent to investigate. Let these cases go on trial and then be continued."

TESTIMONY

Yee Lun was called to the stand, and his certificate, No 25[illegible]2, dated Port Townsend, January 17, 1885, was offered in evidence. He had two scars on his face, which corresponded to the description on the certificate.

Deputy Collector H. H. Scott testified substantially as follows: This certificate, No 25[illegible] is one of those that mysteriously disappeared. There is no record of any such number. It is [illegible] this transcript, which purports to contain [illegible]

[illegible] Judge Hoffman, "the [illegible] certificates were [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] Assistant District Attorney [illegible]

[illegible] Chinamen [illegible]

[illegible] the stand. His [illegible] Townsend, January [illegible]

[illegible] certificate No 25[illegible] dated [illegible] 1884. This was not one of the [illegible] in the jump, but forms [illegible] in the records. The register [illegible]

[illegible] special agent of the treasury, [illegible] regular [illegible] of the records of Port Townsend [illegible]

[illegible]

"It is [illegible] custom [illegible] for collector [illegible]

SALEM NOTES.

An Aged Man Struck by the Cars—Granulating [illegible]

SALEM, June 8.—About [illegible] this evening, while [illegible] the [illegible] express was running toward Salem at the rate of thirty miles per hour, when about one mile below [illegible], the engineer saw [illegible] on the side of the [illegible] on a small bridge. The air brakes were immediately put on, but to no avail. When the engine reached the man [illegible] the side of the [illegible] and the right [illegible] the ditch. The train [illegible] the unfortunate man, who was still alive, [illegible] and brought to the city, where it was found that his name is Vincent, father of Mrs. W. S. Hoyt, of East Salem, to whose house he was taken. Mr Vincent, who is an old man aged about 70, childish and subject to epileptic fits, had probably wandered down the railroad track and fallen in a fit on the bridge. At last accounts he was still alive, but his death is expected at any moment.

James Stewart, an old man aged about 60, who has been wandering about the city for a day or two, was to-day arrested and committed to the asylum. Stewart came here from Washington territory. His mania is suicidal.

A fire alarm was sounded at 2 this morning, to which the department quickly responded. The barn of the Harbord heirs, valued at $400, was burned. Insurance, $250. Tiger's steamer, in attempting to reach the slough to get water, had to pass down a very dangerous descent. The steamer very nearly upset, but the slough was reached without accident and the water which extinguished the fire obtained.

This morning at 10 o'clock occurred the graduating exercises of the Conservatory of Music, at the chapel of the university. The attendance was large and the performances creditable. The graduates are Misses Hallie Parrish, Edith Pentland, Mamie Overholt, Emma Stannus, Frances Gilbert and Effie Byars. This afternoon was held the annual meeting of the alumni, and to-night a large audience is present at the annual entertainment of the alumni. The reunion of the alumni follows.

Articles have been filed with the secretary of state incorporating the Aumsville Railway Company, with M. B. Cockerline, Andrew Stanton and F. M. Cockerline, incorporators. Capital stock, $1000. This company intends to build a short railway from Aumsville, Marion county, to the narrow gauge railway, a distance of one-half mile.

Secretary McBride has distributed about 500 copies of the session laws to different public officers of the state, and is now engaged in sending out copies of the laws to private parties who have sent $2 therefor.

Mrs. Dr. Parrish, wife of J. L. Parrish, is lying very low at her residence in Salem and cannot recover.

FROM ASTORIA.

A Fisherman Drifts Twenty Miles to Sea and is Rescued.

ASTORIA, June 8.—Col. John Adair, Jr., is about to establish a steam ferry from Smith's point to the Lewis & Clarke, across Young's bay, thus affording improved means of travel from Astoria to the seaside and Clatsop beach.

Nals Hansen, fishing for the West Coast Packing Company, was upset in a boat in the breakers beyond the south channel, Tuesday morning, and drifted twenty miles to sea. He was picked up by the McArthur that afternoon, exhausted, and taken to Shoalwater bay.

John F. Caples will deliver an address on the Fourth of July in this city.

The State of California took 725 cases of salmon, 400 Eureka and 325 Scandinavian Packing Company.

John Chappell, a well known resident of Astoria and Ilwaco, dropped dead at the latter place at 8 o'clock last Tuesday evening. The coroner's verdict was that death was caused by paralysis of the heart.

CALIFORNIA.

WEDNESDAY'S MARKET.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—A Chicago special to the Chronicle says: In the wheat pit the clique did nothing early in the day, and the crowd appeared to be waiting for indications. Receipts were large at most of the leading points. The bear side of the story is that there are 9,000,000 bushels more visible than one year ago; that prices are 16 cents a bushel higher; that large quantities have already been forced abroad; that the crop prospect is good, and if the combination takes July wheat they will run into the harvest month; that the clique already has 16,000,000 bushels of wheat on hand, to say nothing of options; that ½ cent is added every ten days for storage; that every cent of decline represents a loss of $150,000, and that ruin stares the crowd in the face unless some unforeseen event creates an unusual demand for wheat. This is offset by the belief that the clique has money enough to stay under the wheat, and that there is very little to indicate what the clique will do with July wheat. June wheat sold to-day from 93 cents at the opening down to 92⅛c. July opened steadily at 86⅝c, and sold down to 86¼c and back to 86⅜@86⅝c. August sold at 83⅞@87⅛c. On the afternoon board June closed at 92⅛c and July at 86⅝c. A good deal of cash wheat was delivered to the clique on two deliveries to-day.

PERSONAL AND GENERAL NOTES.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—"Four thousand men and 2000 boats are busy at the mouth of the Columbia, catching fish. All the men make Astoria lively. Money is tolerably plenty, and much business is being done," are remarks credited to C. H. Cooper, a merchant of Astoria, who is in the city.

The cashier of the Anglo-California bank states with regard to the forged letters of credit purporting to have been issued by his bank and honored by a number of European banking houses: "The London house has cabled us regarding the matter, and we are informed that the amount obtained by the confidence men will not exceed in the aggregate $30,000."

G. W. Loggie, a merchant of Empire City, is at the Lick house.

The schooner Orion came down from Kodiak, Alaska, yesterday in ballast. She was seventeen and a half days on the trip.

The schooner Czar, belonging to the McCollam Fishing and Trading Company, will sail for Pirate Cove, Alaska, to-morrow.

The schooner American Boy sailed from San Francisco to Gray's harbor April 30. She discharged and loaded and left Gray's harbor May 21, arriving at San Buena Ventura May 28. This is one of the fastest trips ever made between the two ports.

PORTLANDERS INVESTING IN MINES.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—The Examiner's columns contain this bit of news: "C. W. Fox, owner of quartz and placer claims ninety-six miles east of Ensenada, Lower California, who has been in the city for the past fortnight, left yesterday afternoon via the steamer Queen of the Pacific on his return to Ensenada. While here he succeeded in interesting James Lotan, of the Union Iron works, Portland, and A. J. Knott, the fast horse owner and proprietor of the Stark-street ferry in the same city, in these mines. They have, it is stated, already deposited $10,000 for a plant of hydraulic machinery and general working expenses, and will increase this amount to $20,000 if necessary. It is said that this is a sum amply sufficient to place the mines where they will become profitable producers. Gold is said to be very plentiful around there, especially in the placer mines. The machinery hitherto used has been very crude, and but little of the gold could be saved. Work on these mines is to be pushed steadily from this on.

THE EUROPEAN BANK SWINDLES.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—Relative to the forgeries through which banks in Paris and throughout Europe have been swindled, the president of the Anglo-California bank of this city says: "The original letters of credit were brought here and counterfeited either in this country or in England. The work must have been executed by very skillful hands. To avoid any suspicion of the genuineness of the forged letters of credit, forgers were careful to draw a small sum on them from the London bank in England prior to presenting them for large amounts on foreign banks at Antwerp, Rome, Nice and other cities. The small amounts drawn by the swindlers from the London bank gave the forged letters a tone of genuineness which was only a decoy to entrap other foreign banks which suffered greater losses." The president said the bank here had been advised of forgeries in all amounting to $30,000. Ten thousand had been obtained in Leipsic, $1000 in Antwerp and smaller amounts in Rome, Paris, Brussels and other cities on the continent.

THE NORTHERN PACIFIC BLOCKADE.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—It is stated here to-day that the Southern Pacific freight department received a telegram from Assistant General Traffic Manager Shelby of the Union Pacific yesterday, stating that no more freight should be shipped over the Northern Pacific to Helena, M. T., on account of the Mullan tunnel blockade between Garrison and Helena. The dispatch further states that the cave in the tunnel is serious, and will probably impede freight traffic for three or four weeks. There is considerable freight shipped from here to that point, roads running from here making the same rates to Helena as roads running from the Missouri river.

TO OPERATE WITH THE OREGON SHORT LINE.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—The number of directors of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company has been increased from seven to nine. The directorate thus constituted is composed of Charles Goodall of San Francisco, John L. Howard of Oakland, Elijah Smith of New York, J. J. Higginson of New York, J. N. Dennison of Boston, Wm. Morrison of San Francisco, S. G. Murphy of San Francisco, S. V. Smith of San Rafael and John Rosenfeld of San Francisco. It is thought the line has been put under control of the Union Pacific, to operate with the Oregon Short Line.

LACK OF WHARFAGE FACILITIES.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—Capt. Morse, of the ship George F. Manson, has complained to the state board of harbor commissioners that in consequence of lack of wharfage facilities at the Oregon Improvement Company's dock he was unable to discharge 700 tons of coal which he had for the company. His application for half rates while lying idle was taken under advisement.

A PORTLAND CAPITALIST.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—The Call to-day gives this kind of a personal to a Portlander: "S. G. Reed, one of the prominent capitalists on the Pacific coast, and his wife, of Portland, Oregon, are guests of R. R. Thompson at his residence on Van Ness avenue during a short stay in this city. Mr. Reed is largely identified with the stock-raising and farming interests of Oregon, in addition to owning large blocks of stock in several mining enterprises. He has done much toward developing the resources of Oregon, and for many years served as president and vice-president of the old Oregon Steam Navigation Company. Mr. Reed's attention was some time ago called to the advantages for capitalistic enterprises offered in the development of the mines in the Cœur d'Alene district in Northern Idaho. The gentleman, after making a personal inspection, succeeded in procuring ownership of the Bunker Hill and Sullivan mines, paying therefor the sum of $1,500,000."

ALASKA COMMERCIAL COMPANY.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—The annual meeting of shareholders of the Alaska Commercial Company was held to-day. There were 19,800 shares represented out of 20,000. Officers were elected for the ensuing year as follows: President, Louis Gerstle; vice-president, Gustav Neltaur; secretary, Max Heilbronner; directors, Louis Sloss, Leon Sloss and C. A. Williams.

THE MEXICO REPAIRED.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—The steamer Mexico will have all her repairs completed and be ready to sail on her old route to Victoria again by the 17th inst. The City of Chester, which has been running in her place on the Victoria line, will be taken off and placed on her old line to Humboldt bay, sailing from here on the 15th inst.

FISHERMEN TO STRIKE.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—The journeymen fishermen's union have made a demand on their employers for a reduction of working hours from fifteen to eleven a day, with Sunday off. As the employers refuse to accede to the demands the strike will be ordered Monday evening. About sixty men will be affected by the strike.

LICENSES FOR MAY.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—F. J. O'Brien, collector of licenses for the city and county of San Francisco, reports the number of licenses issued in the month of May as 2267, and the amount received therefor $28,180. Liquor dealers paid $12,280, and grocery store bars $5210. Municipal licenses amount to $5048.

INVESTIGATING THE POLICE.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—The members of the police committee of the grand jury to-day commenced an investigation into the conduct of the police department. Chief Crowley has ordered that the committee be given every facility during the investigation.

LIFE IMPRISONMENT.

NEVADA, June 8.—Fred Senucci, convicted of the murder of another Italian, a wood chopper named Joseph Sortoretti, was sentenced to-day to life imprisonment in San Quentin.

SHIPPING.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—Arrived—Ship Louisiana, Seattle.

Sailed—Steamer Wellington, Nanaimo.

HONG DI ARRAIGNED.

COLUSA, June 8.—Hong Di, charged with the murder of Mrs. Billion, was arraigned this morning and pleaded not guilty.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

TACOMA NOTES.

TACOMA, June 8.—The local hop market has lately been stimulated by reports from the East concerning the condition of the coming crop. Twenty and twenty-two cents are now being offered, but farmers, anticipating better figures still, are making but few contracts. The acreage in the Puyallup valley has been increased about 25 per cent, and the good prices received for this year's crop will make money very plentiful in the valley.

In addition to the twenty-two religious denominations now represented in this community, the Second Day Adventists have found lodgment, and hold nightly meetings in a huge tent on E street.

A carpenter named Abram Urch fell from a scaffolding on a new building on Tacoma avenue to the ground, a distance of fifteen feet, striking on his head and sustaining severe contusion of the brain.

Bishop Morris, of Oregon, to-day delivered the annual address before the students of Washington college, on the occasion of their commencement exercises.

Flags were flying to-day in honor of the distinguished guests, C. B. Wright and party.

NEWS ITEMS FROM SPOKANE FALLS.

SPOKANE FALLS, June 8.—H. Y. Thompson and F. C. Smith, two prominent residents and capitalists of Portland, left this city this afternoon, in company with J. W. Young, for the purpose of inspecting the Salmon river mines, a very promising mineral camp being opened up this summer. The object of the visit on the part of the Portland men is to make investments if the outlook justifies. In the event of their becoming interested the new district will be given that boom that the Cœur d'Alene and Colville districts had to wait two or three years to secure.

The examination of Mrs. Mary Teller for being implicated in the killing of her husband, Frank Teller, commenced in the justice's court to-day, and will probably be completed to-morrow. No new light has been thrown upon the mysterious case by the evidence given to-day.

The May term of court will close to-morrow, after a long and interesting session.

NOT AN INDICTMENT FOUND.

OLYMPIA, June 8.—The grand jury on the part of the territory was discharged to-day without finding a single indictment, and the only indictment presented by the United States grand jury was one for smuggling opium. Such a state of affairs is most creditable to Thurston county.

The Postal Telegraph case is still under argument. Hon. H. G. Struve occupied the day in representing the Postal Company.

ARIZONA.

A DESPERADO KILLED.

TUCSON, June 8.—Detective Ben Harris received a telegram this morning from Sheriff Crawford, stating that the notorious Ike Clanlon had been killed at Pegleg Wilson's ranch, on Eagle creek, by Deputy Sheriff Miller of Apache county, while resisting arrest. He was killed on the 2d inst. His brother, Fin Clanlon, not so well known hereabouts as Ike, is in jail at St. Johns. Ike Clanlon was wanted here, as he was supposed to have been one of the parties concerned in the late train robbery.

STATE DISPATCHES.

YAQUINA BAY SHIPPING NOTES.

YAQUINA, June 7.—The steamer Eastern Oregon arrived at 9:40 A. M., with the following list of passengers: G. Henry, H. M. Putnam, T. F. Campbell, E. C. Davis and wife, Mrs. J. C. Meredith, Henry Carlin, A. Brady, T. Alvey, W. R. Eagan, W. Mock, C. Mock, S. Case, J. S. Hunt and F. H. Cosgrove.

The coasting schooner Mischief arrived this afternoon from Siuslaw and will have a new boiler put in.

MONTANA.

INDIAN TROUBLES FEARED.

FORT CUSTER, June 8.—A large party of Sioux Indians is on the way from Rosebud agency to visit the Crows. Agent Williamson has applied by telegraph to the department at Washington for authority to send troops to intercept them. From previous acts of these Indians it is thought their visit is anything but friendly.

NEVADA.

EARTHQUAKE AT VIRGINIA CITY.

VIRGINIA, June 8.—Quite a severe earthquake shock was felt here last night.

THE COURTS.

U. S. CIRCUIT.

IXL Packing Company vs. George W. Hume; judgment of non-suit; no counter claim.

Bogart et al. vs. Ben Holladay; petition of Hickox to be made a party argued.

United States vs. W. T. Thompson; motion for a new trial and in arrest of judgment argued and submitted.

Resignation of C. Gaddis, U. S. commissioner at Roseburg, accepted.

STATE CIRCUIT NO. 1.

I. R. Dawson vs. W. T. Atwood et al.; defendant allowed ten days to file motion for new trial.

Joseph Kelley vs. John Reed et al.; dismissed according to stipulation.

John Klosterman vs. E. A. Rankin; J. B. Thompson appointed referee to take evidence.

STATE CIRCUIT NO. 2.

H. C. Boug vs. E. Boug; decree opened and defendant to pay $125 with costs in ten days.

State vs. Edward Clayton; verdict of guilty.

Minnie Rothschild vs. Louis A. Rothschild; publication of summons.

POLICE.

It took about five minutes for the transaction of business yesterday in the police court. D. B. McCauley was sent below for ten days for drunkenness, and the case of George Clarke, charged with vagrancy, was continued until to-day. There is apparently something back of Clarke's case, or else he has not yet joined the "macque's" association. He should make amends and himself useful during elections. Then he would be one of the privileged. Clarke must be a new comer, who has not yet sufficiently posted himself.

Why has Sozodont

Become the staple Dentifrice of America? Simply because it is impossible to use it even for a week without perceiving its hygienic effect upon the teeth, the gums and the breath.

Neuralgia, Phthisic, Sick Headache, Cramp Colic cured by Seven Oaks.
SNELL, HEITSHU & WOODARD, Agents.

GENERAL NEWS.

Selections from Swinburne's Fifty-Stanza Poem.

THE GREAT CHICAGO WHEAT DEAL.

Climatic Effect on Consumption — How Blaine Dodged Editor O'Brien—Talk about an Extra Session.

SWINBURNE'S JUBILEE POEM.

A Few Stanzas of the Production that Displaced Tennyson.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—Following are a few of the fifty stanzas of the poem written by Algernon Charles Swinburne, in commemoration of the fiftieth year of the reign of Queen Victoria over the British empire. The poem is published in the Nineteenth Century for June. Advance sheets were sent to New York, and from them have been selected a few verses and telegraphed. The verses will be more carefully read than usual, as it is understood that Tennyson's poem on the queen's jubilee was omitted from the programme of exercises for June 21 in Westminster abbey, and Swinburne was asked to undertake the same task. It cannot be expected that in the form of stanzas the spirit of the poem can be preserved. Following are the selections:

Eight hundred years and twenty-one
 Have shone and sunken since the land
 Whose name is Freedom bore such band
As marks a captive, and the sun
 Beheld her fettered hand.

And now that fifty years are flown
 Since in a maiden's hand the sign
 Of empire that no seas confine
First as a star to seaward shone,
 We see their record shine.

A troubled record, foul and fair;
 A simple record, and serene,
 Inscribed for praise; a blameless queen—
Praise and blame, a page of care,
 And change and ends unseen.

As from some Alpine watchtower's portal
 Night, living yet, looks forth for dawn,
 From Time's mistier mountain lawn,
The spirit of man, in trust immortal,
 Yearns toward a hope withdrawn.

The morning comes not, yet the night
 Wanes; and men's eyes win strength to see Where twilight is, where light shall be:
When conquered wrong and conquering right
 Acclaim a world set free.

The forces of the dark dissolve,
 The doorways of the dark are broken,
 The word that casts out night is spoken;
And whence the springs of things evolve,
 Light born of night bears token.

The mother—Thee, our queen, who giveth
 Assurance to the heavens most high;
 And earth, whereon her bondsmen sigh—
That by the seas' grace, while thou livest,
 Hope shall not wholly die.

No state so proud, no pride so just,
 The sun through clouds at sunrise curled,
 Or clouds across the sunrise whirled,
Hath sight of. Nor has man such trust
 As thine in all the world.

The seas' own heart must needs wax proud
 To have borne the world a child like thee.
 What birth of earth might ever be Thy sister? Time, a wandering cloud,
 Is sunshine on thy sea.

With just and sacred jubilation,
 Let earth sound answer to the sea.
 For witness blown on winds as free,
How England, how her growing nation,
 Acclaims this jubilee.

THE CHICAGO WHEAT DEAL.

The Handling Trade Paralyzed for Want of Storage Room.

CHICAGO, June 8.—The Inter Ocean to-morrow will say: The regular Chicago elevators are now practically inaccessible to grain while the prices of wheat are up, and more shipments are coming. It is estimated that 23,000,000 bushels have been refused storage room in Chicago, and there are 22,000,000 bushels of grain in store. The average daily business in handling of receipts and shipments of grain is about 2,000,000 bushels. This leaves 4,000,000 bushels' storage room yet unoccupied; but this is all well held and unobtainable by the shorts. The result of this closing of facilities for storage has been to close up two railroads for receipt of grain, and possibly three roads more will be so blocked as to stop handling it.

The result has been to bring the matter before the directors of the board of trade, and they have appointed a committee to see if some means cannot be adopted to prevent paralysis of trade here. With a few more western roads blocked up, and notice of stoppage served on shippers, the board of trade might as well shut up. The wheat clique could send prices up to a dollar a bushel and have it all to themselves.

Prominent members of the board blame the blockade to the railroads. They propose to have declared "regular" at the next meeting of the directors all small warehouses in the city. The main remedy in view, however, is to take measures, through the state board of warehouse commissioners, to compel the railroads to provide terminal facilities for the grain they accept.

EASTERN NEWS ITEMS.

INTERNATIONAL TYPOGRAPHICAL UNION.

BUFFALO, June 8.—At this morning's session of the International Typographical Union a resolution was adopted endorsing the action of New York Union No. 6, which protested against the denunciation of the New York Sun by a clique in the Knights of Labor. There is a strong feeling in the convention in opposition to the Knights of Labor. The mere mention of the Home club is a signal for trouble. At the afternoon session D. P. Boyer, of New York, was re-elected chief organizer. Mr. Ogden presented a resolution that nine hours constitute a day's work, except on morning papers and evening papers. Wilkins, of Boston, moved that a committee be appointed on female cheap labor; adopted.

Late in the afternoon Daniels of Indiana, Ogden of Cincinnati and Keaken of St. Louis were elected delegates to the next convention of the American federation of trades. Kansas City was chosen as the place of meeting of next year's convention.

CLIMATIC EFFECT ON CONSUMPTION.

CHICAGO, June 8.—In to-day's session of the American Medical Association the report of the committee on changes in the plan of organization and by-laws was adopted. All the changes have for their object the better adjustment of the principles of the organization.

Dr. J. W. Robertson's paper on "The Climatology and Hydrology of Northern California," called forth a protracted discussion on the question of the influence of certain climates on consumptive cases.

Dr. Allen, of Missouri, thought a dry climate like California was unfavorable to the growth of bacteria, and was therefore the best in the world for consumptives.

Dr. A. N. Bell, of New York, was of the opinion that a dry climate was healthful, and that for consumptives the best place in the world was some lone island in the sea. He opposed the common idea that benefit is to be derived from coast breezes, holding that the decomposition of sea-washed matter was unhealthful.

HOME MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

SARATOGA, N. Y., June 8.—The sixty-first anniversary meeting of the American Home Missionary Society was continued. Secretary Harrows reviewed the work of the year. The society employed 1515 missionaries, an increase over last year of 1032. They have 3902 churches, with 2100 Sunday schools, having 103,000 members. They organized during the year 135 new churches, with 112 houses of worship, and brought 63 to the self-supporting condition. A new and notable feature of the work has been the employment of 35 evangelists, the result of whose labors has been so encouraging that the number will be increased. A feature of special interest this year is the great extension and success of work among French, German, Scandinavian and Slavonic immigrants.

THE PENNSYLVANIA FLOOD.

JOHNSTOWN, PA., June 8.—A flood was caused yesterday by a water spout west of Coopersville, Sumner county, in this state. That village was entirely under water, and the destruction of property is great. Many bridges and logs were carried off. Upwards of twenty houses were washed off their foundations, and at least 100 families in this borough alone lost everything in the lower story and cellars of their houses. Grubbtown, Conemaugh, Borough, Morrillville, Minersville, Cambria City and Coopersdale also suffered severely. It is estimated that in the suburbs of this city 200 people were temporarily rendered homeless. No estimate can be made of the damage at present, but it is thought it will reach $150,000 in this vicinity alone.

CORN SHIPPERS ASKING RATES.

CHICAGO, June 8.—Nebraska corn shippers are asking transcontinental lines for a 50 cent rate on grain from the Missouri river to San Francisco. There are about 100 carloads offering if any one of the overland lines will make the rate named.

INDIANS IN COUNCIL.

EU FAULA, Ind. Ter., June 8.—A large number of delegates from the wild and civilized tribes of Indians are attending the council now in session here. Hon. S. H. Burge, president of the council, made the opening address, advising all to adopt the ways of civilization and urging the wild tribes to establish schools and churches. The Osage chief, Hikay Pahahanah, urged especially the prairie Indians to accept education, as it was their only hope of salvation. Mahkosita of the Sacs and Foxes, White Wolf of the Comanches and Towoconie Jim of the Wichitas alluded to the recent land law, and said it did not suit their tribes. The subject will be thoroughly discussed to-morrow.

NATURAL GAS CELEBRATION.

FINDLAY, Ohio, June 8.—The great natural gas celebration opened this morning. The city is decorated in a most lavish manner. Fifty-eight arches span the main street bearing mottoes arranged with gas jets. Thirty thousand gas jets will be in flame to-night. The thirty-one gas wells of Findlay have been piped into the city to aid in the illumination. Crowds have been coming all day and it is estimated that by night there will be thirty thousand strangers in the city.

HOW BLAINE DODGED O'BRIEN.

NEW YORK, June 8.—The News says it was the original intention of Blaine to sail on the steamer Adriatic, state rooms having been spoken for six weeks ago for his family. Subsequently Editor O'Brien's friends purchased a ticket for the nationalist on the same boat, not knowing of Blaine's plans. After Blaine arrived here his arrangements were remodeled, and tickets were purchased on the steamer Ems, which sails on the same day.

REPORT OF THE WESTERN UNION.

NEW YORK, June 8.—At the directors' meeting of the Western Union Telegraph Company to-day the quarterly report submitted shows that the net revenues of the quarter ending June 30th (partially estimated) will be about $1,050,000. In view of this statement the committee recommend that a dividend of 1 per cent. on the capital stock be declared.

SHOT WHILE RESISTING ARREST.

LOUISVILLE, June 8.—An Evening Times special says that yesterday the town marshal of Moorehead, in Rowan county, attempted to arrest Jack and William Logan at their house. As he entered the house he was shot by them fatally. The fire was returned by two men with the marshal, which killed both of the Logan boys.

IN FAVOR OF POOL SELLERS.

NEW YORK, June 8.—The test case made yesterday to determine whether or not the law which forbids pool selling in this state except on race tracks will prevent the pool sellers from taking commissions in this city to make bets on the tracks, was decided to-day, the court holding that the practice is not contrary to law.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING.

DENVER, June 8.—Hyde special to the Republican: Mr. John Brehm and father, while driving home from Hyde last evening, were struck by lightning, killing the son and both mules outright, and stunning the old gentleman, who wandered around on the prairie until 4 o'clock this morning, when he was found by the neighbors.

THE BREACH WIDENED.

PITTSBURG, June 8.—A Connellsville, Pa., special says: The conference of Knights of Labor and amalgamated miners to-day resulted in the widening of the breach between the two organizations, and a settlement of the coke strike now seems as far off as ever.

CONVENTION OF FACTORY INSPECTORS.

PHILADELPHIA, June 8.—The national convention of factory inspectors, representing states in which laws are enforced in reference to inspection of factory buildings and equipments, is in progress in this city.

THE WALKING MATCH.

OMAHA, June 8.—The score in the six-days' walking match, which began at midnight Sunday night, was as follows at 6:30 this evening: Hart 207 miles, Breeze 200, O'Leary 185, Harriman 190, Huffman 172, Smith 164, Gregg 170.

NOTABLE DEPARTURES.

NEW YORK, June 8.—James G. Blaine, wife and daughters sailed for Southampton this morning on the steamer Ems. The steamer Adriatic, with Wm. O'Brien aboard, also sailed this morning.

NEW HAMPSHIRE SENATORIAL CONTEST.

CONCORD, N. H., June 8.—Ex-Senator Rollins has withdrawn from the senatorial canvass and will not be a candidate in the caucus. It is claimed a majority of his supporters will go to Chandler.

STEAMSHIP COMPANY FINED.

BOSTON, June 8.—The collector at this port to-day imposed a fine of $1000 upon the Cunard Steamship Company for permitting an insane woman to land from one of their vessels.

THE SHOEMAKERS.

BROCKTON, Mass., June 8.—The national executive council of shoemakers to-day dissolved its organization, in order to form a national trades assembly of the Knights of Labor.

THE PRESIDENT.

PROSPECT HOUSE, June 8.—The president trolled industriously to-day, but caught only one three-pounder. The arrangements for departure to-morrow are completed.

DEATH OF MRS. BERGH.

UTICA, N. Y., June 8.—Mrs. Bergh, wife of Henry Bergh, of New York, died in this city this morning after a long illness.

RAILROAD SOLD.

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 8.—The Pittsburg and Western road was sold this morning under order of the court for $1,000,000.

HONORS FOR SHARPE.

NEW YORK, June 8.—Jacob Sharpe was yesterday re-elected a director in the Christopher Street Railroad Company.

YELLOW FEVER AT KEY WEST.

KEY WEST, June 8.—Two new cases of yellow fever have appeared since yesterday, and one death.

THE SHARPE JURY COMPLETED.

NEW YORK, June 8.—The jury to try Jacob Sharpe was completed at noon to-day.

WASHINGTON NEWS ITEMS.

THE CLIPPER SHIP LINES APPEAL.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—All of the interstate commerce commissioners except Chairman Cooley were present at to-day's session. E. N. Taft, counsel for Sutton & Co. of New York, representing the clipper ship lines, read a statement in opposition to the application of the transcontinental railroad lines to be released from the operation of section 4. In referring to what he understood to be the agreement between the transcontinental lines and the Pacific Mail Steamship Company to endeavor to secure the suspension of the fourth section, Taft said: "George Gould is a prominent candidate for the presidency of one of these lines, so that the relations between the companies promise to resemble the marriage of royal families." As illustrating the nature of the competition which the clipper lines are compelled to meet, Taft produced the tariff sheet of the Southern Pacific railroad offering to take freights for California from several hundred interior Eastern cities and towns at the through rate charged from New York to California. He said that this virtually amounted to a rebate to these points. If the clipper lines took freight from Newburg for California, they would require the shipper to pay charges from the interior town to New York city.

TALK ABOUT AN EXTRA SESSION.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—It is expected that Speaker Carlisle will arrive here about a week after the president returns, and that then a conference will be held between the president, Speaker Carlisle and Secretary Fairchild as to the advisability of holding an extra session of congress, and also the form of tariff bill to be considered.

The argument against an early session of congress to deal with the surplus question is that if the two wings of the democratic party can agree upon a reduction of revenue at all they can do it in a very short time. If they can not, a long session would only amount to a prolonged series of hostilities. Incidental protectionists do not want an extra session.

It is not thought that Secretary Fairchild will occupy such an aggressive position on the subject as Mr. Manning did in his last report. There is general anxiety to settle all differences and agree upon a plan of action, but the trouble is that both wings want to settle it according to their own plan, and this furnishes another reason why some are vigorously opposing the plan of an extra session.

PRECAUTIONS AGAINST CONTAGIOUS DISEASES.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Secretary Fairchild issued to-day a circular in regard to contagious diseases, in which he says: "In order to assist local authorities in the maintenance of quarantine against the introduction of infectious disease, the president has determined to establish, by means of vessels of the revenue marine, additional patrol of the coast of the United States so far as it may be practicable under the existing law and consistent with the performance of other duties confided to that service." The circular contains specific instructions to commanding officers of revenue cutters to cruise actively upon the outer lines of their cruising grounds and to exercise special vigilance in speaking vessels arriving from foreign ports or from infected parts of the United States.

A COLORED MAN DISCHARGED.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—An order has been issued by the war department, directing the dismissal, "without character," of W. H. Greso, the only colored man ever admitted to the signal service. His appointment, about two years ago, and assignment to duty at Pensacola caused a stir. The sergeant in charge refused to receive him, and was reduced to the ranks, Green being put in charge. He did not give satisfaction, however, and was sent to Rochester, N. Y. It is stated that his record while there has been very unsatisfactory, and that had he been a white man his career in the signal service would have been summarily cut short long ago; but a desire to give him every possible show to improve led to his retention until information reached the signal service authorities of such a character as to necessitate his immediate removal.

A SUGGESTION TO SHEEP MEN.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—L. L. Baker, U. S. consul at Buenos Ayres, in his monthly report to the department of state, treats of the great value of the native sheep of the Argentine Republic, and the practicability of introducing them into this country. Consul Baker thinks that all the varieties could be domiciled with advantage in different portions of Texas, New Mexico and Arizona, and thus even the most unpromising portions of these territories might, in time, attain to development through the valuable wools which these animals afford, while in other parts of the country, wherever ordinary sheep can be produced, the introduction of these valuable wool-producing animals would give us a new national source of wealth.

COST OF THE TELEPHONE SUITS.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—People here are estimating on what the probable cost to the government the Pan-Electric suits will amount to. Those in a position to know say the cost will be at least $120,000. Thus far fees and expenses paid out are about $50,000. Six attorneys were engaged on the part of the government, and have received an average of $7000 each. Judge Lowery, of New York, has thus far valued his time at $15 an hour for every one of the twenty-four of each day since his employment began. Mr. Goode has received as much for his counsel and advice in this case as he did for a year's salary as solicitor-general, which position he formerly held.

THE NINETEEN KNOT CRUISERS.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Although the plans for the hulls of the nineteen knot cruisers authorized to be built by the last congress have been open to the inspection of bidders since the 1st of June, but one application has been received for information as to the details of the proposed new vessels. This was the Union Iron Works of San Francisco, where a cruiser is now building. Chief Engineer Melville arrived to-day from Philadelphia, and reports fast progress in the work of designing the engines and boilers for the nineteen knot vessels.

HELD FOR CANCELLATION.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—The acting secretary of the interior affirms the decision of the general land office on appeal by defendant in the case of David Hogan against Godfrey Tooltaker, holding that for cancellation his homestead entry No. 4599, of the northwest quarter of section 34, township 7 north, range 9 west, made in February, 1882, at the Oregon City land office in Oregon.

NEW PATENTS.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Patents have been granted as follows: Oregon: Ferdinand Gudolph, Portland, fish line reel. Washington territory: John B. Higdon, Vancouver, wood boring machine; William F. Wamsley, Walla Walla, electrical contact device for hose coupler; William F. Wamsley and I. McIntosh, Walla Walla, electric contact device for hose coupler.

POSTAL NOTES.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—H. F. Honnicutt has been appointed postmaster at Fall Creek Or. J. T. Shelton has been appointed postmaster at Centralia, W. T. A new postoffice has been established at Oak Creek, Douglas county, Or., with James A. Cox as postmaster.

NAVAL PROMOTIONS.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Commodore Bancroft Gherardi and Capt. George Brown to-day passed examinations to be rear admiral and commodore respectively in the navy. The promotions, however, do not go into effect immediately.

WILL BE BACK SATURDAY.

WASHINGTON, June 8.—Information has been received at the White House that the president and party expect to arrive Saturday.

RAILROAD NOTES.

OAKES DEFIES THE STATE COMMISSION.

ST. PAUL, June 8.—Thomas F. Oakes, general manager of the Northern Pacific railroad, created some excitement yesterday in railroad circles by addressing a communication to the board of railroad commissioners of the state, claiming that they had no jurisdiction over his lines, and that they could not dictate what rate he should make. The ground he takes is that the road was incorporated by act of congress and is subject only to federal dictation.

CASCADE BRANCH NOTES.

The following items of interest about the Cascade branch are taken from the Kittitas Localizer:

There are twenty-eight truss bridges, with an aggregate length of 3482 feet.

Elevation of Stampede tunnel is 2837 feet, while summit cut upon the switchback is 3570 feet above the level of the sea.

Length of line from Tacoma to Pasco is 252 miles, measuring through Stampede tunnel. Length of switchback, 7 miles.

About five miles of snowsheds will be required to protect the mountain sections from blockades during heavy snowstorms.

Stampede tunnel, total length 9850 feet. Seven other tunnels, two east and five west of Stampede tunnel, aggregate 3226 feet, making a total length of tunneling upon the branch 13,076 feet.

A temporary bridge is now in course of erection across the Columbia river at Kennewick, which will be completed by September, in time to move this year's crop of grain across it. A permanent bridge will be erected upon the temporary structure and be completed by December 1.

Maximum grade on the main line, except mountain sections, is forty-two feet per mile. On the mountain sections (of which there is only fourteen miles) the heaviest grade is 116 feet per mile. In all cases the heavy grade is very small compared to the total length of the section mentioned. The steepest grade on the switchback is 275 feet on the west and 296 feet on the east side.

Peters's Wife—And Some Other Wives.

Detroit Free Press.

"My dear," said Mrs. Peters to her husband the other day, "what does all this stuff in the papers about 'home rule' mean?"

"It means," said Peters with the air of a sage, "that the Irish want to govern Ireland themselves."

"They are tired of the tyranny of the czar, are they?"

"The czar? What are you talking about?"

"Oh, I mean the emperor."

"Worse and more of it. Do you mean to tell me that you don't know that Ireland is under the rule of England?"

"Oh, so it is. Isn't Queen Victoria good to them? I'm sure she looks real nice in her pictures. She can't be very horrid."

"She's horrid enough to the Irish. Now you listen and I'll explain the 'home rule' business to you. I want my wife to be informed on so important a subject. You know all about Gladstone, don't you?"

"Oh, yes; he's Queen Victoria's son or something else, isn't he?"

"What are you talking about? Have I married a raving lunatic?"

"There, now; you go to getting cross about nothing. I wouldn't talk to my wife like that for all the Irish on earth. Gladstone is the king or president or czar or whatever the ruler of Ireland is, isn't he? But it doesn't sound like an Irish name."

"He's no more Irish than I'm Chinese. Now you pay attention and I'll tell you all about it. For years the people of Ireland have long been dissatisfied—"

"With Gladstone?"

"No, no—"

"With Victoria then? Well, I—"

"Not with her alone. They have been shamefully oppressed and their rights and liberties restricted through coercion and—"

"Coercion means the same as prohibition does here, doesn't it?"

"Have you any sense at all? I'd like to see the English rulers try the prohibition game on the Irish in Ireland. They'd ride Queen Victoria on a rail and lynch parliament in a body. The home rule muddle wouldn't be anything. Coercion is a species of tyranny that deprives the Irish of almost all individual liberty. You have heard of Parnell?"

"He's the man who has just been around the world on a bicycle, isn't he?"

"Great Cæsar! I've a notion to go right down town and apply for a divorce. Any jury in the land would give it to me in two minutes and a half! Here! where's my hat and coat? I'm going off and hang myself for marrying such a—"

"James! you're just as mean as you can be! I'm sure I've understood every word you've said, and I won't stand your abuse. I—"

But Peters had fled.

FITS.—All Fits stopped free by Dr. Kline's Great Nerve Restorer. No Fits after first day's use. Marvelous cures. Treatise and $2 trial bottle free to Fit cases. Send to Dr. Kline, 931 Arch st. Philadelphia, Pa.

A Sad Outlook for the Disgruntled.

Cleveland Plain Dealer (Dem.).

As nobody seems exactly to suit Mr. Curtis on either the republican or democratic side, and as the probabilities of the two parties uniting on Mr. Curtis himself are not strong, we fear that in 1888 Mr. Curtis will have to hie him to the woods and wait till the row is over, when he can come back and be once more dissatisfied with the result. For that is the blessed privilege of the mugwump.

To break up colds and fevers, use early Dr. Pierce's Extract of Smart-Weed.

HETTY GREEN'S GREAT FIGHT.

The Richest Woman in America Contests with Multi-Millionaire Huntington.

New York Letter, May 28.

Mrs. Hetty Green, the richest woman in America, whose great wealth and financial ability have made her a power in Wall street and whose personal eccentricities have been made the theme of many a newspaper article, has caused a new sensation by refusing to become a party to the agreement entered into between the bondholders of the Houston & Texas Central Railway. This road is a part of Huntington's Southern Pacific system, and Mrs. Green by her action has actually pitted her wealth and her cunning against the wealth and cunning of C. P. Huntington and his associates. Wall street men, usually very gallant where women are concerned, have no very great liking for Mrs. Green and her close business methods, but, on the other hand, they are not particularly in love with Mr. Huntington, whose genius for driving a bargain is a matter of common fame; so they will watch this contest with impartiality, but with intense and lively interest.

Mrs. Green evidently means business, and will bring suit to maintain what she considers to be her rights in the reorganization of the Houston & Texas Central. She has already placed the matter in the hands of her attorneys, Sullivan & Cromwell, of which firm Algernon S. Sullivan is the head. The members of the firm declined yesterday to make known what they intended to do in behalf of Mrs. Green, stating that it would be improper for them to make public the business of a client.

From other sources, however, a reporter obtained the story of this remarkable complication. C. P. Huntington and his associates own the stock of the Houston & Texas Central, which they picked up at a very low price, said to be near 10. The bonds of the road are widely held, Mrs. Green owning about $1,000,000 of the general mortgage bonds, besides a large amount of the first and second mortgage bonds. The road does not run through a very productive section, but owns an enormous grant of public land, and its future is believed to be bright. It defaulted on the interest two or three years ago, and some time after the bondholders held an indignation meeting in the office of A. Foster Higgins, and some things were said about Mr. Higgins which were not very pleasant. It was even intimated that Huntington was engaged in a scheme to wreck the property in order to get it more securely in his grasp. Finally, however, the bondholders appointed a committee composed of Henry Budge of Hallgarten & Co., Wm. Mertens of Von Hoffman & Co., Thomas L. Monson, Jr., of Charles Head & Co., Frederick Taylor, H. K. Pomeroy, Charles Robinson Smith and William J. Quinlan, Jr. Mr. Quinlan is cashier of the Chemical National bank, in which Mrs. Green has her account, and he was put on the committee as her personal representative. The committee arrived at an understanding with Mr. Huntington, and a plan of reorganization was drawn up under which it is proposed to issue new first-mortgage bonds bearing 5 per cent. interest and to run fifty years in exchange for the present five-year first-mortgage bonds; new second-mortgage bonds bearing 6 per cent. interest in exchange for the present 8 per cent. second-mortgage bonds; and new general-mortgage bonds to bear 4 per cent. interest in exchange for those which now bear 6 per cent. interest. The first-mortgage bondholders are to get their past-due coupons in cash and the others in debenture bonds. Yesterday was the last day in which bondholders could come in under this plan. There are $4,326,000 general-mortgage bonds, of which $880,000 are in dispute, being tied up as collateral in the hands of the Morgan's line of steamships. Of the remaining $3,446,000 there had assented to the plan at the close of business yesterday $2,127,000—a large majority of the bonds.

The bondholders' committee have all along counted on the support of Mrs. Green. With that object in view Mr. Quinlan was put on the committee and repeated conferences have been held with the lady at the Chemical bank. Mrs. Green attends to all her business personally, though her husband, who was once president of the Louisville & Nashville, is living and is a shrewd business man. It is stated positively that Mrs. Green promised to place her bonds with the committee, in assent to the reorganization plan, as soon as holders of $1,200,000 of them had done so. All was serene and peaceful until Monday, when the committee discovered that Mrs. Green had changed her mind. Members of the committee, however, use a stronger term than "changed her mind." They say she "deliberately broke her promise," and while disinclined to make a public attack upon a woman did not disguise their disgust at her conduct. Her action, it was declared, was indefensible, and Mrs. Green's action two years ago in withdrawing her half-million-dollar deposit with John J. Cisco, which many believe was the immediate cause of the failure of that old established house, was recalled.

Mrs. Green, it is understood, believes that by holding out, now that all the other bondholders have assented, she can force Mr. Huntington to make a private settlement with her on better terms than the other bondholders will get. She thinks she sees that Mr. Huntington is making a good thing out of the reorganization plan. The stock, which he bought at or near 10, has sold as high as 40, and the advance has been largely since the reorganization plan was put forth. Since Mrs. Green's refusal has become known the stock has declined, and yesterday only 30 was offered for it.

Mrs. Green is the daughter of a New Bedford whaler, who left her a comfortable fortune fourteen years ago, which she has increased by her own exertions, till now she is believed to be the richest woman in America. Her last great feat in the financial world was when she suddenly sold out all her interest in the Georgia Central road during a hot fight for the control of the company. She had for years supported the administration party, but deserted them, sold all her holdings, and left her old friends to defeat.

MR. DOLLINGER HAS FUN WITH A DOG.

Dakota Bell.

Mr. Dollinger, who lives on Twelfth street, is one of the kindest-hearted men in Sioux Falls. Nothing touches him so quickly as the sufferings of a poor dumb beast.

A few days ago a couple of men who were traveling overland in a "prairie schooner," anchored their craft on some vacant lots back of Mr. Dollinger's barn. They had come from Missouri and were going up into the Mouse river country and stopped in the city for rest and relaxation. They picketed out their mules, and every day went down town where rest and relaxation retails at 15 cents a glass, or two for a quarter.

Every time they went away they left a large, lean, meek and sorrowful-looking dog chained under the wagon. He was not one of those savage-appearing dogs, with his forelegs far apart and nose in the air, but seemed mild and gentle and accustomed to better things. He had a tender gray eye, a weak and undecided lower jaw and a narrow chest that gave him the appearance of having the consumption. He had a procession of ribs on either side like a picket fence; he never barked or growled, and sometimes he would cough with a hollow, consumptive sound and hold a forepaw up in front of his mouth in a way which convinced Mr. Dollinger that he had been used to good society.

"I believe those fellows stole that dog somewhere," said Mr. Dollinger to Mrs. Dollinger. "He is some good old family dog that they have enticed away from home and are dragging around the country with them."

"That's just what I think," she replied. "I noticed the poor thing to-day under the wagon all alone. What a slender nose and high forehead it has."

"Yes, and such a kind eye. There is a great difference in dogs, but it all shows in their eyes. Anybody could see that this dog wouldn't harm a child, just by his eye. I have thrown him some feed several times lately."

"But don't you think the poor thing ought to be untied so it can run around and get some exercise and play with the other dogs a little?"

"I never thought of that—I believe I'll go right out and let it loose and see it express its gratitude by playing around me."

So Mr. Dollinger went out to the wagon. The dog wagged its tail feebly and the lid of his left eye kept drooping down as if he had lost control over it.

"Poor doggie!" said Mr. Dollinger, as he reached down and unsnapped the chain from his collar, "poor doggie, I'll let you loose."

The dog turned part way round when he found he was at liberty, but did not seem inclined to leave the wagon.

"Poor thing, you've been tied so long that you don't know how to play," said Mr. Dollinger. Then he noticed that the end of the chain was on the ground, and picked it up with the intention of hanging it on a spoke of the wheel so it wouldn't get rusty. When he first started to raise up again he thought a Florida alligator had crawled up without being seen and taken hold of the calf of his leg. He was confident that he could hear the bones cracking. Then he thought of the dog. He managed to look around with one eye and saw that it was the dog.

"The poor thing is trying to play with you," called Mrs. Dollinger from the back fence.

"Don't I know it?" replied Mr. Dollinger as he felt the blood begin to run into his shoe. He worked himself slowly around, and the dog's forelegs remained planted firmly but his head swung with Mr. Dollinger's leg and his body raised up a little and swung around in an opposite direction with little jerks.

"Nice doggie! Nice doggie!" and he reached down his hand. "That's a nice doggie—let go and we'll run and have some fun."

This idea seemed to please the dog, and he let go and they ran. Mr. Dollinger started for the fence, but the dog headed him off with two bounds and chased him back past the wagon, all the time barking with a voice which sounded as if it came out of a cave that ran back under the ground to the Nebraska state line.

"Great thunder!" [illegible] Mr. Dollinger, [illegible] dodged as the dog leaped [illegible] him by the throat.

"Don't go near the wagon—he thinks you're trying to steal something!" screamed Mrs. Dollinger, as she climbed [illegible] the fence.

Mr. Dollinger [illegible] headed him off again [illegible] around in a circle and the dog leaped at him from all sides at once.

He bit him in twenty different places. [illegible] of the time he was [illegible] the back of his neck [illegible] further by [illegible] get over at his throat.

And every time Mr. Dollinger [illegible] of the mules it kicked [illegible] kept braying, and that [illegible] stant stopped that [illegible] his.

Once he fell down, and the [illegible] him, and then came back [illegible] and started the other way.

And Mrs. Dollinger stood on the fence and screamed for help. The [illegible] around their back door [illegible] on a load of hay, with [illegible] yelled: "Fight him! [illegible] turn around and fight him!"

"Look him in the eye! [illegible] the eye!" yelled a man [illegible] Dollinger in a lawsuit [illegible].

And all the time the dog was fighting [illegible] Mr. Dollinger, biting pieces out of his pants and trying to bark louder than the mules were braying or Mrs. Dollinger was screaming.

Then the dog got hold of his coat-tail and Mr. Dollinger started across the lots for his house again with the dog streaming out behind three feet from the ground and barking out of both corners of his mouth. Just as he passed the wagon two tall, raw-boned Missourians came up on the trot.

"I'll be doggoned, Bill, ef the durned man hain't been tryin' ter steal somethin'. Sic him, Tige!"

"You bet he has! [illegible] the cussed hoss-thief [illegible] per him!" and he jerked a double-barreled gun out of the front end of the wagon. "There, take that! and that! you ornery [illegible]" and he blazed away first with one barrel and then with the other, but not till Mr. and Mrs. Dollinger had disappeared around the corner of the barn.

"When I go out to play with another blamed cur to make it home-like [illegible] it—where are them other [illegible]" said Mr. Dollinger when he got into the house.

THE EDITOR IN COURT.

Tid-Bits.

"I've been sorry more than once," said Haroun Alraschid, as he sank heavily into his new cane-seated throne, "that I let the editor of the Gazette off so easily. I threw the veil of charity over his nefarious [illegible] and let him depart in peace, and he [illegible] about the circulation of his paper ever since."

"And in his biography of you," chuckled Giafar, "he makes you out to be [illegible] years of age."

"This levity is ill-timed, Giafar," said the caliph sternly. "I can afford to pass over the assertion in contemptuous silence, as it is well known that I only recently attained my majority; but when he states that I used to write for a comic paper I feel that I owe it to myself to make an earnest protest. But this is not what agitates me this morning. Giafar, have you seen to-day's Gazette?"

"No, your nibs."

"Well, on the first page is a long interview with an actress, which I read with a good deal of interest until I got to the last paragraph and found that it was only an advertisement of a toilet soap. Then I turned to the next page and read an account of a terrible cyclone in Missouri, only to discover finally that it was a puff of a patent medicine. Then I perused a chapter of an intensely interesting love story and found that the remainder of it was to be published in serial form in the Weekly Romancer. Now this sort of thing is played, Giafar. I have sent for the editor. Ere this he should be here."

As the caliph spoke the door opened and the editor entered and approached the throne with a cheerful smile.

"How's everything, Haroun, old man?" was his greeting.

"I'm not in a mood for lightsome badinage," thundered the monarch. "I have sent for you that I may pronounce sentence [illegible]. Look upon this—and this—and this!" and he tossed a copy of the Gazette into the editor's face.

"Ha, ha, ha!" laughed that individual, as he glanced at the articles indicated. [illegible] did you, you illustrious nibs? [illegible]"

"You ought to know by this time," was the caliph's stern response, "that I abominate deceit in every form. I have determined to put a stop to this sort of thing—[illegible] you want to say a prayer or two before I summon the executioner?"

"Dunno's I do," said the editor. "Too bad, too bad!" he continued musingly. "I don't mind so much as far as I am concerned, but I am sorry on your account."

"What do you mean?" inquired Haroun-al-raschid.

"Why, you see," explained the editor, "I have a good deal of influence with these advertisers, and I've been fixing things so as to let you in. But that's all over now."

"I don't understand you," said the caliph, with evident curiosity.

"Well," said the editor, "you see the proprietors of the Pearl of Bagdad face powder are prepared to pay you 500 sequins if you'll sign a little note stating that you have used their preparation and found it far superior to all others. Then the manufacturer of Dr. Gibleff's cough balsam has commissioned me to offer you 300 sequins for a seventy-five word testimonial to the excellence of his medicine. I have two other chances for you, too—but that's all over. Summon your headsman, and let's have an end of it."

The caliph exchanged a few whispered words with Giafar. Then, addressing the editor, he said:

"My vizier counsels mercy, so I guess I'll let you off this time. These offers are all open, you say?"

"Oh, yes, your nibs."

"Well, I guess I'll accept them. You fix the business for me, will you?"

"Cert."

"And remember I must have certified checks."

"That's all right, your nibs. [illegible] get back to the office. So long."

"By by."

"Well," mused Giafar, "if I had that man's abilities I wouldn't be running [illegible] paper and inserting want advertisements free. He ought to be an alderman or [illegible] had."

Local Peculiarities of Speech.

St. Louis Republican.

In this country we seem [illegible] adding another to the [illegible] whether to the advantage or [illegible] of ourselves and our posterity time will tell. The effect of climate on the organs of speech has had a certain [illegible] tional distemper" of [illegible] with our unquestionable tendency to pronounce our words with a nasal twang, which is familiar to the [illegible] world. The [illegible] fluence of race [illegible] is equally remarkable. The African [illegible] ple, avoids the [illegible] his Southern masters [illegible] tongues. "Of course," [illegible] ern court some time ago [illegible] hold, etc.," and the gentleman [illegible] when his native state [illegible] without difficulty [illegible] comes the dropping of [illegible] quent change to [illegible] known in heaven [illegible] Western man [illegible] word sir, which [illegible] so often, betrays the [illegible] over. It is not the [illegible] sah of the negro and [illegible] sare of the Frenchman [illegible] ce cut short off, like [illegible] a peculiar sound made by the [illegible] against the top of the [illegible] This sound of [illegible] easily fail to recognize [illegible] shall detect it [illegible] children are coming to [illegible] adda for cream. At the [illegible] are apt to drop an r, as [illegible] but in the middle of words and syllables [illegible] of us surpass the English [illegible] r's. Listen to the first [illegible] whom you may hear saying [illegible] you will be only too likely [illegible] change.

BUSINESS ITEMS.

"U. E. Griggs, D. D., [illegible] cor. Third and Morrison.

Woven Wire [illegible] Fifth street. [illegible]

THE VIENNA.

Washington street [illegible]

Marx & Jorgensen.

Wine and [illegible] Milwaukee and [illegible]

For Bronchial, Asthmatic and [illegible] Complaints, [illegible] remarkable [illegible]

Another Large Shipment

Domestic Sewing Machines received [illegible] rison's, 117 Third. [illegible]

EGO ET DEUS MEUS.

An Article from Henry George's Paper, "T Standard."

they ran Mr Dolling[illegible]
but the dog headed him [illegible] and chased him [illegible] came barking with [illegible] came out of a cave [illegible] und to the Nebraska state [illegible] at thunder" yelled Mr Dollinger, and as the dog leaped up and [illegible]
the throat.
't go near the wagon—he thinks you're to steal something" [illegible]
er, as she climbed up on the fence [illegible] Dollinger wasn't going near [illegible] him off again. Then Mr Dollinger [illegible] in a circle and the dog leaped [illegible]
l sides at once.
him in twenty different places [illegible]
t me he was up on his [illegible] of his neck and trying [illegible]
by scratching with all his [illegible]
r at his throat
every time Mr Dollinger went near [illegible] mules it kicked at him [illegible] raying, and that dog [illegible] topped that hollow, con[illegible]

he fell down, and the dog [illegible] nd then came back at him [illegible]
rted the other way
Mrs Dollinger stood on the fence and ed for help. The neig[illegible] heir back doors and [illegible]
ad of hay, with a pitchfork in each hand,
"Fight him. Why in blazes don't you round and fight him?"
k him in the eye!" Look him [illegible]
e" yelled a man who had beaten Mr.
ger in a lawsuit the day before all the time the dog was [illegible] ollinger, biting pieces out of his person ng to bark louder than the [illegible]
g or Mrs Dollinger was screaming the dog got hold of his coat-tail and Mr.
ger started across the lot for [illegible] with the dog streaming out behind [illegible] om the ground and barking out of the s of his mouth. Just as he passed the two tall, raw-boned Missourians came the trot.
be doggoned, Bill, of the durned [illegible]
been tryin' ter steal something. [illegible]

I bet he has. Count the things and see if sed hoss-thief got anything, while I pep-m" and he jerked a double-barreled shot-t of the front end of the wagon. "There, at' and that' you ornery pup" and he away first with one barrel and then with er, but not till Mr and Mrs Dollinger appeared around the corner of the barn.
en I go out to play with another blamed make it home-like for him, you'll know ere are them other clothes of mine?" said llinger when he got into the house

THE EDITOR IN COURT.

Tid Bits.

been sorry more than once," said n Alraschid, as he sank heavily into his ne-seated throne, "that I let the editor of ette off so easily. I threw the veil of over his nefarious practices and let him in peace, and he has kept on swearing he circulation of his paper ever since d in his biography of you," chuckled
"he makes you out to be 62 years of s levity is ill-timed, Giafar," said the sternly. "I can afford to pass over that n in contemptuous silence, as it is well that I only recently attained my major-when he states that I used to write for a paper I feel that I owe it to myself to an earnest protest. But this is not what s me this morning. Giafar, have you o-day's Gazette?"

your nibs."
ll, on the first page is a long interview
n actress, which I read with a good deal rest until I got to the last paragraph and that it was only an advertisement of a soap. Then I turned to the next page nd an account of a terrible cyclone in Ranly to discover finally that it was a paid f a patent medicine. Then I perused a r of an intensely interesting love story und that the remainder of it was to be hed in serial form in the Weekly Ro-
. Now this sort of thing is played,
I have sent for the editor. Even now uld be here."
he caliph spoke the door opened and the entered and approached the throne with r ul smile.
w's everything, Haroun, old man?" was eting.
not in a mood for lightsome badinage," red the monarch. "I have sent for you ay pronounce sentence upon you. Look his—and this—and this" and he thrust a f the Gazette into the editor's face.
ha, ha" laughed that individual, as he d at the articles indicated, "got fooled,
, you illustrious nibs? Big scheme, eh?"
n ought to know by this time," was the s stern response, "that I abominate de-every form. I have determined to put a this sort of thing—and also to you. Do nt to say a prayer or two before I sume executioner?"
nno's I do," said the editor. "Too bad, d" he continued musingly. "I don't o much as far as I am concerned, but I ry on your account."
at do you mean?" inquired Haroun Aly, you see," explained the editor, "I good deal of influence with these adverand I've been fixing things so as to let

But that's all over now."
on't understand you," said the caliph, with curiosity.
ll," said the editor, "you see the proprthe Pearl of Bagdad face powder are ed to pay you 500 sequins if you'll give a ote stating that you have used their prepand found it far superior to all others.
he manufacturer of Dr Giblet's cough has commissioned me to offer you 500 s for a seventy-five word testimonial to cellence of his medicine. I have three hances for you, too—but that's all over.
on your headsman, and let's have an end

caliph exchanged a few whispered words Giafar. Then, addressing the editor, he vizier counsels mercy, so I guess I'll let this time. These offers are all open, you es, your nibs."

ll, I guess I'll accept them. You fix the s for me, will you?"

I remember I must have certified checks."
s all right, your nibs. And now I must to the office. So long."
ty."
ll," mused Giafar, "if I had that man's
I wouldn't be running a third rate daily nd inserting want advertisements free, ht to be an alderman or a bank clerk, be

Local Peculiarities of Speech.

Iowa Republican

is country we seem to be on the verge of nother to the curiosities of philology, to the advantage or to the disadvantage selves and our posterity time will tell.
ect of climate on the organs of speech a certain influence, so that our "nastammer" of catarrh may be charged ur unquestionable tendency to [illegible] ur words with a nasal twang [illegible] ar to the ears of the world [illegible] of race peculiarities in [illegible]
y remarkable. The African [illegible] is the letter, and the children [illegible] thern masters drop it [illegible]
Of ouo," said a lawyer in [illegible]
some time ago, "if [illegible]
, and the gentleman [illegible]
s native state of Tennessee [illegible] difficulty by a bystander [illegible]
he dropping of the r sound, and [illegible] change to another sound [illegible]
n heaven or earth, which [illegible]
e man wherever he is found. Th[illegible]
, which Dickens laughed at [illegible]
, betrays the Westerner. [illegible]
it's not the sin of the Irishman, nor the he negro and the Southerner, nor with the the Frenchman it is [illegible] or followed by hort off, like ay in ay [illegible] of the tongue iar sound made by the tip of the tongue
the top of the gums of the upper jaw und of [illegible] so familiar [illegible] may ail to recognize its peculiarity, but we tect it readily enough if we observe how n are coming to say [illegible]
At the end of words we all to drop an r, as our English cousins do he middle of words and syllables [illegible] rpass the English by turning our r's into isten to the first half-educated person ou may hear saying first or [illegible] be only too likely to observe [illegible]

BUSINESS ITEMS.

[illegible] M D Homeopathist [illegible]
n and Morrison.

k Wire spring beds. George M [illegible] reet. Trade supplied.

THE VIENNA,
on street, leads all for Lunches and Oysters

Marx & Jorgensen, [illegible] nd Liquor Dea[lers] [illegible]
ee and H[illegible]

Bronchial, Asthmatic and Pulmonary ints, [illegible]
o e cured [illegible]

Another Large [illegible]
e Sewing Machines [illegible] May 18, at their 17 Third. The Domes [illegible] demand.

EGO ET DEUS MEUS.

An Article from Henry George's Paper, "The Standard"

His Criticism on the Attitude of the Authorities of the Catholic Church toward Dr. McGlynn and the Land Movement.

Under the above heading, "Ego et Deus Meus"—I and My God—Henry George, in his paper, attacks the authorities of the Catholic church for the course they have pursued in relation to Dr McGlynn, and makes such attack a part of his system of assault upon the forces that oppose his land theory and correlate doctrines. The weapons with which he attacks the church, it will be seen, are drawn from the armory of primitive Christianity. They are, in fact, nothing less than the teachings of Jesus himself. To every observer and thinker it is manifest that if this method of attack becomes general it will produce great changes in the general order of things, including Christianity in its existing order of things. For the existing order, which we may call civilization itself, in order to find protection against itself, will be obliged to repudiate the teachings of Christianity by which it is so powerfully menaced. Those teachings, both in spirit and in fact are utterly antagonistic to the existing order, as Henry George conceives it. It has, indeed, always been noted by observers and thinkers that progress in civilization was possible only by virtually ignoring these, or, at least, while teaching them as a creed, by refusing to follow them in fact. To take no thought for the morrow, to refuse to heap up wealth, to share all you have with others, to disregard the things of this world that you may lay up treasures in heaven, are principles which cannot be literally interpreted and carried out without speedy and profound lapse into barbarism, and if the people for whom Henry George speaks should become numerous enough to attempt enforcement of these principles, then modern civilization would be compelled to defend itself against them, and to do so would be obliged to pronounce them ethically and economically false, which they are. Adapting itself to the needs of modern times, Christianity has been getting on by virtually ignoring these principles, or at least by giving them only a theoretical interpretation. Now comes the reformer, in the interest of the masses, as he tells us, seeking their literal enforcement, and citing them as proof of the detriment and oppressions of modern civilizations. The subject is a large one and THE OREGONIAN may give attention to it at another time, at present merely makes this brief statement as an introduction to Henry George's article, which here follows.

The letter of Leo, P. P. XIII, to his venerable brother, Michael Augustine Corrigan, archbishop of New York, is, so far as any binding force upon the consciences of Catholics is concerned, of no more weight than a private communication from Mr. Pecci at Rome to Mr. Corrigan of this city. But it is, nevertheless, of the first importance as showing the attitude which the supreme ecclesiastical authority of the Catholic church has deliberately chosen to take on the most important question of our time, and the nature of the claims which it makes upon the obedience of citizens of the American republic.

The form and manner of this letter are notable. The way in which the Catholics of New York are referred to as "your subjects," and the way in which the pope, styling himself We and Us, with a capital W and a capital U, not only assumes the inflated style of royalty, but appropriates to himself the typographical homage accorded by usage to the Almighty, are extremely suggestive.

But the way in which the papers have printed the letter of consolation from the anguished pope to the poor, persecuted archbishop, grieved by the rebellion of his subjects, hardly does justice to this feature of it. Here is the way in which the concluding sentence would appear if printed as it was written in the copies furnished the press from the archiepiscopal palace:

> Meantime WE earnestly pray the God of consolation that He will console you, Venerable Brother, in your many cares, and as a pledge of His divine favor and a proof of OUR special affection for you WE lovingly bestow upon you the clergy and people committed to your care the Apostolic benediction.

The Catholic creed teaches that he who appeared among Jewish peasants some eighteen hundred years ago and spoke as never man spoke, was, under the guise of a simple carpenter, very God of very God—was, indeed, an incarnation of that power which made, supports and orders all things that be. He had but to will it and mighty armies would have started from the dust or winged legions flashed from the skies, and all the kings of the world crawled prone at his feet. He had but to will it and palaces grander and fairer than mortal eye has ever seen would have risen from the ground, and all earth's treasures been gathered for his service. Yet he chose to live a workingman among workingmen, a poor man among the poor, and scorning the pride of wealth, and the pomp of power, to cast in his lot with the disinherited children of God, who, though the foxes have holes and the birds of the air have nests, have not a place on the earth's broad surface where they can lay their heads without paying some landlord rent. Associating with the robbed, the despised, the outcast, he wore the simple raiment of the common people, ate their simple fare and partook of their joys and sorrows. He called Peter, Peter, John, John, and Mary, Mary, and in return was greeted and treated by them with the affectionate familiarity of favorite scholars toward a loved teacher. Though at his touch the blind saw, the sick became well, devils departed, and the dead came forth, he never suffered his disciples to address him with any of those man-worshipping titles which both indicate and beget servility of soul. Though he fed the multitude he never permitted men to abase themselves before him. Though he walked upon the waters, the only time we hear of him riding was upon the back of the homely ass. For the Pharisees and Scribes—for those who sat in high places, and clothed themselves in rich raiment, and had men call them holy and eminent—he had nothing but words of bitterest scorn. The whole burden of his teaching was of human equality,—of the common brotherhood of men, the common fatherhood of their creator. And for the coming of the kingdom of God on earth—the kingdom of justice and peace and plenty, the kingdom of liberty, equality and fraternity, he taught men to work and to pray. It was for these "vicious seeds of doctrines scattered under pretext of helping the masses" that he was crucified between two thieves.

When Christ declared that it was easier for a camel to pass through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God, when he declared that they who would lead should serve, what did he mean? Did he not mean that it is not good for men to be exalted above their fellows? Did he not mean what all history and all observation teaches to be true—that the pride and ostentation of wealth and power deaden the spiritual nature and dull the sympathy of men with their fellows?

The Catholic Church consists of two things—a soul and a machine. The soul is the spirit of Christ's teachings, the machine is the machine of the Scribes and Pharisees and high priests. The one is typified by the long line of martyrs and confessors, by the Vincent de Pauls and the [illegible] who have made the church dear to the poor and oppressed. The other is represented by forty thousand dollar archbishops, and the pomp and pride and circumstance of royalty that surround the pope. Catholics believe that the soul of the church will always have in it in great emergencies the divine guidance, and that, however weak or wicked or corrupt a pope may be, when acting as the "servant of the servants of God" and speaking ex cathedra on questions of faith or morals to the universal church, Divine guidance will not suffer him to teach false doctrines. But Catholics—intelligent Catholics, at least—recognize in the pope in all else nothing more than a man, subject to all the frailties and conditions of other men. And it is a significant fact that, though the Catholic church has never given up the belief in miracles, and the annals of her saints, down to quite recent times, are filled with them, no pope since the popes began to assume the power and pomp of kings, is credited with a miracle. Instinctively does the soul of the church feel that that which pertains to Cæsar cannot pertain to the kingdom of God.

It is natural to look to the declared representatives and followers of the Nazarene, who eighteen centuries ago was crucified for teaching the equal rights and common brotherhood of men, for active and hearty support of every movement to elevate the masses by securing social and political justice. But it is unnatural to look for this aid to men, whatever they may profess themselves, who are gorged with wealth and surrounded by pomp. Men who live in palaces and are clothed in purple and fine linen, and associate with the rich and powerful, are, with rare exceptions, now, as in Christ's time, the defenders of "things as they are," the upholders of the social injustice that, to pamper the few, degrades and imbrutes the many. Nominally shepherds of Christ's sheep, and using his name as a means of gaining wealth and power, their interests and associations make them the friends and supporters of the wolves that prey upon the fold. Among the poorer clergy of the church of England are many devoted men whose whole lives are given to efforts for the elevation of the masses, but the holders of the rich livings of the church of England have, as a class, preached a gospel of servility to power and of contentment under injustice infinitely more degrading than the worship of Odin and Thor, while the English bishops, with their stately palaces and princely incomes and titles of "my lord" and "your grace," have been to a man the most bigoted and uncompromising defenders of every hoary wrong, the bitterest opposers of every step in the advance of freedom and the emancipation of labor.

"It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to enter the kingdom of God." What, then, can any movement which aims at restoring to the disinherited their equal rights in the bounties of their Creator, and thus abolishing poverty and bringing the kingdom of justice on earth, expect from those circumstanced as are the man who gives this letter to the press and the man who signs it? The one lives in a marble palace in that quarter of New York where the millionaires live, and draws for his own private purse a princely income of over $40,000 a year from the hard earnings of his poor "subjects" who live in crowded and squalid tenements—an income largely made up by a tax upon the burial of every dead Catholic in consecrate ground. He is the center of the most fulsome flattery and abject servility. Though living in a democratic country, whose very constitution prohibits titles of nobility, he is addressed by the title given in monarchical countries only to the highest order of nobility, and has a lot of "my lords" to do his bidding, and his "subjects" salute him by falling down on their knees and kissing his hand.

The other lives in the largest and richest palace in the world—a palace so extensive that it is said to contain 7000 rooms. He is surrounded by the pomp and circumstance, not merely of European monarchs, but of Asiatic despotism. He wears on state occasions not one crown, but three. He is surrounded by guards, not of common soldiers, but of nobles, clad in steel helmets and white buckskin breeches, and of Swiss mercenaries garbed in all the colors of the rainbow. He is habitually addressed as "Your Holiness," and to exalt him as far as possible above human kind, men are turned in his service into beasts of burden, and he is carried on the shoulders of a corps of trained bearers, while peacock fans, the symbols of oriental grandeur, are borne above his head. He has a court composed of "eminences," and "illustrissimos," and "my lords," and those who approach him kneel down and kiss his foot. The rich are constantly bringing him offerings, and on every occasion the kings of the earth, even to the sultan of the Turks and the emperor of the Chinese, send him kingly presents. What sympathy can a man who lives in such an atmosphere have for democracy? "Do men gather grapes of thorns or figs of thistles?" What can the cause of the oppressed masses expect from him? "It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God."

It is well to look facts in the face. This letter is enough to undeceive any who have supposed that some sort of a truce might be patched up between Roman ecclesiasticism and the spirit of liberty and progress. Between absolutism and democracy there can be no peace. It is in the nature of things that no one can serve both God and Mammon.

The attitude of the American press and of American Protestants on this question is very significant.

Archbishop Corrigan, the "sentinel on the ramparts" that guard the ill gotten wealth of the rich, has set up a claim to control the political action of his "subjects," and has removed from his pastorate, deprived of his accustomed livelihood and ejected from his home a priest who dared to claim the rights of an American citizen. There has been in the whole matter, from first to last, no question of creed or of personal conduct. Dr McGlynn's character is as white as the snow. His long years of service as a priest have been marked by undagging devotion to his spiritual duties and by tireless charity. He has observed the church's discipline, he has questioned no article of the church's creed. Not the faintest suspicion of heresy could be attached to any of his teachings. The congregation committed to his charge loved him as no other priest in the diocese was loved.

But he has refused to take political orders from the marble palace, he has claimed the right to advocate such changes in the laws of his native land as he felt to be best for the whole people, he has declared that in becoming a Catholic priest he "did not evade the duties nor surrender the rights of a man and a citizen," he has denied the right of bishop, propaganda or pope to punish him for his actions in American politics, or to censure him for his opinions in political economy, unless they could show such opinions to be contrary to the teachings of the Christian religion, and he has denied their authority to order him to Rome to answer to Italians for the political acts and the political opinions of an American citizen.

This is what Pope Leo XIII, in his letter of condolence to his afflicted venerable brother, styles "the contumacious disobedience of one of your subjects, not only toward yourself, but also toward this apostolic see," and which he elsewhere styles "the rebellion which has arisen against your authority in your city."

In plain English, Archbishop Corrigan asserts—and he is now engaged in visiting the churches of his diocese and preaching it—and the pope in this letter indorses the assertion that the American Catholic is bound by his religion to act in American politics as the servile puppet of Rome; that he must vote and speak and think in matters concerning the government and laws of his native government as an Italian four thousand miles away, or his representative in New York, may choose to order.

If only a few years ago such a claim as this had been so openly made, the whole land would have rung with the "no popery" cry, our great dailies would have been filled with denunciations of the aggression upon American liberties, and from Maine to California Protestant preachers of all denominations would have pounded their bibles in eloquent harangues against the pretensions of the Scarlet Woman.

Now there is not a whisper of this. The very classes and the very organs who, a few years ago would have been loudest in their denunciations of papal pretensions, have nothing but praise of Archbishop Corrigan and laudations of the pope.

What does this mean?

It means that the old disputes about religious dogmas are being stilled in the shadow of an impending struggle that is stealing over the world. It means that the wedge of the great social question is driving through the ranks of Catholics and Protestants and free thinkers alike. It means that the threatening revolt of "the masses" against the injustice which makes them the serfs of "the classes" has already inspired such terror that the latter are ready to welcome any aid which will assist them in maintaining vested wrongs.

Archbishop Corrigan is popular with the Tammany ring and the rich men of New York for the same reason that Cardinals Cullen and McCabe were popular with the Castle government and Protestant landlords of Ireland, our secular and Protestant religious press applaud obsequiously the pope's letter for the very same reason that Bismarck, the erstwhile persecutor of Catholicism, has become the friend and admirer of "his holiness." Their very religious prejudices give them such an abiding faith in the "ignorance and superstition" of the Catholic masses that they believe a word from him can, so far as Catholics are concerned, put an end to the growing demand for social justice.

In this they are mistaken. The Catholic faith is not the slavish creed that they imagine. A man can be a conscientious Catholic and yet be a freeman. He may respect the spiritual authority of the church and yet resent bitterly the assumption of ecclesiastical authority to dictate in politics. And this will be the effect of the pope's letter. It will not strengthen Archbishop Corrigan, it will strengthen Dr McGlynn.

Two years ago a really venerable Irish bishop lamented to me the great danger to religion that he saw in the immediate future. The tendencies of the times, he said, were irresistibly democratic, and the masses everywhere were becoming bitterly discontented with a system which made them mere rack rented tenants and wage slaves upon an earth to which both right reason and revealed religion taught that they were born to equally use and enjoy. The greatest of all revolutions was already in its initiatory stages, and laws and customs and standing armies could not long keep it down. But he saw that the authorities of the church at Rome were determined to exert all their power to put it down. What he feared was that what had already happened in Italy and France, where patriotic and freedom-loving men have been driven out of the church, would happen among Catholics of the Irish blood, and that in gaining liberty they would lose their religion.

It is just such men as Dr. McGlynn who are going to avert this danger. The standard which they are lifting is the standard of the hope and faith in which Christianity conquered the world. If $40,000 archbishops and man carried popes array themselves against it, so much the quicker will the soul of the Catholic church cast off the incubus of the aristocratic and corrupt machine.

HENRY GEORGE.

Soda fountains at Pfunder's, the druggist.

RAILROAD TALK AT SEATTLE.

Paying Traffic for the Seattle, Lake Shore & East ern as Soon as the Present Contracts are Completed.

The Seattle Post-Intelligencer has the following statements from a man said to be well informed as to railroad matters thereabout. The Seattle, Lake Shore & Eastern Railway Company now has forty-four miles of its road under contract, and the work is being pushed ahead as rapidly as possible. This forty-four miles includes a spur three-quarters of a mile in length, diverging from the main track over to the Andrews coal mine, in the Squak valley. The work of opening the mine is well under way, and it is the intention of the company to commence shipping coal this fall, just as soon as the road is completed to that point. Traffic arrangements have been made between the coal company and the railroad company, and the day the road is completed to the mines the coal company will be in position to ship 1000 tons of coal per day to salt water. Say it only ships 800 tons per day, at 50 cents per ton, the road will have a revenue of $400 per day from coal alone. The grade is much easier than the grades on the Columbia & Puget sound road, although the distance is a little further. The company expects to earn $200 per day from passengers and local freights outside of coal, which will swell the earnings on the first forty four miles to $600 per day, which will be very handsome. The road will not stop at the coal mines. Another twenty miles section, which will carry it to the foot of the Cascade mountains, will be let this month. Engineers are crowding the work, and hope to have it ready so that bids may be called for the grading by the 15th. The Northern Pacific have sixty surveyors running lines from the Common Point over into King county, but as the iron mines in the Snoqualmie are owned by Seattle people, that company is not likely to get much trade, even though it build a road over into our territory, and then, you know, that company does not build all the lines it surveys, either. The Columbia & Puget Sound Company has its lines all surveyed from a point on the Cedar river extension to Common Point, and from there up to the Snoqualmie river, striking that stream a short distance above the falls, and running from there towards the Snoqualmie pass, and these are the lines it proposes to build with the $2,000,000 derived from the increased issue of $2,000,000 stock to be made by the Oregon Improvement Company on the 29th of this month. I think the Northern Pacific is figuring to get control of the Oregon Improvement Company, judging by the way the latter's stock has advanced lately. I see it is now quoted at 51 on Wall street, when only two or three years ago it went begging at 5 and 9. If the Northern wants to come into Seattle, and I think it does, this would be its means of doing so, as then it could gobble up all the vast mud flats in the south end of the city, comprising thousands of acres of land within the city limits, which were granted to the Seattle and Walla Walla railroad, now the Columbia and Puget Sound railroad, which is controlled and owned by the Oregon Improvement Company, in 1873 by the territorial legislature, and since held by that company and its successors. I tell you it won't be long till Seattle is the Puget sound terminus of at least three transcontinental railroads, the Canadian Pacific, by connection with the Seattle & West Coast road at Fort Hope, the St. Paul, Minneapolis & Manitoba railroad by its connection with the Seattle, Lake Shore & Eastern, the Union Pacific by its connection with the Shore Line at Stuck Junction by a short line from the Columbia, and the Northern Pacific, by way of the Common Point and Cedar river extension, if it succeeds in gobbling up the O I Company. This would make its Cascade branch line to Seattle fifteen miles shorter and thirty miles nearer the sea than to Tacoma. Oh, I tell you Seattle is all right, and she opens her arms and bids all these roads welcome. There is room enough here for all who want to come.

THE LIEU LANDS.

Colfax (W. T.) Boomerang

For several years we have been fed on wholesale forfeiture straight, and because we would not shut our eyes and swallow the dose like a young crow swallowing worms, and then caw for more, we have several old cranks howling themselves hoarse over our sinfulness. Well, we are real glad to see that the enormous N P worm has been swallowed (all but its pin-feathers), and that our friends (?) are happy by reason of having enjoyed at least one square meal. The swallowing of the "pin-feathers" is going to be the cause for a grand feast and go-as-you-please walk around. We have never even presumed that the N. P. Co. would be allowed to have any more land than was included in the original charter—the entire grant and sufficient indemnity land to make up the losses in the main grant. What government official, from the president down, has, in the last two months expressed an opinion that the N P Co. is not entitled to all of its grant and indemnity lands according to the provisions of the original charter? Why are commissioners now appointed, and are now examining the last section of twenty-five miles of the N P line, if the government officials at Washington do not consider the original granting contract still in full force and effect. We have at all times held that the N. P. Co's legal right to hold any of the main grant or indemnity lands since 1879 has hung upon the act of the president of the United States in appointing commissioners to examine the road bed, and in his accepting of the same as provided in the original contract. If the president is sincere in his statement that it is time to stop donating the public domain to railroads, why does he take the initiatory step towards validating the N P Co's claim to the land adjacent to this last twenty-five miles of its roadbed? Why should our people be asked to hold jubilee meetings while the agents of the government are at work clinching the railroad company's title to this last 100) square miles of territory, or 640,000 acres of the public domain? Will some of the reform (?) cranks in this vicinity rise up and explain? What is there in this late rejoicing? All we can see is this. The Northern Pacific Company has just completed the Northern Pacific railroad, and is now in a position to ask for a confirmation of its title to the entire grant with sufficient indemnity land to make the main grant complete, which, we presume, is all that the company ever expected to get. It is more than probable that the company has already made cash sales of as much indemnity land as it is entitled to. There is no doubt but what the company selected more indemnity land than it expected to get title to. The late order of the secretary of the interior will not make any change in the present status of the land in this vicinity, because nearly all of the land near here was selected by the company, and is therefore not included in the order of the secretary. The most rank "monopolist" certainly could not ask for a better layout than is now being offered to the railroad company. It is certainly too good a proposition for us to go into ecstacy over. We cannot shut our eyes and swallow such gigantic worms and then "caw" reform. Those who wish to play the young crow have our permission.

DR. HENLEY'S
EXTRACT
BEEF
AND IRON
TRADE MARK

DR HENLEY'S POPULAR REMEDY

Has the largest sale and has relieved and cured more persons afflicted with nervous troubles than any known remedy. Sold by all druggists and country dealers. Wm T Atwood Agt 111 Front st. Portland

At Night always have Acker's Baby Soother at hand. It is the only safe medicine yet made that will remove all infantile disorders. It contains no Opium or Morphine, but gives the child natural ease from pain. Price 25 cents. Sold by all druggists.

DR. NEWCASTLE DENTIST. EAST [illegible]

FULL WEIGHT
ROYAL
ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short weight alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 106 Wall st., N. Y. [illegible] San Francisco

"THE GEM"

—of—

TABLE WATERS

PURE!
NATURAL!
SPARKLING!

IN CASES OF 50 Bordeaux Bottles.

Genoveva

Its richness is NATURAL carbonic acid gas; its delicious clean and pure acidulous taste; its mellowness and its readiness to assimilate with milk, white and red wine, champagne, brandy, etc.,

RENDERS IT

THE MOST PERFECT OF TABLE WATERS.

"'Genoveva'" is a real Mineral Water, and while acting as a tonic and against bile, it is a pleasant drink.—Kilburn Times.

"'Genoveva,' the advertisement says makes a splendid long drink, but a friend of ours who ought to know, and who has tried it, says it leaves him longing for another long un.—London Judy.

For Sale by the Trade and in lots to suit by

CHARLES MEINECKE & CO.,
Sole Agents Pacific Coast,
314 Sacramento Street, San Francisco.

REMEMBER

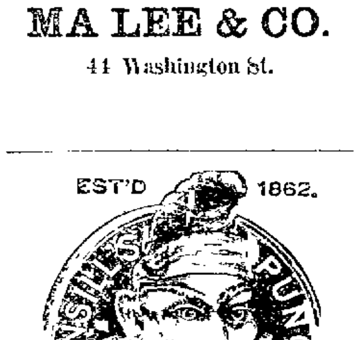
—our—

Spring Sale

Will Positively Close
at 9 P. M.
SATURDAY, June 18.

MA LEE & CO.

44 Washington St.



PLUMMER & BYERLEY
Druggists and Chemists
AND DEALERS IN PAINTS, OILS AND GLASS.
Agent for R W Tansill & Co's Cigars.
S. W. cor First and Main sts., Portland.

DRUNKENNESS

Or the Liquor Habit, Positively Cured by administering Dr. Haines' Golden Specific.

[illegible] NEVER FAILS. [illegible] SNELL, HEITSHU & WOODARD, Druggists [illegible]

DESIRABLE REAL ESTATE.

A FINE BLOCK [illegible]
[illegible] four feet [illegible]
40x100 in South Portland [illegible] room House [illegible]
50x100 with two-story House [illegible]
Three Fine Lots on Morrison [illegible]
Five Lots the best listing [illegible]
[illegible]
CHAS. HIRSIEL, Real Estate Dealer,
[illegible]

GRAND SALE OF PLANTS
AT THE FLORAL GARDENS
147 MARKET ST.

In order to reduce stock I [illegible] plants at REDUCED PRICES [illegible]

FARM FOR SALE.

160 acres [illegible] acres in cultivation [illegible] from Portland. GEO W. OL[illegible] Portland

COTTAGES AT THE BEACH.

FOR SALE OR TO RENT—THE TWO ADJOINING partly furnished cottages at East Portland camp (Clatsop) built for A. S. Frank and D. D. Oliphant. Inquire at OLIPHANT & CUTTING'S, [illegible] Front st

PERFORATED & STAMPING PATTERNS

Stamping outfits for sale, Monograms and all kinds of designs made to order

F. NAGEL, 133 Fifth st.,
between Washington and Alder

Dr. E. C. Brown, Diseases of the Eye & Ear 169. 1st st

REPUBLICAN CITY CONVENTION AND PRIMARY MEETINGS.

Primary meetings of Republican voters of the city of Portland will be held in their respective wards Saturday, June 11th 1887 between the hours of 6 and 8 o'clock P. M. of said day to elect delegates to attend a REPUBLICAN CITY CONVENTION which is hereby called to meet at the county court house in the city of Portland Tuesday June 14th, 1887 at the hour of 2 o'clock P. M. for the purpose of nominating one candidate for Councilman in each ward, a candidate for City Treasurer and a candidate for City Police Commissioner, to be voted for as provided by the city charter at the city election to be held on the third Monday to wit the 20th day of June 1887. The following is the apportionment of delegates to the convention, namely

First Ward	8 delegates
Second Ward	[illegible] delegates
Third Ward	11 delegates
Total	29 delegates

As judges of primaries the following appointments have been made by the committee, namely

First Ward—P B Sinnot, W H Walker, A J Coffee
Second Ward—F Henshaw, W L Nutting, W E Mc[illegible]
Third Ward—W R Sewall, W F Mathews, W S Newbury
One judge in each ward to act as clerk

Places of primary meetings respectively as follows
First Ward—No 55 Ash street, between Third and Fourth streets
Second Ward—Corporation shed, Fourth street [illegible]
Third Ward—Corner of Co[illegible] and [illegible] streets
Dated June [illegible] 1887
W. B. ADAMS
C F CHIGLR
WM BURNELL
City Republican Committee

OREGON RAILWAY & NAVIGATION CO.

ANNUAL MEETING OF STOCKHOLDERS.

THE ANNUAL MEETING OF STOCKHOLDERS of the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company will be held at the office of the company, Portland, Oregon, on Monday, June [illegible] A. D. 1887, at [illegible] o'clock A. M. for the election of Directors of said company for the ensuing year and for the purpose of considering and acting upon the lease of the properties of the company to the Oregon Short Line and Union Pacific Railway companies, and transaction of such other business as may come before the meeting.

THEODORE WYGANT Sec'y
Portland, May [illegible] 1887

OREGON IMPROVEMENT CO.

ANNUAL MEETING OF STOCKHOLDERS.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT PURSUANT to the By-Laws of the Company the Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Oregon Improvement Company will be held at the office of the Company in Portland, Or., at 12 o'clock M. on Monday, June 20th 1887, for the purpose of electing Directors for the ensuing year, authorizing the increase of the capital stock of the company by the issuance of twenty thousand additional shares of stock, which shall be Preferred, and for the transaction of such other business as may legally come before the meeting.

J. M. FOX, Secretary
Portland, May 20, 1887 m27td

Portland & Willamette Valley Railway Co. NOTICE OF STOCKHOLDERS' MEETING.

A MEETING OF THE STOCKHOLDERS OF THE Portland and Willamette Valley Railway Co will be held at the Company's office, Room 6 of Reed's Block, corner Pine and First street, in the city of Portland, county of Multnomah and State of Oregon, upon Wednesday, the 8th day of June next, 1887, at three o'clock afternoon for the purpose of electing directors for the ensuing year and transacting such other business as may then legally come before the meeting.

WILLIAM REID President.
Portland Oregon 6 May 1887 7m tJu8

OREGON & TRANSCONTINENTAL CO.

ANNUAL MEETING OF STOCKHOLDERS.

THE ANNUAL MEETING OF STOCKHOLDERS of the Oregon and Transcontinental Company will be held at the office of the company in the City of Portland, Or., on Monday, June [illegible] A. D. 1887, at 12 o'clock M. for the purpose of electing Directors of said company to serve for the ensuing year and for the transaction of such other business as may come before the meeting.

E. B. WILLEY, Sec.
Portland, May [illegible] 1887 20m [illegible]

BIDS FOR SCHOOL BONDS

THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF SCHOOL District No. 1 of Multnomah county, which district comprises the city of Portland, Oregon, proposes to [illegible] the bonds of said District aggregating the sum of $[illegible] and having coupons attached bearing [illegible] per cent interest per annum payable semi-annually on the first days of July and January of each year. The principal to become payable as follows: $10,000 on July 1, 18[illegible] and $[illegible] on the first day of July of each succeeding year until the whole sum of $[illegible] be paid. Said bonds and interest to be made payable in New York. [illegible] Board bids for said bonds in sums not less than $10,000 will be received at the office of FRED DALY, School Clerk, [illegible] First st, Portland, Or., until June 23, 1887. For further particulars address

CHAS H DODD
WM M LADD
Finance Committee of School District No 1 Portland Oregon [illegible]

NOTICE TO STOCKHOLDERS.

WHEREAS: At a meeting of the Directors of the Portland [illegible] Company [illegible]

[illegible] WM S SIBSON Sec'y
Portland Or May [illegible] 1887 [illegible]

GLOBE HOTEL.

Cor Front and C Sts., Portland, Or.

JOS. SALZER, Proprietor.

Board and Lodging per day	1 0[illegible]
Board and Lodging per week	[illegible]
Single Meals	[illegible]
Lodging	[illegible] to [illegible]
Table Board per week	[illegible]

Free Coach to and from the House

JOHN FISKE---LECTURES.

WESTERN CAMPAIGNS CIVIL WAR June 1 [illegible]
BEGINNINGS OF NEW ENGLAND June 10 [illegible]

Programs and tickets at Gill's, Wisdom's, McKercher's [illegible] Single lectures 25c. Special rates to High School [illegible]

GOLD AMALGAMATOR.

THE UNDERSIGNED HAVE PATENTED A machine to save fine gold [illegible] black sand or free [illegible] We will put up a machine on any bar or bench claim in Oregon, Washington territory or Alaska. After the price is agreed upon the party can place the amount in any responsible bank subject to [illegible] that the machine will do [illegible] A small machine [illegible] can be seen by calling at Newport for directions. Address BRASFIELD & GEORGE Newport Benton Co Oregon 25m 1m

Notice of Annual Stockholders' Meeting.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT THE Annual meeting of the stockholders of the Willamette Transportation and Locks Company will be held at the office of the company in the city of Portland, Oregon, on Monday, the 20th day of June, 1887, at 11 o'clock A M for the purpose of electing directors to serve for the ensuing year and the transaction of such other business as may come before the meeting.

JOSEPH SIMON Sec'y
Portland Or May 23 1887 (m td)

Notice of Annual Stockholders' Meeting.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT THE Annual meeting of the stockholders of the North Pacific Industrial Company of Oregon will be held at the office of the company in the city of Portland, Oregon, on Monday the 6th day of June 1887 at 10 o'clock A M for the purpose of electing directors for the ensuing year and the transaction of such other business as may come before the meeting.

JOSEPH SIMON Sec'y
Portland Or May 2[illegible] 1887 (m td)

Notice of Stockholders' Meeting.

THE ANNUAL MEETING of THE STOCKHOLDERS of the Ore[illegible] Iron and Steel Company for the election of a Board of Directors for the ensuing year and for the transaction of such other business as may regularly come before the meeting, will be held at the [illegible] Portland, Oregon, on June [illegible] 1887 at 11 o'clock A M

MARTIN WINCH Sec'y
Portland Or May 20 1887 31mtd

COMMISSION MERCHANTS

E. J. BOWEN, WHOLESALE SEEDSMAN and Commission Merchant 65 Front st

SUTTON & LEE'S SHIP CHANDLERY AND naval stores 15 N Front st Portland Or

ALLEN & LEWIS, COMMISSION AND PRODUCE Merchants, Front and D Sts., Portland, Or.

H. E. BATTIN & CO GENERAL COMMISSION merchants and produce dealers 120 Front st

C. CAESAR & CO, SHIPPING AND COMMISSION Merchants 30 N [illegible] Front street Portland

MASON, EHRMAN & CO WHOLESALE GROCERS and commission merchants Nos 4 and [illegible] North Front street Portland Or MILLER & WEST—(J O MILLER, W H WEST,) commission merchants in general and dairy produce, 1[illegible] Front st., between Washington and Stark.

TAYLOR, YOUNG & CO SHIP BROKERS AND Commission Merchants agents for San Juan Archipelago Lime Co. [illegible] Front street cor Ash st.

HERMAN METZGER PURCHASER OF HIDES, Pelts Furs Wool and Tallow and General Commission Merchant, S W cor Front and Alder sts Portland Or. Liberal cash advances on consignments

WHOLESALE CLOTHIERS.

OREGON OIL CLOTHING MANUFACTURING company 82 North First st. Factory in McMillan Addition Portland 15 tf

NEUSTADTER BROS MANUFACTURERS OF Boss of the Road Overalls Standard Shirts Men's Furnishing Goods and Cal Cassimere Clothing 67 69 71 First st Portland Or

MILL AND FARM MACHINERY.

CHAS. H DODD & CO SOLE AGENTS BUCKEYE Mower and Reaper, Canton Pitt's Thresher Haines Header Schutler Wagons, Front, First and Vine sts.

MACHINISTS.

TRENKMANN & WOLFF, MACHINISTS, CORNER F and Third sts.—Housework, doors, railings, iron shutters, and machinery of all descriptions, planing and moulding tools to order.

SEEDS AND TREES.

E. W. ALLEN (SUCCESSOR TO H. HANSON) wholesale and retail dealer, 171 Second

WANTED—HELP.

WANTED—A NEAT WILLING BOY AT LITT'S Only such need apply 8jtf

WANTED—A GIRL FOR GENERAL HOUSEwork in small family. Inquire at [illegible] Sixth [illegible] 8j3

WANTED—A FIRST CLASS GIRL TO DO GENERAL housework and cooking. Inquire at [illegible] Ninth st 8j

WANTED—BY COMPETENT GIRL UP STAIRS work or care of children, good references. Apply at 123 Madison st 8j2

WANTED—A COMPETENT GIRL TO DO SECOND work and take care of children at [illegible] Ninth st S W cor Montgomery 8j3

WANTED—A GIRL TO COOK AND DO GENERAL housework in small family good wages to a competent girl. Apply at 4[illegible] E st 8j2

HARNESS MAKER WANTED AT CRONIN'S 123 Front st 7j3

WANTED—AN EXPERIENCED COOK, ALSO upstairs girl that understands sewing. Apply bet 10 and 12 A M at 11[illegible] West Park st 4jtf

WANTED—A MAN WITH FOUR OR FIVE yoke of work oxen to log for a sawmill distance to haul less than one quarter of a mile this is a good chance for a good man. For particulars call or write to P BORN 1[illegible] Front st (Esmond Block) Portland Or

WANTED—AN EXPERIENCED NURSE GIRL with reference, good wages. Call from 11 to 2 at 1[illegible]4 Washington st [illegible]

THE WAUKEGAN BOAT CLUB WANTS A good carpenter or contractor. Apply at the Waukegan Boat House foot of Stark st [illegible]

WANTED—AGENTS.

THE VOLUNTEER SOLDIER—LOGAN'S LAST book. Agents Apply at once for terms to [illegible] J K GILL & CO Portland Or

DR GRAY'S CELEBRATED ACME ELECTRIC Belt containing in itself a most complete battery; charges the human system with a strong [illegible] current [illegible] Electricity—giving sure relief to all Nervous Debility, Seminal Emissions, Female Complaints and other kindred diseases which drugs do not reach. Agents wanted in every town and city. Address ACME BELT AGENCY, 181 First st Portland Or

WANTED—ONE PHYSICIAN OR DRUGGIST in each town on the coast to sell our Celebrated Scientific Electric Magnetic Belts, used and recommended by the leading doctors of America and Europe, will cure all nervous weaknesses and other troubles when medicines fail. [illegible] four years success in Portland. DR SILL Manager and Proprietor of the Electric Belt Agency and the Electric Magnetic Co. Office in the elegant Stone Block, First and Market sts. [illegible] box 43[illegible] Portland Or 12 tf

WANTED—EMPLOYMENT.

THE SERVICES OF A FIRST CLASS NURSE can be secured by calling at Room [illegible] [illegible] Block 9j

A SHORTHAND WRITER AND BOOKKEEPER wishes [illegible] reference. Address [illegible] care Oregonian [illegible]

WANTED—POSITION BY YOUNG LADY AS companion or governess for young children no object to traveling. Address Immediate care Oregonian 8jtf

A FIRST CLASS DOUBLE ENTRY BOOKkeeper wants a set of books to post evenings; ten years experience and best city reference. Address A P care Oregonian 2mtf

WANTED—MISCELLANEOUS.

WANTED—A GOOD SADDLE HORSE. Address particulars to G D Box 6[illegible]4 city 4 7

WANTED—BY A MIDDLE-AGED LADY AND her daughter, rooms furnished for light housekeeping. Address Box 53 Portland j3

INSTALMENT DEALERS WILL FIND JUST what they need—A Full Line of Instalment Goods sold only to the Instalment Trade by addressing
INSTALMENT DEALERS SUPPLY CO
28a 8 Erie Pennsylvania

WANTED—A HOUSE OF SIX OR SEVEN rooms furnished in desirable locality. Address P O Box 15 8jt

WANTED—TO RENT OR BUY ON THE INstallment plan a cottage of six rooms. Address M F care Oregonian 10mlm

FOR SALE—REAL ESTATE.

FOR SALE—2 LOTS AND HOUSE IN SELLwood price $650 improvements cost $400 lots $225 best bargain in Sellwood. Apply at 10[illegible] Front st

FOR SALE—160 ACRES RICH LEVEL BOTTOM land improved 12 miles from Eugene $1[illegible] per acre Ad Proprietor 4th St Hotel East Portland 31mlm

FOR SALE—FROM SEVEN TO EIGHTY ACRES of choice garden land near the city
FARRISH, WATKINS & CORNELL

FOR SALE—A SIGHTLY BLOCK IN EAST Portland bounded by Ninth and Tenth, [illegible] and [illegible] sts. will sell as a whole or in subdivisions, also a quarter block in Couch. Apply to T J O'BRIEN 88 First st 24mlm

IMMIGRANTS—FOR SALE FOR $700 10 ACRES within twelve miles of Portland level land [illegible] watered forty acres [illegible]
J FRED CLARK & CO 33 Stark st

FARMS FOR SALE—SOME GOOD FARMS IN the Willamette Valley for sale at reasonable prices and on easy terms. Apply to HUGH ROGER 10 Second street Portland Oregon 2stf

FOR SALE—$750, EIGHT ACRES OF RICH new bottom land, four acres cleared, with new four furniture and good barn near Crawfordsville, Linn county, Oregon. Apply to C J ELLIOTT Crawfordsville

GUARDIAN SALE OF VALUABLE CITY REAL estate.—On Wednesday the 1[illegible] day of June 1887 at 11 o'clock A M at the front door of the Court House the Guardian of A J Watson will sell at public auction the northeast portion [illegible] A J Watson [illegible] an east front on Eighteenth st of [illegible] feet [illegible] from street railway

FOR SALE—BLK WITH DWELLING [illegible] AND Salmon sts city [illegible] Farming lands near [illegible] Portland M C LYON 1[illegible] Front st [illegible]

FOR SALE—MISCELLANEOUS.

FOR SALE—A HORSE AND BUGGY AT HAWkins Livery Stable [illegible]

FOR SALE CHEAP CASH OR INSTALMENTS furniture of a [illegible] room house [illegible] Address L C care Oregonian [illegible]

FOR SALE—A STATIONARY SECOND HAND boiler and engine complete boiler [illegible] horse power engine 20 horse power also a [illegible] horse large delivery wagon suitable for express. Inquire at 1[illegible] First st Portland m[illegible]

PURE NATURAL ICE, cut from Cottonwood Lake Idaho and Hood River delivered in quantity to suit at lowest prices. Country orders promptly executed. Our supply is always ample and the largest order can be filled on short notice. See that the wagon is painted yellow and has the name of Portland Natural Ice Co
PORTLAND ICE CO, C E LOMBARD Mgr
70 OAK ST

FOR SALE CHEAP—A FINE BLACK HORSE six years old drives single or double or would make a stylish saddle horse. Can be seen at the Corbett Stable. For further information inquire at rooms 1[illegible] Strowbridge building First and Alder sts 1jtf

FOR SALE—ONE TUBULAR BOILER 4 FEET in diameter 16 feet long, also one 3 horse power engine, all in good condition. Apply to HENRY WEINHARD City Brewery 2 alm

MISCELLANEOUS.

EDGAR L EATON, METAPHYSICIAN AND Christian Science Healer. Office 703 Morrison st bet Eighth and Ninth. Hours 1 to 2 P M. Patients instructed how to govern their bodies harmoniously

MRS E DEPRANS METAPHYSICIAN CONtinues the work begun by Mrs J And[illegible] at [illegible] Washington st. Class for instruction [illegible] Healing Power of Mind at 1 30 P M. Patients treated from 10 A M to 1 P M daily and on Sundays from 1 to 2 P M 1mlm

DR [illegible] PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON Offices over Sellings [illegible] corner First and [illegible] Consultation free 10mlm

DR W L ADAMS ECLECTIC MEDICAL INSTItute is located on Fifth and [illegible] st Portland. His Medical Bath and common sense treatment cures chronic cases that no other system reaches. Hundreds can testify who were treated by him in Portland nine years ago. Men and women who need honest treatment will be examined free. Come and investigate our system even if you do not want treatment yourself 1mlm

J. H. FISK ANALYTICAL CHEMIST ASSAYer and Toxicologist, analyses of medicine and minerals. Rates for assaying reduced. [illegible] First st

S. H GREENBERG WHOLESALE DEALER IN Diamonds Watches Jewelry etc. 20[illegible] Kearney st Room 8 San Francisco 8o

BUSINESS CHANGES.

SALOON FOR SALE AT A BARGAIN DOING a good business. For particulars call at N E cor Fifth and B sts

FOR SALE CIGAR AND FRUIT STORE GOOD location [illegible] paying trade also soda fountain good reasons for selling. Inquire at 17 First st 8lm

FOR SALE—A STOCK OF DRUGS (ABOUT $4000) in a growing town of 500 inhabitants in Idaho. For further particulars call at or address SNELL HEITSHU & WOODARD Portland Or [illegible]

COUNTRY STORE FOR SALE OR NINE YEARS standing, doing a first class business in Idaho Territory, good farming country surrounding. For further information address Country Store [illegible] Oregonian [illegible]

FOR SALE—STATE AND COUNTY RIGHTS FOR one of the [illegible] patented [illegible] T A STEPHENS 1[illegible] First st room [illegible] Portland Or 3lm10

FOR SALE—A FINE OPPORTUNITY FOR ANY one wishing to engage in the grocery trade [illegible] Salem Oregon [illegible] For further information address [illegible] Salem Oregon

FOR SALE—A FIRST CLASS FLOURING MILL [illegible] Inquire of BOYD & ARNOLD 10 First st Portland 2stf

FINANCIAL.

MORTGAGE LOANS—MONEY TO LEND ON improved city property [illegible] Mortgage Co [illegible]

MONEY TO LOAN—APPLY AT THE OFFICE of the Oregon Fire and Marine Insurance Co [illegible] Stark st 7jlm

MONEY TO LOAN IN SUMS TO SUIT ON ANY kind of security such as House hold Furniture (without removal), Pianos, Organs, Horses, Wagons, Buggies or Personal Notes with an acceptable endorser. R. A FRAME 1[illegible] First st cor Alder 11dtf

MONEY TO LOAN ON IMPROVED COUNTRY property in Oregon and Washington Territory and city property in Portland. BALFOUR, GUTHRIE & CO cor First and A sts

LEATHER AND FINDINGS.

R. SHERLOCK, SADDLERY HARNESS HARDware 74 Front st., Portland Or.

HERBERT BRADLEY & CO., 73 FRONT ST., Importers of Shoe Manufacturers' Goods, Shoe Store Supplies, Blackings, Dressings, Etc.

PORTLAND SODA WORKS.

NORTHROP & STURGIS, 93 AND 95 OAK ST., corner Fifth. Soda, Sarsaparilla, Cream Soda, Ginger Ale, Medical Lake Mineral Water, Soda Fountains and Supplies

WHOLESALE DRUGGISTS.

SNELL HEITSHU & WOODARD ESTABLISHED 1861, Portland, Or.

TO RENT—ROOMS AND OFFICES.

FOR RENT—IN THE STONE BLOCK FIRST and Market sts., unfurnished rooms for light housekeeping. None but respectable parties need apply. 1[illegible]lm

FOR RENT—NICELY FURNISHED SUITE OF rooms for light housekeeping, 2[illegible] Yamhill st, only respectable parties need apply 3jtf

FOR RENT—NEWLY FURNISHED ROOMS, AT 1[illegible] West Park st, corner Morrison 15

PLEASANT FURNISHED ROOMS IN PRIVATE family. 1[illegible] Yamhill st cor West Park 1 mlm

NICELY FURNISHED OR UNFURNISHED rooms to rent by Mrs Ross and [illegible] from $1 a week [illegible] Inquire at 2[illegible] N [illegible] st [illegible] 1 mlm

FURNISHED ROOMS IN A PRIVATE FAMily with pleasant lawn at [illegible] Ninth st, bet Salmon and Main [illegible]

FOR RENT—DESIRABLE ROOMS FOR HOUSEkeeping furnished complete [illegible] sunny front rooms 1[illegible] [illegible] 4j m

160 SOUTH FIRST ST COR MEAD TWO large [illegible] unfurnished rooms. Call bet [illegible] at [illegible] o'clock 8j3

FOR RENT—ROOMS 1[illegible] FIRST ST BET ALDER and Morrison upstairs will [illegible] to suit occupant. Inquire [illegible] Baths [illegible]

FOR RENT—TWO OR THREE FURNISHED rooms for man and wife or two [illegible] suitable for light housekeeping [illegible]

FOR RENT—ONE FURNISHED ROOM AND two unfurnished [illegible] references exchanged. [illegible] Hall 7jlt

BAILEY'S LODGING HOUSE—REFURNISHED throughout [illegible] by week, month [illegible] Main

FURNISHED AND UNFURNISHED ROOMS [illegible] also furnished and unfurnished rooms for housekeeping [illegible] 2a4

TO RENT—HOUSES AND STORES.

FOR RENT—A FURNISHED [illegible]

FOR RENT—A DESIRABLE [illegible]

HOUSE [illegible] for rent [illegible]

FOR RENT—S[illegible] [illegible] Third [illegible]

FOR RENT—A HOUSE [illegible]

FOR RENT—A COTTAGE OF FIVE ROOMS and summer kitchen [illegible]

FOR RENT—A FIVE [illegible] ON [illegible] Wm K [illegible]

FOR RENT—A FURNISHED HOUSE [illegible]

A HOUSE OF EIGHT ROOMS WITH MODERN improvements
FARRISH, WATKINS & CORNELL.

TO RENT—ROOMS, WITH BOARD.

TWO FURNISHED FRONT ROOMS WITH OR without board at [illegible] Eighth and Alder [illegible]

FOR RENT—A LARGE NICELY FURNISHED room in a small private family in a very fine location with or without board. Address A B care Oregonian 8j

PLEASANT FURNISHED ROOMS WITH board. 1[illegible] Alder [illegible] 2 mtf

SPECIAL NOTICES.

LOST—BUNCH OF KEYS ON JUNE 6 IN OR near postoffice [illegible] reward at Oregonian office 8j2

FLY SCREENS—THE ONLY PERFECT, latest and cheapest
COLDON Builder 1[illegible] Third st, near Taylor

MRS E COOK HAS A FEW SPARE HOURS for piano pupils. Apply at COOK'S MUSIC PARLORS corner Second and Washington 2mlm

ANY PERSON KNOWING THE WHEREAbouts of Wm H [illegible] and Clara Isabella Coulet will confer a favor by corresponding with Samuel Coulet Vancouver W T 2mlm

NOTICE—THE HANDSOME STEAM LAUNCH Mikado can be chartered for evening and Sunday at reasonable rates. For terms call on
BROWN & McCABE 2[illegible] R st

I WILL NOT BE RESPONSIBLE FOR ANY debts that may be contracted by my wife Mrs. [illegible] she having left my [illegible] April [illegible]
HENRY CRELIF

NOTICE—THE LADIES DEPARTMENT OF the Turkish Baths will again be in operation from this date as Mrs Dora Tuttle has returned from San Francisco. Hours each day from 9 to 1 o'clock A M.

$50 REWARD FOR THE RECOVERY OF the body of N T Elert [illegible] drowned [illegible] Point May [illegible] [illegible] Address A L RICHARDSON [illegible] Front st Portland Oregon.

BIDS FOR WOOD AND STATIONERY—TO Contractors. Bids are invited by the Board of Directors of School District No 1 Multnomah County Oregon for wood and stationery for [illegible] for the coming school year. Specifications can be had upon application at office of clerk [illegible] First st. Bids will be received up to 3 P M Friday June 1[illegible] The Board reserves the right to reject any or all bids. By order of the Board. FRED A DALY Sec of Board

[illegible] OF THE CITY WATER [illegible]

ATTENTION IS CALLED TO THE FOLLOWing [illegible] of the Water Committee. The use of water for irrigating is prohibited except between [illegible] and [illegible] P M and [illegible] Sidewalk sprinkling must be confined to the front of the premises of the party taking the water. Street sprinkling by hose is forbidden [illegible] requested to co-operate with the committee in reducing [illegible] of water [illegible]
[illegible] SMITH Superintendent

REMOVAL—ALEXANDER KUNZ HAS MOVED his poultry yards from [illegible] to [illegible] near Garden Home to his new quarters [illegible] His new address [illegible] box [illegible] Orders filled [illegible] Brown Leghorns, Plymouth Rocks and Pekin Ducks [illegible] Langshans, Houdans and Black Sumatras at $2 [illegible] 1mlm

JOHN THOMPSON & CO HAVE BEEN APpointed Agents for the purchase of Rag Stock for the Columbia River Paper Company and are prepared to purchase for cash Rags, Burlaps, Manila Rope and all other kinds of Paper Stock. Old Iron and Metal of all kinds. [illegible] and [illegible] E st Portland Or 4mtf

THE COPARTNERSHIP HERETOFORE EXISTing between William W[illegible] and L S Mayer is hereby by mutual consent dissolved W[illegible] retiring. L S Mayer will assume all debts and collect all outstanding [illegible]
WILLIAM W [illegible]
L S MAYER
Portland Oregon May [illegible] 1887

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS AND BUILDERS—The Board of Trustees of School District No 12 [illegible] receive sealed proposals for the construction of a two story [illegible] school house [illegible] plans and specifications which can be seen at the office of [illegible] in [illegible] Bids will be opened at 2 o'clock P M on June 1[illegible] 1887. All proposals to be [illegible] contractors. The Board reserves the right to reject any or all bids.
H T SMITH
Clerk of the Board of Trustees.
A F SENTER Chairman
[illegible]

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN IN PURSUance of a regular order of the County Court for Tillamook county Oregon that I will receive sealed bids [illegible] for the purchase of Court House Bonds of Tillamook County to the amount of $[illegible] [illegible] Interest at the rate of [illegible] per cent payable semi-annually. Principal and interest payable at the First National Bank of Portland [illegible]
H H DOWNING County Clerk
By [illegible] Deputy [illegible] Or Jun [illegible]

BONDS FOR SALE—BIDS WILL BE RECEIVED by the Board of Directors for the sale of $[illegible] six [illegible] bonds of Prineville School District No 1 of Crook county Oregon drawing [illegible] per cent interest payable annually principal [illegible] payable [illegible] years one third in seven years [illegible] bids will be opened [illegible] of the Board of Directors June [illegible] 1887 at 1 P M [illegible] may be seen at the office of the Oregonian. Address all bids and applications for information to the undersigned A C PALMER, [illegible] Oregon. [illegible] of the Board of Directors.
May [illegible] 1887

U. S. MARSHAL'S NOTICE OF SALE—IN ADmiralty. [illegible] United States of America District of Oregon [illegible] United States for the District of Oregon [illegible] company and on March [illegible] 1887 [illegible] against the [illegible] Salem, her tackle, apparel and furniture [illegible] that the same may be [illegible] for the causes [illegible] and [illegible] the said vessel her tackle apparel and furniture [illegible] and now in the custody of the Marshal for said District by virtue of process issued out of said Court and whereas such proceedings have been thereon had that by the interlocutory order and decree of said Court made and pronounced on May [illegible] 1887 it was ordered that the said vessel, her tackle, apparel and furniture be sold by the Marshal for cash to the highest bidder [illegible] Due notice of the time and place of sale first published in the DAILY OREGONIAN [illegible] the proceeds of such sale be [illegible] into said Court and [illegible] delivered to the clerk thereof. And [illegible] by the [illegible] order of said Court made the 21 day of June 1887 it was ordered that the Marshal sell [illegible] steamboat [illegible] to be brought to the Port of Portland and there [illegible] Now therefore I the [illegible] of the order and decree of May [illegible] 1887 and the [illegible] of June [illegible] and by virtue of a writ [illegible] expense [illegible] May 1887 [illegible] 11 day of June 1887 at 10 o'clock in the afternoon of said day at the [illegible] between Jefferson and [illegible] in the City of Portland [illegible] District, [illegible] steamboat called the City of Salem, her tackle, apparel, machinery and furniture at public auction to the highest bidder therefor, for cash in hand.
Dated at Portland in said District this [illegible] day of June 1887
PENUEL BRAYLLY [illegible]
U S Marshal for the District of Oregon
GEARIN & GILBERT Proctors for Libelants.
WATSON, HUME & WATSON Proctors for Interveners [illegible]

WHOLESALE GROCERS.

ALLEN & LEWIS, WHOLESALE GROCERS CORner N. Front and D sts. Portland, Or

CORBITT & MACLEAY, WHOLESALE GROCERS and Commission Merchants, 64 and 6[illegible] Front st Portland.

WADHAMS & ELLIOTT, WHOLESALE GROCERS, Forwarding and Commission Merchants, Nos. 6[illegible] and 68 Front street, Portland, Or

WALL PAPER AND WINDOW SHADES.

FREEBORN & CO JOBBERS AND RETAILers of wall paper and window shades. The leading wall paper house of the Northwest. New designs constantly arriving. 127 and 129 Third street.

SHOW CASE MANUFACTURERS.

DIXON, BORGESON & CO., 103 FRONT ST., Portland and 37 Market st., San Francisco.

The Oregonian.

PORTLAND, THURSDAY, JUNE 9, 1887.

A PROGRAMME.

The Boston Advertiser professes to have assurance that the republicans, when congress meets, "will be able to offer a plan for the reduction of the revenue which will accomplish that end satisfactorily without disturbance to our industries, and, although in a minority, that such a programme, if well managed, can be passed through the house of representatives with the aid of democrats who represent large industrial interests." The Advertiser is a representative organ of the Eastern protectionists, and the confidence with which it makes this statement is an indication that the "dalliance" between the republicans and the protection democrats in congress is to be continued. The main objects will be to prevent material reduction of duties on articles to whose manufacture the industry of the Eastern and Middle states is largely devoted, and to force reduction of the customs on sugar and of the internal tax on tobacco, together with such other reductions as will interfere least with the protection that various industries and localities regard as essential to their welfare. It will include, moreover, the idea of advancing the duties on certain articles to the point of prohibition, so as to give at once thorough protection, and, by cutting off importation, to stop the revenue.

Hitherto, without a definite programme of this sort, the protectionists of both parties in congress have been able to unite upon a general purpose of opposition to reduction. They have stood together on instinct, without any formulated plan. But they can go no further in their obstructive course without developing a programme of their own; for the revenues must be reduced, upon one system or another, and the protectionists cannot longer obstruct the anti-protectionists without showing the country what they themselves would do. The exigency will bring matters to an issue between the protectionists and anti-protectionists, as soon as congress meets. The alliance forced by protection between republicans and democrats in that body is another of the many illustrations afforded by our politics that a great material interest confounds distinctions of parties and brings into association political elements of the most incongruous description. The advantages and profits secured through protection must be very great to overcome the hitherto invincible repugnance which members of the two parties have shown to political association with each other.

CLAY'S "BURCHARD INCIDENT."

It is profoundly believed by many that the little incident known as the Burchard blunder defeated Blaine for the presidency; and it is an historical fact that Clay was defeated by an incident that seemed to be of still less significance. Schurz, in his life of Clay, just published, relates the latter incident thus:

> It was in the town of Richmond, Ind., that an incident occurred, the significance of which was scarcely understood by Clay. While he was addressing an enthusiastic whig gathering a Quaker by the name of Mendenhall presented to him a petition, bearing many signatures, in which Henry Clay was respectfully requested to emancipate his slaves. Clay's address was a masterpiece of oratorical skill. He characterized the presentation of the petition as a breach of hospitality, and then he took Mendenhall generously under his protection against the indignant cries of the crowd. He declared slavery to be a "great evil;" he wished every slave in the United States were in Africa; if slavery did not exist here he would oppose its introduction with all his might. But slavery existing; how could it be dealt with? The only safe method was gradual emancipation, and that had been postponed half a century by the reckless agitation of the abolitionists. As to himself, should he emancipate his slaves forthwith? There were those among them whom age and infirmity made a heavy charge upon him. Should he turn them, and the infants, upon the cold charities of the world? There were those who would not leave him; should he drive them away? He recommended to Mr. Mendenhall the benevolent example of other Quakers, who, while in principles firmly opposed to slavery, would not resort to revolution and disunion. They were not monomaniacs, but knew that they had duties to perform toward the white man as well as the black. Finally he put to Mr. Mendenhall a practical question. If he (Clay) liberated his fifty slaves, worth about $15,000, would Mendenhall and his friends contribute an equal sum to take care of the slaves after their liberation? Then he dismissed him thus: "Dry up the tears of the afflicted widows around you; console and comfort the helpless orphan; clothe the naked and feed and help the poor, black and white, who need succor, and you will be a better and a wiser man than you have this day shown yourself." The assembled multitude was lost in admiration; poor Mendenhall withdrew, discomfited and laughed at. Clay's speech was triumphantly published in the newspapers all over the country. But many thousand of Mendenhalls were to rise up in the campaign of 1844; and it was the cause represented by that humble Quaker that was to prove the fatal stumbling-block of the great orator's highest ambition.

WHEAT AND ITS MARKET.

A writer in the British Quarterly Review argues that the English wheat grower has nothing to fear from the competition of the farmers of the United States, Russia, Australia, or Canada. He quotes figures to show that the American farmer realizes only an average of 33 English shillings per acre for his wheat, while the English farmer receives £8 sterling. Wheat growing in Russia he claims is a losing business, the producer receiving barely sufficient to pay the cost of cultivation and of transportation to market. In Australia, he says, wheat growing is on the decline, and that the average yield for fourteen years past has been but 7½ bushels per acre.

But the chief reason why the English wheat-grower has nothing to fear from these countries is the fact that India can and does produce wheat much cheaper than any of them; and it is the Indian wheat grower, therefore, whom the English farmer must fear. Upon this showing the American, Russian and Australian farmer must fear him also, at least to the extent of the power of India to produce wheat; and that, however, it is asserted, is as yet only in small degree developed.

Two things give India this advantage. One is the cheapness of labor in India, where wages are but little more than in China; the other is the extraordinary fact that while silver is depreciated in all other parts of the globe its purchasing power in India, where it is the sole money, is not diminished. In India the wheat grower will always have the advantage of cheap labor; but whether he will permanently enjoy the advantage of paying out for this cheap labor the silver rupee, without depreciation, which he buys in London at the current rate of silver, may not be so certain. That silver circulates in India, without depreciation, where it is the sole money of the country, is the chief of paradoxes in money and prices of the present time.

AN URGENT NECESSITY.

The annual meeting of the Oregon Railway & Navigation Company will be held in this city on the 20th instant, and until after that event no declaration of policy will be made by the new management. It is understood, however, and may be stated as a fact that the first business of the new management will be to extend the Farmington branch into the Cœur d'Alene mines. The line is already surveyed, and before mid-summer construction forces will be in the field. The distance from Farmington to Wardner, the center of the silver district, and the first objective point, is a little less than ninety miles, through a country where construction will be comparatively easy. There should be no trouble about completing the line by January 1, and we shall be disappointed if by that date cars are not running from Portland to Wardner in twenty hours.

In view of this prospect the creation of reduction works of great capacity at Portland becomes an urgent necessity. The mines in the Wardner district, owned by Portland men alone, before January 1 will be able to supply all the silver-lead ores (250 tons or more of concentrates daily) that a smelter of the largest capacity could reduce. If Portland is not prepared to smelt these ores they will go elsewhere. Clearly the thing to do is to set up a smelter large enough to work all the ores that may be massed here. The company owning the reduction works at East Portland proposes to increase its capital stock from $50,000 to $300,000. We hope the stock will be taken without delay and the company put upon its feet in practical shape. The matter is urgent and the permanent interest of our city is involved in it.

OUT OF THE WOODS.

By this time President Cleveland, or, as ex-Minister Lowell would put it, "Seneca's pilot," is on his way out of the woods. The democracy at least, if not the nation, will breathe freer when the president's foot once more presses firmly, if not lightly, the turf of the White house grounds, and Washington through all her works gives signs of joy that Grover's back. There is a certain awe that wraps the souls of the political engineers of the party's fate and future, like a funeral garment, whenever the president goes into the woods, which never lifts until he is again in the executive mansion. The president in the woods is not a very imposing figure; he wears a colored outside shirt, and goes without either coat or collar much of the time. Whatever native majesty of expression his features may wear when he writes a veto message or by a single stroke of his pen cuts off an officeholder's head or makes democrats unhappy by consolidation of revenue districts is greatly marred, if not entirely obliterated, when his lineaments are smeared with fly ointment and his complexion repulsively painted with sunburn. Under these circumstances there are many things that might happen to Mr. Cleveland in the woods to which he is not exposed in Washington, wearing the presidential purple or sitting in his capacious chair. There his obesity is not obscurity; it is the majesty of an executive who has the adiposity, although, we are glad to believe, not the arrogance of Henry the Eighth, or of his portly priest, the full-fed Wolsey. But in the woods, or rather, the wilderness of the Adirondacks he is never safe from the chance of an accident that might put the party leaders to wailing and hang the walls of Buffalo with black. The president is "a good man weighing at least 250 pounds;" he is a robust person, but even his most enthusiastic office-holder in Oregon will hardly pretend that the president is a winged Mercury in lightness or quickness. His form is neither lithe nor graceful, and there is an unpleasant rumor that his feet are not mates, so that in the attempt to "single-foot" it through woods, over rocks, etc., there is always danger that the presidential feet might "interfere" and the rising hope of the democracy be cast down. The president would not have to fall very far in order to break the executive neck or, if he fell backwards, as he might easily do, to paralyze the presidential spine, in which case he would be a sort of living death for the rest of his term, and there would be heard a worse wailing in the democratic camp than was heard all over the country when Garfield hung between life and death; for the republican party had become somewhat sated with presidents and all the patronage that the word implies, while the democracy, having just got their appetite fairly whetted for a long democratic succession and lease of power, would be wandering about whimpering, "I never had a light gazelle," etc. To be sure Mr. Cleveland is not exactly a light gazelle, but under circumstances of deep affliction the party would naturally grow hyperbolical in the expression of their grief, so we will not blot out the quotation, because it is sufficiently hackneyed to justify the conviction that the average democratic orator would be sure to adopt it with the divinely illiterate enthusiasm of Mr. Silas Wegg when he "dropped into poetry."

There are many other chances that the president takes of calamity in the woods. He might forget the commands of his guide and suddenly rise up in the canoe at a critical moment and upset it, he might thus become food for fishes. He could not if far from land his garments heavy with their drink, easily make the shore, and as for getting back into a canoe, it is about as difficult for a man as flying, so that if once he fell into the weeping lake he would go down into muddy death. There is another danger that the president is not free from in the woods of Northern New York, although we confess it is not quite so sure death in that section as it would be if the president undertook to amuse himself in the woods of Oregon. Wandering about, his vast bulk crashing its way through the thickets, he might easily be mistaken by some fool sportsmen, of which all hunting grounds are full, for a bull moose and get shot, particularly if the president whistled and snorted, as many large fat men do when they feel gay and happy and think none are nigh to molest them or make them afraid. In the dusk of the evening, or, as the writers of pensive fiction put it, "in the gloaming," so huge and powerful a man clumsily stumbling and budging his way through the bushes, would be sure to be shot as "big game" in Oregon, for the woods here are filled with armed fools, who do not wait to shoot at sight but shoot at every sound they hear, and it is within the probabilities that the Adirondack woods are frequented by a considerable number of these awkward nimrods who would, as we have said, be quite likely to shoot at the president "in the gloaming" and hit his bowels, only to find out that instead of having killed a moose they had bagged the prize ox of the democratic party. Of course there are minor dangers. The president might go in bathing and some loose sportsmen of the baser sort might steal his clothes, but this, while it would be regarded as a great national disgrace, would not seriously interfere with the unbroken continuity of democratic succession, nor the perpetuity of party pap. It might make some lone remaining republican officeholder smile, but it would not make him abandon himself to exultation; it would by no means be so bad as to hear that the president had fallen over a cliff 100 feet high and had not yet returned; that he had been under water three hours with no visible signs of resurrection in time for the December session of congress; that he had been shot by a dude gunner from New York city, who pointed his gun in the spirit of morbid impertinence at the august form of the president, and had just pleaded in abatement of the homicide that "he didn't know it was loaded;" that he was a life-long democrat, had voted for his victim, and had always favored his renomination and re-election. It is very clear that there are a good many real causes for anxiety about the president when he goes whacking his way through the woods, like an escaped elephant. Rome never was so happy as when the gloomy tyrant Tiberius went into the country at Capri; never was so miserable as when he got back to Rome; but Cleveland is neither gloomy nor tyrannical: he is cheerful without being frivolous: fat without being either ragged or saucy, and so Washington weeps when Cleveland goes into the woods with his wife, and Washington puts ribbons in her hair, and whistles "When Johnny Comes Marching Home" when she sees his Accidency and his Adiposity, Grover Cleveland, once more in the White house. There is one drop of bitterness in the country's joy. We shall miss these thrilling dispatches, "The president has smeared his face with fly ointment and gone fishing." "The president became somewhat sunburnt," "The president to-day gave himself up to a game of cribbage," "The president omitted his lunch," "The president had a large mail to-night but will probably not open it," "The president caught three large trout," "The president to-day caught nothing." There has been nothing equal to this solicitude of the press concerning the president since the day when the barber of George the Fourth anxiously and humbly inquired, "On which side of your royal 'ighness' royal 'ead does your royal 'ighness part 'is royal 'air?"

Mr. John Fiske in his fine lecture on the Vicksburg campaign, referred to the fact that Grant's movement against Vicksburg in November and December, 1862, was abruptly stopped by the capture of his base of supplies by Van Dorn's cavalry. The capture of Holly Springs was made possible simply through the fact that Col. Murphy, commander of its garrison of 2000 men, was a miserable coward who surrendered in precipitate haste. Murphy had ample warning of Van Dorn's approach and could have easily defended the place, as 2000 infantry ready for attack, with plenty of supplies, were more than a match for twice the cavalry Van Dorn had. Grant sent a brigade of infantry to reinforce the garrison before the attack, but the contemptible Murphy surrendered without anything like a fight soon after he was summoned, before the infantry could get up. But there was no need of any infantry, for the rest of Van Dorn's campaign was a failure, as he was held at bay by all the little garrisons he undertook in succession to capture, because they were commanded by men of soldierly spirit. Murphy alone behaved like a poltroon; he held the strongest post; he had the most responsible charge and had an ample garrison to have kept 10,000 cavalry easily at bay. He had acted in a similar manner at Iuka under Rosecrans three months before, so Grant had him disgracefully dismissed the service.

SNOBS TO THE FRONT.

Mr. Florence, the actor, recently proposed for membership of the Union Club of New York by Wright Sandford and endorsed by Mr. August Belmont, has been rejected, a few snobs opposing him, not on the ground that he was not an agreeable, gifted and upright gentleman, but on the plea that "the Union Club was not founded or run for actors." There was no pretense that Mr. Florence was personally objectionable to any member of the club; that he was tainted with any social scandal, but the drawling, dawdling dudes declared that they "drew the line at actors," which is in effect a sweeping insult to the whole dramatic profession, if it is possible that anything that a ninny can do or say can be taken as an insult to a profession in which no man can rise high without most superior brains and tireless industry. Probably on the whole roll of the Union Club is not a single man who can match Mr. Florence for the qualities of mind, manner and heart that make a man at once a most delightful and estimable companion. He started with nothing to help him but his Irish genius for comedy. He has in a long career achieved fame, property and hundreds of friends of the highest character, including the late President Arthur, with whom he was for years on terms of most intimate and affectionate companionship.

So the dudes have decided to draw the line at a profession which includes among its dead such men as Garrick, the friend of Doctor Johnson, as Talma, friend of Napoleon, as Kemble and his sister, Sarah Siddons, whom the highest society in England was proud to welcome; as Sheridan, the friend of Burke, as Edmund Kean, John Brougham, Placide and Hackett. How genial old Joe Jefferson will smile when he hears that the dudes and dough boys of the Union Club draw the line at actors. How Miss Kate Field, whose father and mother were actors, and who was herself once a member of the profession, will laugh when she hears that the dudes, the Augustus Fitznoodles, have drawn the line at actors; how it will mortify Ristori, Modjeska and Janauschek to hear that the silly creatures they have smiled at in contempt as professional mashers; chronic loungers at the door of green rooms draw the line at actors. They know that these fellows who "draw the line at actors" in the Union Club are persons that nobody in the profession of any sort of standing or character would associate with under any circumstances, for they recognize them as the idle and infamous gilded calves who spend their lives trying to corrupt some poor chorus girl or impecunious or unfortunate ballet dancer.

Truly, when these insane creatures conclude to draw the line at actors, it is like the harmless insane meeting in council and drawing the line at all people with a well established notoriety for soundness and strength of intellect. It is like those afflicted with the devil in the scriptures bidding the apostles stand off, "for ye trouble us." The New York Graphic ventures to remind these dudes that Shakespeare was an actor, and managed to keep very good company in his day. The Graphic probably correctly measures the intelligence of these fellows "who draw the line at actors" when it considers that this statement will be news to them. Every community has just such creatures. It is the same spirit that made the Southern militia companies drop out of line at Washington rather than parade with a colored company. Some men draw the line at a colored man; some men draw it at a cook. These men belong to the same class with the fellow who asked a friend to furnish him a design for a coat of arms to put on his carriage. "Oh, a jackass and a peacock rampant, with an English pug or poodle couchant, would about suit you," was the reply.

HOME RULE IN AMERICA.

Mr. Robertson, a member of the British house of commons representing a Dundee constituency, a thorough scholar and sound thinker, has recently published a volume on "American Home Rule," which has already attracted great attention and received warm praise from the leading journals of this country, because of the unusually thorough knowledge he displays of the governmental system of the United States. Mr. Robertson is a follower of Gladstone, and his book, in its clear explanation of the success of this government in founding and maintaining an indestructible union of independent states, is a powerful argument in support of the practicability of applying this philosophy of home rule to the British government and its dependencies. Mr. Robertson sets forth with great force that Americans sincerely favor home rule for Ireland because we, having proved its worth for ourselves, are naturally in sympathy with all peoples struggling to attain the same blessing, and of course this sympathy becomes intensified through the fact that Irishmen or men of Irish blood form so considerable a part of our people.

At the last meeting of the G. A. R. department of Iowa, representing 20,000 veteran soldiers, resolutions were passed and telegraphed to Gladstone, saying, "We approve your efforts on behalf of the brave people of Ireland, and extend to you and them our warmest sympathies and best wishes in your great struggle for justice and liberty." Resolutions of this sort are not the mere utterances of politicians seeking to capture the Irish vote. All over the country from East to West the leading men of all trades and professions, lawyers, clergymen, teachers, men of science, literary men and journalists, the men nearest politics as well as those most remote from politics, without distinction, have held enthusiastic meetings and expressed a respectful hope that Ireland might get home rule. When Roscoe Conkling, out of politics, and the venerable Dr. Bartol of the Unitarian church, go out of their way to speak and write their sympathy for Ireland, you may be sure that sympathy for Ireland in America is not manufactured by mere politicians bidding against each other for the Irish vote. Thousands of Americans, who hold cheap politics in contempt, never hold office, never seek office, attend these great home rule meetings, for the good reason, as Mr. Robertson in substance argues, that home rule is the American idea.

Mr. Robertson has visited Portland and this coast and is well known and highly esteemed by many of our citizens. Americans are not in favor of the Henry George theory of land ownership, for which Michael Davitt, alone of the Irish patriots, has shown any sympathy, and one of the best proofs that Editor O'Brien is a shrewd man was his refusal to compromise himself by any association with the Henry George, McGlynn and McMackin trinity of visionaries; he saw that while the American people were for home rule they had no sympathy with the land theory of George or the Phœnix park conspirators.

"We should say," remarks the Philadelphia Inquirer, "that in view of the supreme court of the United States having the power to negative and set aside any act of congress, it would not be well, yet awhile, to put that power in the hands of those who sincerely believe that in the war and afterward the South was right and the North wrong." To this the remark is added that if the democratic party holds the presidency till 1893, this power, in all probability, will be transferred to the South.

Some of the mugwump papers are feeling uneasy because the administration, which had promised a non-partisan civil service, has made it almost wholly democratic; and so, that they may not be put to utter confusion, they are begging the president not to make any more changes for merely partisan reasons, but to leave some few republicans in office, just to give the mugwumps a chance to say that the administration has given the country reform. The Boston Herald says: "There are democrats enough in office at present. The next good departure would be to stop making changes at all for political causes." The mugwump position is sorrowful, indeed. Of course the changes will not stop. By the end of President Cleveland's term there will be no republican in official place. There are extremely few now. Of this, republicans who themselves were wont to monopolize the offices, have no right to complain. But it makes a sad situation for the mugwump, who is compelled to call this complete transfer of the offices from one party to the other, "civil service reform."

A demand comes from the tobacco-growing states for the repeal of the federal tax on tobacco, and from the whisky-producing states for repeal of the federal tax on whisky. In this last demand most prohibitionists join, alleging that the government, by exacting this tax, "legalizes and maintains the infernal liquor traffic." It is not our purpose here to make any remarks on this singular logic; what we want to say just now is that the taxes on tobacco and liquors should be maintained, and the money used on our rivers and harbors and other necessary public works.

A New York paper says that the only connection between the great mansions of the rich and the wretched tenements of the poor in that city is the sewer. This they all use in common. "Channels of love, respect, pity or friendliness between them there are, generally speaking, none; but there is a hidden pipe which may, if the circumstances are favorable, convey to the luxurious home of Dives the fatal disease which originated in the den where Lazarus and his children huddle."

Messrs. Schuyler, Kapus and Ladd, committee of the board of trade, will render a report upon their visit to the Cœur d'Alene mining district at the regular meeting of the board next Monday evening.

GOV. PENNOYER REVIEWED.

Helena (Montana) Herald.

THE OREGONIAN of May 26 gives an address on the tariff, delivered before the granger organization at Salem on the 24th by Gov. Pennoyer. While the address pretends to treat the question as purely an industrial one, it is too apparent that its object was political and the line of argument employed is of the cheapest sophistical sort that does little credit to the speaker or his hearers.

The basis of his argument is the following, from the figures of the last census: "The values of all the farm lands in the United States is $10,197,096,776. The value of farm products $2,213,402,564. The capital invested in manufactures, as given by the same census, is $2,790,272,606, and the value of the products $5,369,579,191." And after giving this startling array of figures the governor exclaims triumphantly: "There, farmers, you have the result of the class legislation of congress. With more than ten billions of dollars invested in agriculture, the yearly products amount to but little more than two billions, while with less than three billions invested in manufacture the yearly products largely exceed five billions."

If these figures are correct in any such sense as the governor would have us believe, any sensible man would say that if the tariff can work such wonders, can produce such enormous results from such small investments, it is a better thing than its most enthusiastic friends ever claimed for it. The ten billions invested in farms had all better be put into manufactures, and the product, instead of two billions, would be twenty billions. There is no law preventing any man from selling his farm and investing the proceeds in manufactures, and if it is true that the same capital invested in manufactures pays three times as much as when invested in farm lands, then we are very sure there would be more capital thus invested, for sensible men will invest in that which will pay the best.

But the chief fallacy of the governor's argument, as it will strike the most careless observer, is that manufacturing grows its products in the same way that the earth produces its harvests; that is, that a cotton or woolen mill grows its fabrics as the farmer grows a crop of corn or wheat. Now the fact is, as every child knows, that manufacturers work mainly upon the raw productions of agriculture. The farmer grows cotton, raises wool, etc., and the manufacturer buys it, adds skilled, manual and mechanical labor and furnishes a product ready for use and consumption. To ascertain the proper product of manufacture, we must of course deduct the cost of raw material used. What Governor Pennoyer gives as the product of manufactures includes the product of the farmer as it first went into the manufacturer's hands. Such a piece of dense ignorance or transparent misrepresentation is hardly deserving of serious consideration or criticism.

But admitting that the governor was not considering the interests of the whole country and the advantage of saving the greater profit that comes from manufactures over raising raw material for other nations to manufacture and that he was only looking to the single interest of the farmer class, how stands his argument? Suppose all tariffs were abolished so that the farmer could buy his supplies and all his manufactured articles abroad in the cheapest market of foreign pauper labor. Of course, home manufacture would cease and that market for the farmers' raw material would be cut off, the greatest and best that he has now. In addition, all those now engaged in manufacturing would have to go to farming. Suppose, as the necessary result, the farm products were doubled and half or more of the market for raw material were cut off, what would be the probable result to the farmer? Would he be any more prosperous and contented in such a condition of things? Possibly for a time he might get a few things cheaper; even of this there would be no assurance, but it is absolutely certain that with his scantier income from glutted markets, he would have the means to buy less of the cheaper articles than he had before. Of what use to him would be his full barns and bins, if he could find no market for all his superfluity?

The farmers of the United States are as much and as directly interested in building up manufactures as any class of our population and it does not take a high order of intelligence to see it.

Americans Getting on in Europe.

Omaha World.

Queen Victoria (at the last drawing-room)—And so you are from the country called America?

American Girl—I am from the United States, your majesty.

"What a funny name it is. I have been much interested in your people lately, but I don't think I would like to live among them.

"We think the United States is about as near perfection as any country can be."

"I suppose so, but seems to me it must be very dangerous. I don't wonder so many of you stay in Europe. By the way, my dear, if you will accompany me next Thursday you will have an opportunity of seeing some of your countrymen, though I suppose you see them often."

"I know only my near relatives here. Is it a garden party?"

"Not exactly. The president of your country, Mr. Buffalo William, is going to give me another entertainment."

DIED.

In this city, June 8, Mrs. Sarah Feaster, wife of J. H. Feaster, aged 51 years, 1 month and 11 days.

Funeral will take place from the residence, corner Corbett and Meade streets, to-morrow morning, June 10, at 10 o'clock. Friends of the family invited to attend.

FUNERAL NOTICE.

The funeral services of the late John Scheurer will take place at the residence of the family, 247 Eighth street, at 10 o'clock this morning. A special boat will leave foot of Alder street at 10:30 for Butteville, where burial will take place. Friends of the family invited.

MEETING NOTICE.

Knights Kadosh.—There will be a special meeting of Multnomah Council of Kadosh this Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Business of importance. By order,
GEO. E. WITHINGTON, Com.
B. G. WHITEHOUSE, Rec.

R. H. SCHWAB & BRO., Leading Printers,
LOWEST PRICES. 5 WASHINGTON ST.

NEW TO-DAY.

PIANOS WILEY B. ALLEN'S Music Store, 211 First st., Portland, Or. Largest stock; catalogs free. ORGANS

THE BEST SPRING MEDICINE OREGON BLOOD PURIFIER.

Next Excursion to Yaquina.

Steamer "Bentley" leaves Morrison street wharf at 1 o'clock P. M. FRIDAY, June 17th, 1887. Connects at Albany with O. P. R. train. Tickets for round trip only $6, including meals on steamer, good to return till Aug. 1st, for sale by E. Oldendorff & Co., 50 First st. 9jtd

J. Selling & Co.
CORNER FIRST & TAYLOR STS.
Offer the Largest Selection in Ladies' and Children's Ready-Made Dresses
In all colors and Latest Styles, at Extremely Low Prices!
We invite inspection. No trouble to show goods.
BLACK SILK DRESSES,
Pleated skirt, trimmed with jet on side pleat and collar and cuffs, $25.

NEW TO-DAY.

THERE IS NO USE OF TELLING BIG STORIES about Sellwood. Its success is phenomenal for it is the only place where a man of moderate means can GET A HOME near Portland and be able to keep up his payments; $10 per month, with no interest on deferred payments, takes the best location. For particulars, see F. C. GOODIN, 170 First st 1t

WANTED—A LIVE CLERK. ADDRESS S G, care Oregonian 9j1

NEW PIANOS FOR RENT AT KOHLER & CHASE'S, 71 Morrison st.

WANTED—A GIRL FOR GENERAL HOUSE work. Apply from 8 to 12 M at 229 Salmon 1t

BERGER & BOCK, HOUSE-PAINTERS AND kalsominers, dealers in mixed paints and wall paper. 49 Ash st. [illegible]

WANTED—A GIRL TO ASSIST IN LIGHT housework. Inquire at 9 South Third st, bet College and Lincoln 1t

MRS. GRELLE & MRS RILEY'S CHICK RESTaurant and Coffee House will be found on Stark st, bet First and Second 9j1m

WANTED—A GIRL TO ASSIST IN GENERAL housework in small family; wages $10 per month Apply at 355 Twelfth st 1t

FOR RENT—WITH BOARD, TWO NICELY FURnished rooms, en suite or single; pleasant location, Cor. Twelfth and Washington sts 1t

FOR SALE—THREE ACRES ON BASE LINE road inside city limits; price $3200. Call or address W. E. NEWSOME, East Meade st 9j3t

LADIES DERBY KID GLOVES, SIX BUTTONS, $1 00 pair; also good quality kid gloves 75c and $1 per pair, at D. PORTER & CO'S, 147 Third st

LOST—A POCKET BOOK CONTAINING LETters and papers of great value to owner. Return to H F P, 223 First st, and receive $5 reward 9j3

ILWACO—FOR SALE, LOT AT SEAVIEW, ADjoining the residence of Messrs. Warren & Steel. Apply to STORY & RUSSELL, 7 Stark st 9j3t

F. W. BALTES & CO., 28 OAK, PRINTERS AND BINDERS.

MEN AND WOMEN CAN CONSULT DR. Forden, free, on all diseases. Rooms 8 and 9, First National Bank. Correspondence answered FINE ESTEY ORGAN AT A BARGAIN. THIS is a chance to buy cheap.

UNCLEMYERS, 153 First st

TO LET—COMFORTABLY FURNISHED HOUSE for $25 a month, including piano and water, to reliable party for summer months. 390 Seventh st. 9j3

TWO GIRLS WANTED—15 OR 16 YEARS OLD; one to do housework in small family and one to learn dressmaking. 166 Ninth st, near Washington

FOR RENT—A COMFORTABLY FURNISHED lodging-house; centrally located.
9j3 R. A. FRAME, 17½ First st

FOR RENT—GOOD HOUSE, THREE BLOCKS from postoffice; 188 East Park st; $30.
9jtf P. W. GILLETTE, 27 Stark st

WANTED—IMMEDIATELY, A COMPETENT dressgoods salesman wanted at 9jtf J. SELLING & CO'S.

DON'T BUY A PIANO TILL YOU HAVE seen the BEAUTIFUL CONOVER at 9jtf PRENTICE'S

CANDIES—SEND A BOX THROUGH STONE to your country cousins and you will be sold there this summer 7j3t

WALLPAPER NEW DESIGNS direct from Eastern factories, Schofield & Morgan, 87 Washington st

MANHOOD LOST, PERMANAnently restored by Dr. deFreye, Multnomah block, opposite postoffice 5j1f

CASCADE MINERAL WATER DEPOT, 66 YAMHILL ST.

NOTICE TO DRAUGHTSMEN—A DRAUGHTSman is wanted in the office of Mr. Stokes, Architect, 13½ First st; wages paid according to ability 9j5

TRUNKS AND VALISES Exclusively. L. SILBERSTEIN & CO, opp. Esmond

THURSDAY FOR A BREAKFAST lunch or dinner the seeker for good things should go to the New York

I WANT FIRST-CLASS WAIST AND SKIRT makers; yearly agreements and higher wages than paid elsewhere. Call or address H. E. LITT, Third and Alder sts

CARPET SWEEPERS 10 DIFFERent kinds, Latest Improved. Warranted for two years. Brush Factory, Fourth and Morrison sts.

NEAR THE LINE OF THE ELECTRIC RAILway, Sixteenth to Twentieth st, 31 lots in Kenworthy's Addition for sale. J. G. WARNER, corner Seventeenth and I sts, East Portland 9j1f

THE CHEAPEST AND BEST PLACE IN TOWN to buy your millinery and get your dressmaking done, is the Mikado; don't forget it; 104½ Morrison st 30 1m MRS. SWIFT, Manager.

SALOON IN FIRST-CLASS LOCALity. For sale on easy terms; or will trade for real estate; sound reasons for selling.
9j3 J. FRED CLARK & CO. 13 Stark st

LOST—TUESDAY MORNING, ON FRONT ST. bet Washington and Ash, or on First st, bet Ash and [illegible], a lease for a storeroom and warehouse. A suitable reward for the return of it at the Oregonian office 9j1

STRAYED FROM ALBINA—TWO COWS AND two calves; one cow black and white, rope round horns; the other red and white Jersey. Anyone returning the same to DALGLEISH & FRASER, Albina, will be rewarded 9j2

IMPORTED SWISS CHEESE, CREAM, LIMBURger and Roquefort Cheese; Sauer Kraut, German Pickles, Braunschweig Herrings, Kosher Smoked Meat, Tongues, Sausages, Fancy Delicacies and Groceries.
MRS. M. BAUM, 86 Morrison st.

GOOD OPENING FOR DOCTOR AND DRUGgist—The [illegible] Drug Store at Marshfield, Coos Bay, Or., is for sale by assignee. Stock inventories over $2600. From $1000 to $1500 will probably secure. Bids wanted. Address W. B. CURTIS, Assignee, Marshfield, Or 9j7

INFORMATION WANTED OF THE WHEREabouts of Franz Ernst Schmidt, whose last letter to his relatives in Frankfurt-an-der-Oder, Germany, was dated September 17, 1885, Mariners Home Portland, Or. Address C. V. WINTZINGERODE, Secretary German Aid Society, 231 First st, Portland, Or

FOR SALE ON CRICKET GROUND, South Portland, 100 feet square, $1800; 50x100 feet, $[illegible]; 50x50 feet, $700; 50x[illegible], $[illegible]; 75x100 feet, with five-room cottage, $2500; also 100x75 feet, Terwilliger's claim, $1200; 100x100 feet, seven-room house, Stephens Addition, $2500.
9jtf I. V. ALLEN, 2 Washington st

OFFICE OF THE CITY WATER WORKS, May [illegible], 1887.
WATER CONSUMERS ARE HEREBY NOTIfied that all water rates are payable at the office of the City Water Works IN ADVANCE on the 1st day of each month, and if not paid within ten days thereafter the water will be shut off until payment of the amount due with fifty cents in addition for shutting off and turning on the water.
I. W. SMITH, Superintendent.

BERRY RANCH FOR SALE—FIFTEEN ACRES near Mount Tabor; all in cultivation; three acres in choice varieties of prunes, plums, apples and pears; three acres in strawberries; two in black and raspberries; one in clover, balance planted to potatoes and other vegetables; good cistern and barn; four roomed new house; must be sold at once on account of failing health of owner, and is offered for $2250—$1000 cash, balance in three years; nothing can be had in the same vicinity for less than double this price; if you want a rare bargain, call at once.
A. H. LOGAN, Corner I and Fourth sts, East Portland

BELMONT PARK THE RESIDENTS on Mount Tabor laugh at MALARIA. No case has ever been known to originate on that most healthful of buttes. Hundreds have been cured by temporary residence there. It is not the MALARIA inhaled during the hours of active business life that kills. It is malaria absorbed during the hours of rest. Slavan, the Panama contractor, anchored his men three miles at sea every night and saved their lives whilst DEATH RAN RIOT amongst the ashore. When in the summer months the residents of Portland fly to the seaside or elsewhere the people at MOUNT TABOR enjoy their fruits and flowers and an Italian summer, and laugh at the fears of Portlanders, and THANK GOD that they do not have to desert their homes, since THERE IS NO MALARIA ON MOUNT TABOR.
J. FRED CLARK & CO, 13 Stark st.

UMBRELLAS REPAIRED At S. HARRIS & CO'S 49 First st.

[illegible] and Type Writing
Taught at the Portland Business College, Second and Yamhill streets, day and evening throughout the year. Full course $50. ARMSTRONG and WESCO, Prop'rs.

JEWETT'S
REFRIGERATORS AND ICE CHESTS, BABY CARRIAGES
—AND—
ICE CREAM FREEZERS,
At Ackerman's.

This Morning after 9 o'clock
Ladies' Black and Colored Silk Hose, Regular Price $1 [illegible] a pair, at [illegible]
No more than 3 pair to any one purchaser.
HOSIERY DEPARTMENT.
UNTIL SOLD.
EVERY JACKET,
EVERY WRAP,
EVERY ULSTER,
WILL BE SACRIFICED
In Order to Close This Season's Stock.
TAKE ELEVATOR.
SAMPLE GARMENTS
Displayed in Corner Window.
S. Lipman & Co.

BOOTS and SHOES.
WM. GRAY & SONS
169 FIRST STREET
Are retiring from business and offer their entire stock
FOR SALE AT COST!

NEW TO-DAY.

THE ODD FELLOWS'
LIBRARY ASSOCIATION WILL GIVE A Grand Excursion
—TO—Columbia Grove
AND RETURN,
On Saturday, June 11th.

The STEAMSHIP ALASKAN having been chartered for the occasion, will leave Ash St. Wharf at 2 o'clock P. M., returning in the evening.

Refreshments will be served on the boat and grounds at reasonable rates.

Music for the occasion will be furnished by the Dodsworth Brass Band and Parsons' String Band.

TICKETS for the Round Trip, One Dollar. Children from 5 to 12 years, Fifty Cents.
je1-5-8-9-10-11

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON
EUGENE CITY, OREGON.
PROGRAMME,
Commencement Exercises.

Sunday, June 12.
10 A. M.—Baccalaureate Sermon, by the Rev. John W. Sellwood, of East Portland.
Tuesday, June 14.
10 A. M.—Address before the Literary Societies, by Hon. John H. Mitchell, of Portland.
Evening—Reunion of Literary Societies.
10 A. M.—Planting Class Tree.
Afternoon 3 o'clock—Alumni exercises.
Wednesday, June 15,
Evening 7:30—Address before the University, by Hon. Roger S. Greene, of Washington Territory.
Thursday, June 16.
A. M.—Annual meeting of the Board of Regents.
10 A. M.—Graduating exercises.
Afternoon—Alumni dinner. 9j3

DON'T MISS IT!
THE GRAND
MOONLIGHT EXCURSION
—OF THE—
Grand Army Hall Association,
UP THE COLUMBIA AND RETURN!
ON FRIDAY EV'G, June 10, 1887.

Two magnificent river Steamers and Barge will leave Ash street dock at 8:30 P M sharp stopping at [illegible] wharf, East Portland, each way. PARSONS & BRAY'S FULL BRASS AND STRING BAND for DANCING.

Tickets for Gentleman and Lady ... $1 00
Single Tickets, for ladies only ... 50
May be obtained from any of the comrades.

Positive Sale!
Every Article Must Go!
Choice Goods at Extra Low Prices. Best Stock and Choicest Patterns of Embroideries in the City.
F. STEINHARDT,
Third and Morrison Streets.

SPECIAL AUCTION SALE
—OF—
RESTAURANT FIXTURES.
We will sell by auction, at No. 128 First st., between Washington and Alder, on THURSDAY, June 9, at 10 o'clock, the Fittings of Restaurant.
GILMAN & CO., Auctioneers.

NEW MARKET THEATER
GREAT ENTHUSIASM AND OVATION EVERY NIGHT TO THE EMINENT TRAGEDIAN, FR'K WARDE
Supported by his own company.
TO-NIGHT (THURSDAY)
RICHARD III.
Friday ... Julius Cæsar
SATURDAY MATINEE ... Double Comedy Bill
Saturday Night ... Galba
Seats now on sale.

NEW MARKET THEATER
Commencing Monday, June 13th,
I. W. BAIRD'S
Mammoth Minstrels!
THE ORIGINAL BIG SHOW.
Reserve seats on sale Saturday morning at Prentice's music store.

NEW HOME
Sewing Machine Co.,
46 Morrison st.

AUCTION AND COMMISSION.
DAVIS, HABER & CO.,
Auctioneers and Commission Merchants,
211 Pine St., San Francisco, Cal.
ANNOUNCEMENT.
We will sell at PUBLIC AUCTION, for two days only, three times daily,
10 A. M., 2 and 8 P. M.,
In lots to suit,
Commencing WEDNESDAY morning and continuing for ten days only,
The Entire Stock of Well Selected
Fancy Goods,
Ladies' Furnishing Goods
Etc., of the late bankrupt firm of
L. J. HARTMAN & CO.,
At their late store, corner of Washington and Third streets.
We will positively ship all goods remaining the 19th inst. to our salesrooms in San Francisco. The sale is positive. We recommend an early attendance. This sale will afford an excellent opportunity to the ladies of Portland and vicinity. Terms cash.
DAVIS, HABER & CO., Auctioneers.

S. L. N. GILMAN.
GILMAN & CO.,
Auctioneers and Commission Merchants, No. 42 First St., Bet. Pine and Ash.
AUCTION SALES of Real Estate, Furniture, General Merchandise, Horses, Cattle, Buggies, etc. Regular days—Tuesday & Friday at 10 o'clock A.M.

REGULAR AUCTION SALE
—OF—
HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE
We will sell at Salesroom, No. 42 First,
FRIDAY, JUNE 10, at 10 A.M.
Elegant Parlor Suits, Lounges and Bedroom Sets, Center Tables, Carpets, Glassware, Crockery &c. Also, BUGGY and HARNESS.
GILMAN & CO., Auctioneers.

A. B. RICHARDSON,
AUCTIONEER—Office No. 13 Washington St.

Southern Portland.

Southern Portland is the most desirable [illegible] the west side of the Willamette [illegible].
Because the land is all [illegible] and of [illegible] suitable undulation [illegible] the [illegible] ready to build on. It [illegible] yard from the city [illegible] the property; [illegible] daily from the [illegible] there; the [illegible] each way every day [illegible] road is located on the [illegible] lamette Valley Railroad [illegible] station and terminal [illegible] building will be commenced [illegible].
This is the only level and cheap suburban land available for the future growth of the city; and lastly, the owners have put the prices and terms so low as to be within the reach of all.
FOR A LIMITED TIME [illegible] undersigned, on cheap and [illegible] terms.
Lots are 50 by 100 feet, and [illegible] part cash and balance [illegible] ments. That these [illegible] there can be no question [illegible] vestment this is an opportunity [illegible]
I will take pleasure in [illegible] ing any information to [illegible].
A. E. BORTHWICK, Agent,
133½ First st., cor. Alder.

Established 1857.
J. C. CARSON,
Manufacturer of and Dealer in
Sash, Doors, Blinds, Window and Plate Glass and General Building Supplies.
Estimates and Price Lists on application. Country orders a specialty.
Factory and Salesroom, Weidler's Mill.
Telephone No. 136.

Business College
2d and Yamhill Sts., A. P. Armstrong, Prin. Private and class instruction day and evening in Arithmetic, Writing, Correspondence, Business Forms, Bookkeeping, Banking, Shorthand, Type-Writing, etc. Catalogues free.
Pen work of all kinds executed to order.

DIAMONDS
New York Jewelry Co,
107 FIRST STREET, PORTLAND, OR.

MEDICAL DEPARTMENT
University of California.
THE REGULAR COURSE OF LECTURES will commence June 1st, 1887. For [illegible]
R A McLEAN, M D, Dean, [illegible] San Francisco, Cal.

ter 9 o'c'k

ar Price $1 50 a pair, at 73c,
any one purchaser.
SIERY DEPARTMENT.

CKET,
RAP, LSTER,

is Season's Stock,

TAKE ELEVATOR,

Lihman & Co.

& SONS TREET offer their entire stock
T COST!

AUCTION AND COMMISSION.

DAVIS, HABER & CO.,
ctioneers and Commission Merchants,
211 Pine St., San Francisco, Cal.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

ill sell at PUBLIC AUCTION, for ten days only, three times daily,
10 A. M., 2 and 8 P. M.,
In lots to suit,
encing WEDNESDAY morning and continuing for ten days only,
Entire Stock of Well Selected
Fancy Goods,
ies' Furnishing Goods
Etc., of the late bankrupt firm of
J. HARTMAN & CO.,
ir late store, corner of Washington and Third streets.

We will positively ship all goods remaining after h inst. to our salesrooms in San Francisco. This [illegible] We recommend an early attendance. Sale will afford an excellent opportunity to the f Portland and vicinity. Terms cash
DAVIS, HABER & CO., Auctioneers.

S. L. N. GILMAN.
GILMAN & CO.,
oneers and Commission Merchants
No. 42 FIRST ST., BET. PINE AND ASH.
TION SALES of Real Estate, Furniture, General andise, Horses, Cattle, Buggies, etc. Regular sale Tuesday & Fridays at 10 o'clock A. M.

EGULAR AUCTION SALE
—OF—
USEHOLD FURNITURE
We will sell at Salesroom No. 42 First s.,
FRIDAY, JUNE 10, at 10 A. M.
Parlor Suits, Lounges and Bedroom Sets, er Tables, Carpets, Glassware, Crockery etc. ALSO BUGGY and HARNESS.
GILMAN & CO., Auctioneers.

A. B. RICHARDSON,
CTIONEER—Office No 13 Washington St.

Southern Portland.

[illegible] most desirably suburb on [illegible] Why? [illegible] with [illegible] and all graded [illegible] through [illegible] [illegible] the main road runs through [illegible] from the Red House [illegible] every day [illegible] Portland & Willamette Valley Railroad Company have located a [illegible] and terminal buildings on the property and will be commenced forthwith is the only level and cheap suburb and available for the future growth of y, and lastly, the owners have put the and terms so low as to be within the

A LIMITED TIME lots are offered by the [illegible] cheap and liberal terms [illegible] and are sold for cash or on [illegible] on time payable in installments [illegible] will rapidly enhance in value [illegible] this an opportunity to purchase property [illegible] take pleasure in showing the property or giving information to intending purchasers.

E. BORTHWICK, Agent,
133½ First st., cor. Alder.

Established 1857.
J. C. CARSON,
Manufacturer of and Dealer in
, Doors, Blinds, Window and Plate Glass and General Building Supplies.
ates and Price Lists on application. Country orders a specialty.
tory and Salesroom, Weidler's Mill.
Telephone No. 436.

Business College
d Yamhill Sts., A. P. Armstrong Prin
e and class instruction, [illegible] Bookkeeping, Correspondence, Shorthand, Type Writing, etc. [illegible] en work of all kinds executed to order.

AVONDS
New York Jewelry Co.,
FIRST STREET, PORTLAND, OR.

EDICAL DEPARTMENT.
iversity of California.
REGULAR COURSE [illegible]
LEAN, M. D., Dean, 30 Merchant [illegible]
co, Cal.

The Oregonian.

PORTLAND, THURSDAY JUNE, 9, 1887.

U. S. SIGNAL SERVICE WEATHER REPORT.

Local Report.

PORTLAND, June 8 6 49 P. M.

Time	Bar.	Ther.	Rel Hum	Direc of wind.	Veloc of wind	Rain.	W'hr
4 A. M	30 035	47 9	68	Calm	0	.01	Clody
12 M	30 042	54 0	54	NW	5	00	Clear
8 P M	29 971	70 6	33	NW	7	00	Clody

Maximum thermometer, 75.0, minimum, 45 4
Height of river at 11 A. M., (Pacific coast time) 21 feet.
Mean daily temperature for 15 years, 61 7 for [illegible] departure, —0 7 Temperature constant [illegible] March 1, —6 6, temperature constant since June 1 —2 5

Place of Observation.	Hig't of Bar	Ch'ge last 8 hours	Ther	Wind direction.	R'n fall inch	State of W'hr
Portland	29 87	—07	71	NW	00	Clody
[illegible]	29 88	—04	64	N	.00	Clody
Roseburg	29 92	00	60	NW	00	Fair
Red Bluff	29 83	—09	80	S	00	Clody
Sacramento	29 85	—04	72	SW	00	Clody
Spokane	29 86	—16	68	NE	00	Clody
Walla Walla	29 93	—03	62	N	00	Fair
[illegible]	29 92	00	60	SW	03	Fair

OVERLAND PASSENGERS.

Passed Heron to arrive over the Northern Pacific: John Diamond, W. M. Corker, Thos [illegible], L. Bowen, J. Emmons and wife, C. [illegible], W. Smith and daughter, Thos. Evans, [illegible] Randall and wife, R. R. Thompkins and [illegible] E A. Paterson and fifteen immigrants.

Passed Medford to arrive over the O. & C.: [illegible] G. Avery, Miss Avery, Miss Tracy, Miss [illegible], L. Levin and wife, T. J. Hyde, Mrs. [illegible] Snell, Miss A. C. Snell, Miss Roberts, [illegible], Mr. Crosby and wife, Walter Laugh, [illegible] Morris, M G. Hartman, Miss E. Hill, Mrs. [illegible], Mr. Jacobs, W. F. Herrin, wife and [illegible] children, C. J. Goodall and family of five, [illegible] and wife, N T. Mathey, Miss Teasley, [illegible] Miller and two sons, and ten immigrants.

REAL ESTATE TRANSACTIONS.

[illegible] Sitton and wife to Martha L Conner, 23 [illegible] city, November 13 1886, $1.
[illegible] same, east ½ lots 6, 7, blk 181, Couch, [illegible] $1.20.
[illegible] and wife to J. G. Richardson, 50x [illegible] A. Carruthers, January 27, 1887, $850
[illegible] and wife to Edward Croft, lot 7, blk [illegible] May [illegible] $2000.
[illegible] and wife to Van B DeLashmutt, 32 [illegible] blk 123 E. P., June 1, 1887, $3000.
[illegible] George Flavel, lot 1, blk 14, lots 2, [illegible] City View park, E. P., September [illegible] to H. I Hall, lot 9, Mountain [illegible] May 13, 1887 $300.
[illegible] and wife to Mary Ann Reed, lot 3, blk [illegible] June 7, 1887, $300.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

PROHIBITIONISTS AND THE CITY ELECTION —Last evening a meeting of the friends of temperance was held in the W. C. T. U. hall to inquire as to the best plan to adopt in the coming city election. The meeting was called to order by C. Austin, who moved to elect C. J. Ward as chairman. Mr. Ward stated the object of the meeting, and invited discussion on the subject. The chairman stated that it was his opinion that the prohibition party held the balance of power in the city, and that the best plan would be to demand of the old parties the nomination of good, responsible candidates who could be endorsed by the temperance people, and suggested that a committee be appointed to confer with the leading politicians of both parties, demanding the nomination of such candidates as the temperance party could endorse. On motion of Mr Austin the chairman was instructed to appoint such committee. George Johnson, C Austin and John Campbell were appointed as said committee, with instructions to request that the other parties make their nominations in time to endorse said candidates, or make new ones. The meeting then adjourned to meet again on Friday evening, June 17.

THE SEATTLE TOURNAMENT.—The championship banner of the Sportsmen's Association of the Northwest won at the last annual shoot by the Multnomah Rod and Gun Club, was displayed at Hudson's yesterday to give the boys a chance to take what may be a farewell look at it, as it goes to Seattle to-day to be contested for on Friday by a team of three men from each club in the association. It is rather a handsome banner of satin with a horseshoe enclosing the monogram of the association and the words "Champion Team" embroidered on one side and a game cock on the other. Several of the Walla Walla delegates en route for the tournament at Seattle arrived here yesterday, and more will be down to-day. The following sportsmen from this city will leave for Seattle to-day: Moore, Hudson, Evans, Rautt, Bills, Riley and Capt Sam Douglass. If they don't bring that banner back they had better go across the line.

REMARKABLE ACCIDENT.—In regard to the lad who fell from the roadway at Upper Astoria and was supposed to be fatally injured, the Astorian has the following: "When the surgeon visited him last night nearly a cupful of brain had oozed out, and the supposition was that the piece of skull bone had been driven into the brain. Examination, however, yesterday morning, of the scene of the accident, showed where the piece of bone had broken right off and was lying near where the boy fell. It is about one and a half inches wide and two inches long. He must struck a glancing blow, and the piece of broken skull flew out instead of being imbedded in his brain, as at first supposed. The little fellow was able to sit up and talk yesterday, and the doctor now thinks that there is some hope of his recovery."

P & W. V. R. R. ELECTION —The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Portland and Willamette Valley Railway Company took place at its offices yesterday for the election of directors for the ensuing year. The following persons were elected directors: Col Charles F. Crocker, Timothy Hopkins and W. V. Huntington, of San Francisco, and Wm. Reid, F. S. Brandsfee, [illegible] J McDougall and John McCraken. After adjournment of the annual meeting the directors met for the election of officers, when Col. Charles F. Crocker was elected president, Wm Reid first vice-president, Timothy Hopkins second vice president, and [illegible] Wilcox secretary treasurer. At the meeting it was determined to push the work of building into the city with energy

DEATH FROM HEART DISEASE —Yesterday morning Mrs. Sarah Jane Feaster, wife of J. H. Feaster, about 61 years of age, residing on the corner of Corbett and Meade streets, died suddenly from heart disease. The deceased was the mother of the wife of officer James, of the police force, Mrs. Frankie Reed and Mrs. William Davis. Tuesday night Mrs. Feaster was apparently in good health, looking after the wants of her husband, who has been bedridden for the past two years. About 7 o'clock yesterday morning her young daughter rushed into Mrs. James's house adjoining, and stated that her mother was choking. Mrs. James at once went to the aid of her mother and sent a brother for a physician, but before he came Mrs. Feaster had expired.

THE DIVORCE MILL.—In Judge Stearns's court yesterday an order of publication of summons was made in the case of Minnie Rothschild vs. Louis H. Rothschild, it being reported that the whereabouts of the defendant is unknown and that he cannot be found on diligent search. In the Boug case, on motion of Alex. Bernstein, attorney for Mrs. Boug, the decree was ordered opened and Boug directed to pay $15 and costs into court within ten days. As he is reported to have skipped this order in that event will be of little effect. Boug, besides not present in person, was not even represented by his attorneys. Report goes, however, that his legal advisers may settle for him on a financial basis.

THE ADVENT TENT.—The Advent Christian (or Seventh Day) campmeeting, which is in progress in the large tent near the corner of J and Twenty-first streets, this city, is being well attended. Interesting discourses are being delivered daily at 11 A. M., and at 2 30 and 7 30 P. M., concerning the nature and destiny of man, the prophecies relating to the Lord's soon coming, and the necessity of purity of heart and holy living in order to be prepared to meet him in peace. The public are cordially invited to come and hear.

NATIVE SONS OF OREGON.—There will be a special meeting of the Native Sons of Oregon next Monday evening at 8 o'clock, at the council chamber, for the purpose of taking definite action in regard to holding the first annual reunion in this city at the same time the Mechanics' fair is held, which suggestion was made by the board of directors recently. This announcement is made at the request of the executive board.

CONVICTED.—Edward Clayton, the young fellow arrested as a burglar on the job put up by Ben Cockrill, was found guilty yesterday by the jury that tried the case, after they had deliberated about half an hour, retiring at half-past 10 and returning at 11. Clayton will probably ap-

BAIRD'S MINSTRELS.—Next week we are to have I. W. Baird's Mammoth Minstrels at the New Market. It is the largest and best organization he has ever put on the road—two splendid comedians, Cool Burgess and Lew Benedict, several fine singers, plenty of specialty artists and a fine band. Mr. Baird is now a citizen of Portland, owning two farms, the Quimby house and plenty of suburban real estate. He is full of enterprise and doing his share toward the city's prosperity. Apart from the merits of his show, he ought to have packed houses at every performance.

RAISED A RUMPUS —Jimmy Sheridan, "Umbrella Jimmy," was arrested yesterday evening on a warrant from Justice Bushwiler's court by Constable George Ward, for breaking into a Chinese house on Fourth street, between Oak and Stark. Jimmy was on a jam and just turned himself loose. Besides smashing the heathens' windows he broke the knuckles of one of them. Sheridan is at present locked up in the county jail, repenting his folly. He will be brought up for trial to-day.

OIL PORTRAIT.—A very fine oil portrait of Judge Matthew P. Deady, three-quarter length life size, has just been completed by Coggswell and is on exhibition at Gump's. It represents the judge standing erect, his right hand resting in an easy, graceful manner across the body in front with the thumb thrust under the lappel of his coat. The left arm is extended nearly at full length, and the hand touches lightly upon a pile of law books at his side. It is a very fine portrait

A. O. U. W. ELECTION —At a meeting of Hope lodge No 1, A. O U. W., held Tuesday night, the following were elected officers: W. S. Newbury, M. W., J. J. Domes, foreman; John Kiernan, overseer; H. Brown, recorder; W L. Archambeau, financier; John Cotter, receiver; O. B Terry, guide; W. Barker, I. W.; W. Williams, O. W.; E. H. Stolte, trustee.

ACQUITTED —Yesterday afternoon in Justice Bushwiler's court E Hamlin, the house mover, was tried for assault and battery of Poll Tax Collector George V. Smith and acquitted. Smith went to Hamlin's place on East Park and F streets to collect a bill of $14, and instead of getting the money, got into a row. The case has already been fully written up.

A. O. H. ELECTION.—At the annual election of Division No. 3, A. O. H., held at their hall last evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing term: President, P. J. O'Connor; vice president, Michael Dorney; secretary, John E Kelley; financial secretary, P. Hallaran; treasurer, M. O'Leary; sergeant-at-arms, M. Tracy.

To Printers.

Buy the old reliable
Gordon Press,
Made in ten sizes 8x12 and 10x15, by PALMER & REY.

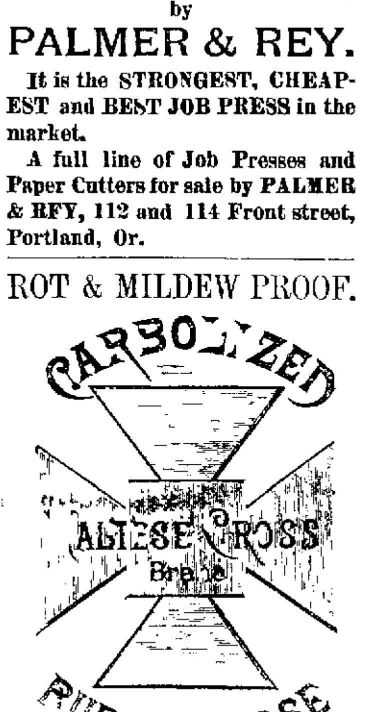
It is the STRONGEST, CHEAPEST and BEST JOB PRESS in the market.

A full line of Job Presses and Paper Cutters for sale by PALMER & REY, 112 and 114 Front street, Portland, Or.

ROT & MILDEW PROOF.



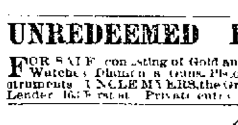
CARBOLIZED
MALTESE CROSS
Brand
RUBBER HOSE
The Gutta Percha & Rubber Mfg Co
68 and 70 Front Street,
Portland, Oregon.

L. C. HENRICHSEN,
Diamonds, Watches, Jewelry
Wholesale and Retail.
Country orders promptly attended to.
149 First Street Portland, Or.

FELDENHEIMER
The Leading Jeweler
Corner First and Morrison.

UNREDEEMED PLEDGES

FOR SALE, consisting of Gold and Silver American Watches, Diamonds, Guns, Pistols and Musical Instruments. UNCLE MYERS, the Great Oregon Money Lender, 165 First st. Private entrance north hallway.



H. B. LITT
Manufacturer of Ladies' Fine Dresses, Largest, finest & most complete Suit House in the U. S. Wedding Dresses a specialty
3d & Alder

T. J. COLBERT,
Wholesale and Retail Dealer in CARPETS
OIL CLOTHS, LINOLEUMS, RUGS, MATS, etc., etc.
Special Attention given to Country Orders.
First and Yamhill sts.........Portland, Or.

BUILDERS' HARDWARE
—AND—
MECHANICS' TOOLS
—AT—
STUBBS & LAWRENCE,
71 First St., near Oak.

TAKE IT
W. PFUNDER'S
OREGON BLOOD PURIFIER.
—CURES—
KIDNEY & LIVER DISEASES, DYSPEPSIA,
PIMPLES, BLOTCHES AND SKIN DISEASES.
HEADACHE, COSTIVENESS

A DISTINGUISHED WOMAN.

Mlle. Rhea, the celebrity of two continents, who has electrified the theater-going people of Portland by her grandly artistic performances during the past week, pays a handsome compliment to a worthy Portland enterprise in the following neat and decisive manner:

To M W Wisdom—Dear Sir: I have tried your Robertine. It is excellent, and I shall be pleased to recommend it to all my lady friends.
Believe me, yours truly, RHEA.

Bankrupt auction sale of $50,000 worth of staple and fancy dry goods, consisting of silks, velvets and plushes and full lines of ladies and children's underwear, full lines table linens, towels napkins, silk and linen handkerchiefs, full lines of ladies and children's hosiery, embroideries, laces and white goods to be closed out for the benefit of the creditors regardless of value, to the highest bidder, at Hartman's old stand, corner Third and Washington streets. Sales commencing sharp at 10 A M and 2 and 8 P M each day until all are disposed of. DAVIS & GEOR, Auctioneers.

THE F. & M. STORE.

In this issue is the column of the Farmers' and Mechanics Store. It behooves all buyers to give it close attention.

Oregon Blood Purifier cures constipation and dyspepsia.

What better do you want than the BARGAINS we now offer in our unequaled stock of Summer Suits
Light Overcoats
Furnishing Goods
Straw Hats,
Etc., Etc., Etc.

This season's business has been a surprise to us, particularly our enormous sales during the past two weeks; but we have used the telegraph lines freely, and now have goods arriving by express every few days. We carried over no goods to speak of from last summer's stock, so all we offer now is New and of the Latest designs. Having been bought for cash, we know that we cannot be undersold.

Special Attention
Is invited to our enormous assortment of Summer Coats and Vests.
A. ROBERTS
The Leading Clothier, Merchant Tailor and Hatter of the Northwest.
135 FIRST STREET COR ALDER.

B. & P.
THE MEN'S FURNISHERS
JUST OPENED
New Line French Balbriggan and Lisle-thread
UNDERWEAR,
Balbriggan and Lisle HOSE.
BUFFUM & PENDLETON
MEN'S FURNISHERS,
153 FIRST ST.

Cheap Excursions.

On and after June 15 the O R & N Co will sell ROUND TRIP EXCURSION tickets from Portland as follows:

SAN FRANCISCO, good 45 days, $30 00
ASTORIA good 6 days 2 50
Lower Cascades good one day 2 00
Vancouver good until used 1 00
Cascade Springs good until September 30 2 25

FOR PARTIES OF TEN OR MORE:
Lower Cascades good one day $1 50
Vancouver, good one day 75
These rates are via the water lines of the company only.

VIA RAIL LINES:
Kansas City or Omaha, good six months 60 00
St Paul or Minneapolis good six months 60 00
These OVERLAND EXCURSION TICKETS can be exchanged so as to allow the purchaser who goes over the Union Pacific to return over the Northern Pacific, or vice versa.

Ticket Office, Ash St. Wharf.
A L MAXWELL Ticket Agent
JNO J BYRNE Gen'l Pass and Ticket Agent

DR. F. W. PREHN.
Graduate of Philadelphia Dental College. Sets of teeth $10 to $15 Filling at eastern prices. Breathe vitalized air for painless extraction of teeth. All work warranted. Room 54 Union Block Stark st.

VITALIZED AIR!
NO PAIN, NO BAD EFFECTS
Breathe It for painless extraction of teeth. Sets of teeth $10 and $15. Filling at eastern prices. Work warranted. DR. CHAS. T. PREHN, Washington street, near First.

NOTICE

To the purchasers of Lots in Paradise Spring Farm addition: The award of houses will be made at the Casino Opera House on Saturday evening, June 11th instead of June 13th, as advertised heretofore.

The Approaching Flood
WILL NOT REACH
Paradise Spring Farm,

Situated as it is one and a half miles east of the Morrison street bridge, where improved lots are being sold for $200, on ten months' time, without interest.

ONLY A FEW LOTS LEFT.
NO POSTPONEMENT!
NO DISAPPOINTMENTS!

Every subscriber receives an improved lot 50x100 feet, and six out of the whole number receive cottages worth $1200 each, without extra charge.

READ THE TESTIMONIALS
Of prominent men who have invested in what is conceded by competent judges to be the best suburban investment ever offered in Multnomah county.

THE RAILWAY FRANCHISE
Has already been awarded to the Morrison Street Bridge Company, and in less than six months you can take a First or Third Street Car and ride continuously to Paradise Spring Farm (including toll on the bridge) for the sum of seven and a half cents.

THE TITLE
To this land is perfect, and purchasers of lots in Paradise Spring Farm are given full possession of the property two days after the drawing regardless of whether they pay up in full or not.

NO MISREPRESENTATIONS!
Everything in connection with this beautiful tract we guarantee to be just as represented in our advertisement or money will be refunded. We will

FORFEIT $5,000
To any charitable institution in the city to be named by the subscribers, in case we fail to finish the houses (now in course of erection) in accordance with our advertisement in The Oregonian. We expect to keep faith with the public, and, furthermore, we intend to do business

AT THE OLD STAND
Long after Paradise Spring Farm has become part and parcel of the thriving city of East Portland, where the voice of the croaker will be forever silenced by the busy hum of machinery.

WHAT THEY SAY.
Opinions of those who have Invested in Paradise Spring Farm.

After personally looking over the tract known as Paradise Spring Farm addition to East Portland I purchased four lots, and found the place as good as represented by Messrs Hennelly Flynn & Co
N GOODMAN Merchant Gervais, Or

Have visited Paradise Spring Farm near East Portland, purchased two lots and found everything as represented in the advertisement of Hennelly Flynn & Co
CHAS N SCOTT,
Receiver Oregonian Railway Co (Limited)

After a personal examination of the tract known as Paradise Spring Farm I purchased one lot and found the place as represented by Hennelly Flynn & Co
R N MONTEITH Astoria Or

Have visited Paradise Spring addition to East Portland, purchased one lot and found everything as represented by Messrs Hennelly Flynn & Co
JAS A WILSON
News Agent East Side train

Have visited Paradise Spring Farm [illegible] Messrs Hennelly Flynn & Co [illegible] as the result of my visit, and believe it to be a good investment.
JOHN DONNELLY
Train Dispatcher The Dalles

After a careful inspection of Paradise Spring Farm addition to East Portland I purchased four lots, and found everything as represented
JOHN HOBSON Collector of Customs Astoria

Have visited Paradise Spring Farm, purchased two lots and found everything as represented in the advertisement of Messrs Hennelly Flynn & Co
W. McGUIRE Poultry Dealer
Cor Third and Morrison sts Portland Or

After a personal examination of the Paradise Spring Farm tract in East Portland I purchased one lot and [illegible] the place to be all that is claimed by Hennelly Flynn & Co
C H HYNES New Northwest office

Having examined the Paradise Spring Farm tract [illegible] lot and found the place fully as good as represented.
JOHN W. DOUBLEDAY
Bookkeeper T J Colbert Portland

After personally looking over Paradise Spring Farm I am fully satisfied that no more favorable opportunity [illegible] for securing a desirable building site in easy reach of Portland and in a beautiful situation could be secured than on the easy terms offered by Messrs Hennelly & Flynn
J F DANGS
Chief Clerk Supt's office O R & N Co

After a personal examination of the tract known as Paradise Spring Farm I purchased one lot and can say that the place is fully as good as represented by Messrs Hennelly Flynn & Co
J P BETTS
Brown & Betts grocers cor First and B sts Portland

OFFICE OF THE WILLAMETTE STEAM MILLS AND LUMBERING CO
Portland Or May 18th 1887
An order for material for six ground floor cottages such as are advertised by Hennelly Flynn & Co on Paradise Spring Farm has been received by us and is now in course of delivery.
WILLAMETTE STEAM MILLS LUMBERING & MFG CO
L M DICKINSON Sec'y

OFFICE OF J C CARSON
STEAM SASH AND DOOR FACTORY
PORTLAND Or May 18th 1887
An order for the sash doors blinds finishing material etc. for six bay window cottages, such as are advertised by Hennelly Flynn Co has been received and is now in course of delivery at Paradise Spring Farm in East Portland
J C CARSON

REMEMBER
That the award of Houses is to be made June 11th, 1887, at the Casino Opera House, regardless of whether another lot is sold or not.
For particulars call on or address

HENNELLY, FLYNN & CO.,
Real Estate, Mining and Stock Brokers,
127½ FIRST STREET
(Over Merchants' National Bank)

KEEN,
Corner Second and Morrison.

CLOTHING AT WHOLESALE PRICES

TROUSER SALE.
Thursday Friday Saturday Three Days Only 300 Pairs Men's Pantaloons
—AT—
$4.10
Per Pair!
DON'T MISS IT NOW!

Don't come next week and ask for Pants at $4.10, because there won't be any left for you. We're going to sell them in these three days.

KEEN'S
TROUSER SALE.
Means a cleaning out. We have too many on hand. $5, 6 and $7 Pants all now $4.10 a pair!
Bring your Cash and take the Trousers.
CORNER WINDOW full of Choice Pants at $4.10 a pair.
LOOK AT THEM!
TALK OF BARGAINS!
THEY ARE STUNNERS!

STRAW HATS!
Fifty cases of Straw Hats, late styles, at
50 cents each!
75 cents each!
$1 00 each!
$1 25 each!

KEEN THE CLOTHIER AND HATTER
COR. 2ND & MORRISON STS.

Seventh Friday
Surprise Sale.
WHITE GOODS
DEPARTMENT
—AT—
THE ??? ???
For our Seventh Friday Surprise Sale we offer
WHITE SATIN BROCADED INDIAN LAWN PLAIDS and CHECKS,
—FOR—
12½c per yard.
TO-MORROW!
FINEST QUALITY.
Sale Begins at 9 A. M. Sharp.

This fabric is well known as one of the best materials for White Dresses, etc.
The quality offered is one of the finest manufactured in imported goods. It is as sheer as the finest Linen Lawn and can be laundried without shrinking being superior to Victoria Lawns in this important respect. The appearance equals best grades India Linens, and is decidedly the best offer in fine goods for this department we can show this season.

HALF USUAL PRICE.
Less than Manufacturers' Cost.
Displayed in Center Window.

First, Second and Taylor Sts.
Entrances direct to any department on all streets
For equal distribution we limit the quantity to each purchaser to not more than twenty yards. This rule must be strictly enforced.

TO-DAY!
CORSET
SALE!
50 doz. 400-bone French Corsets, in Gray and White,
$1.00!
25 doz. 750-bone French Corsets, in Gray and White,
$1.50!
THE 33 Washington St.
L. KATTEN : : : : : Prop'r

New Store and New Goods CONSISTING OF MEN'S Furnishing Goods and Hats.
Choice Selections in Fancy Spring Neckwear, Silk Underwear, Balbriggan Underwear, French Lisle, Thread Underwear, Jerseys and Tourists' Shirts, Fisk, Clark & Flagg's Gloves, E. & W. Collars. Shirts made to order. All celebrated makes of Hats in Every Style and a Hatter in attendance.
NO TROUBLE TO SHOW GOODS
A. B. ??????,
111 First Street.

FOR SALE:
PORTLAND STOCK YARDS.
Located on Blocks 33, 34 and 35, in East Portland, near the Depot. In first-class condition and almost new. Call, or address J. B. Thompson, Rooms 10, 11, First National Bank Building, Portland, Oregon. 20m

MONEY TO LOAN.
The German Savings and Loan Society of San Francisco will make loans for a number of years on city and suburban property and improved farms.
B. GOLDSMITH,
114 First st., Portland, Or.

Extraordinary
Sale
—OF—Colored SHIRTS
STEINBACH'S
CLOTHIERS & HATTERS
COR. FIRST & MORRISON STS.
Two Collars and One Pair Cuffs with each Shirt!

THIS MORNING
June 8th,
FOR ONE WEEK.
LOT NO. 1103, STAPE, at $0.70
" 645, NOBBY 90
" 565, EXTRA 1 25
" 1006, SUPERIOR 1 30
" 1608, XXX FANCY....... 1 50
" 938, EXTRA FINE 1 60

This Sale Closes Saturday, June 11th.

A. B. STEINBACH & CO
THE CLOTHIERS AND HATTERS,
Corner First and Morrison Sts.

The Durand
Organ Co.
OF PORTLAND, OREGON.
Incorporated March 15th, 1883.

This company can furnish you with one of their celebrated Pianos or Organs on very easy payments. Nearly one thousand of these instruments are now in use on the Pacific coast, and the demand for them is increasing.

REMEMBER,
Our Plan for selling Pianos and Organs on installments protects you from any loss if your payments stop.
This company also has a
Savings Bank Dep't
And pays depositors eight per cent. per annum on time deposits of six to twelve months.
Our Office and Warerooms are on First st., Nos. 320 and 322.
Please call on us or address
The Durand Organ Co.
Portland, Oregon.
(Please mention this paper.)

"I have not seen its equal."
Clara Louise Kellogg.
MUSIC DEP'T,
A. L. BANCROFT & CO.,
Sole Agents.
San Francisco,

A. A. NEWBERY LANE C GILMAN W. S. NORMAN
A. A. NEWBERY & CO.
Real Estate and General Agents
SPOKANE FALLS, W. T.
3mdm

KING + KEE
MERCHANT TAILOR.
Suits made to order and clothes repaired. Good work and lowest prices.
90 Second St., cor. Stark, Portland, Or.

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE® NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

NEWS OF THE NORTHWEST.

OREGON

Corvallis flies the bald headed bird of liberty on the coming Fourth

Home seekers are arriving in Baker county in large numbers, says the Democrat.

Hon John W Drew, superintendent of the New England Mining Company of Rye valley, will deliver the Fourth of July oration at Baker City.

A few days ago W. V Price, of Yamhill county, succeeded in capturing a cougar on Coast creek which measured six feet and ten inches

Saturday the Burns school in Harney valley was dismissed for two weeks, on account of the measles prevailing in that locality The disease is in quite a mild form.

Harry Schlosser, the little son of Pete Schlosser, of Albany, while on a visit at Yaquina, had the misfortune to fall from a cliff breaking his arm His injuries are not serious

The Baker City Democrat boastfully exclaims Baker county is rich in her mines, agriculture and unlimited bunchgrass lands Where is there another county with such resources

Says a Harney valley paper We are informed that there is a large tract of high, dry land in this valley that is habitable and well adapted for agricultural purposes that appears upon the maps as [illegible]

Yaquina Post As soon as arrangements now in progress are completed a huge tent will be erected on the Methodist camping grounds near Newport, preparatory to holding an old fashioned campmeeting which will probably be held in July

The annual meeting of the Sunday school workers occurs on the [illegible] in the Presbyterian church at Corvallis Each Sunday school in Benton county is entitled to one delegate, and an additional member for every twenty scholars

The old express ranch on Burnt river, Oregon, located by [illegible] Yates in 18[illegible] and the first cabin between [illegible] and Boise basin where the [illegible] bacon and beans and coffee straight [illegible] drops of lightning elixir to help them on the winding trail to Boise, was sold a few days ago for $5000

A large number of immigrants passed through Burns last week, and we counted as many as ten wagons at one time passing through town, says the Harney Valley Items A great many people of the Northwest coast have just learned of the resources and beauties of Harney valley hence this boom

Pendleton Tribune Sheriff Bentley received word Monday morning from Meacham, that the house of J H Kirby at that place, had been robbed, the burglars taking a lot of provisions and a coat. There is sufficient information in the hands of the officers to insure the capture of the thieves The deed was committed Sunday

FOREST GROVE NOTES

FOREST GROVE, June 7

University catalogues for the coming year will soon be out

The public schools of this place close to-morrow There will be a vacation until September

The present cool weather and occasional showers are greatly beneficial to both farms and gardens

Prof and Mrs Edwards and Miss Adams started East last Saturday, for a visit among friends They will be absent two months

Yesterday Mr Jerome Porter, while returning from the fair grounds, was thrown from his cart, resulting in the dislocating of an ankle joint He will be limping about for some time

Mr W D Wood, a recent graduate of Pacific University, has chosen the profession of medicine and is studying with Dr D W Ward Mr Wood has accepted a position as clerk in Mr Ransom's drug store

The fruit crop here as in most other places, is almost a failure There will be about one-third of a crop of cherries, but apples, plums and pears are almost a total failure Small fruits, except blackberries will be plentiful.

Mrs L [illegible] Walker received a beautiful painting executed by Mr Clyde Cook for finest exhibit of art work in connection with the Pacific University Miss Anna Miner also received an elegant prize for having made the greatest advancement

YAQUINA BAY NOTES

NEWPORT June 7

It is reported here that the coasting schooner Michiel has gone ashore at Siuslaw bay No lives lost damage not known

The steamer Eastern Oregon arrived off the bar this morning forty hours from San Francisco, and will cross in at noon weather fine and bar smooth

Last Sunday and Monday the Newport beach presented a lively appearance The excursionists who came in Saturday were enjoying themselves to the fullest extent

The government works are making good progress They have about thirty five men at work, and will receive iron by to-day's steamer to finish the track laying for rock cars They expect to place rock in about two weeks, when the work will commence in earnest

Real estate transactions are quite numerous and buyers plenty The property on South beach has been put on the market lately, and quite a number of lots have been sold for from $125 to $250 per lot, showing an increase in valuation since last year of nearly 50 per cent

The Oregon Pacific railroad has made a change in time, starting now from Yaquina at 7 o'clock instead of 6 20, arriving at Albany at 11 10, increasing the running time fifty minutes and making schedule time three miles per hour faster than the east side road This makes it much more convenient for the traveling public

The greatest need here now is a good steamboat that can carry at least 100 passengers There is a great deal of complaint by the traveling public at the way they have to go from Yaquina City to Newport If anything of a crowd comes in on the cars they have to take an open scow in tow to accommodate the passengers. There is only one steamer running on the bay now, the Tressa May

The hotel accommodations on the bay are much better this summer than last At Newport the Bay View and Ocean houses have been thoroughly overhauled and improved, adding much to the comfort of guests There are several smaller houses keeping guests at $1 per day The South Beach hotel has been finished and filled with new furniture The Yaquina hotels are well kept Board can be had from $1 to $[illegible] per day Pleasure seekers need fear no inconvenience for want of accommodation, as there have been already this season over 500 people cared for at one time

McMINNVILLE COLLEGE COMMENCEMENT

McMINNVILLE June [illegible]

The commencement exercises of McMinnville Baptist College began on Sunday morning with the baccalaureate sermon at the Baptist church by President Anderson It was an able discourse and listened to by a large congregation Prof Mark Bailey, of the State University, had been invited to preach the sermon in the evening in the interest of ministerial education but was unable to be present. In his absence the sermon on the above subject was preached by Prof W [illegible] Crawford

A considerable part of Monday was spent by the students in trimming and decorating the chapel Their effort was very successful and will add much to the interest and pleasure of the week In the evening at the college chapel, before a large audience, Prof W. D Lyman of Pacific University gave the annual address before the Philergian society of the college The professor introduced the address by reading a paragraph from 'Les Miserables' the masterpiece of Victor Hugo this paragraph being announced as his text. The subject of the address was 'The Motherhood of the Republic' and the treatment was both able and practical It was a strong appeal to the students to be so patriotic as to be true to the republic which holds a mother relation to us all The address was highly appreciated The music of the evening, consisting of [illegible] was worthy of special mention

Tuesday at [illegible] A M the annual educational address was delivered by Hon Raleigh Stott, of Portland He discussed in an effective and practical way some of the defects in the educational work of to-day and suggestions as to their remedy The speaker was listened to with marked attention Many of the residents of McMinnville who ought to take a deeper interest in the college were conspicuous by their absence

WASHINGTON TERRITORY

Ellensburgh has a population of [illegible] males and 400 females

Says a Spokane paper The rain has done the country a large amount of good

The Catholic schools of Walla Walla will close on the 24th for summer vacation

Contractor Hunt has work for 900 more men on the Wallula and Pendleton grade

There are seven sawmills in operation in Kittitas county in a radius of thirty-two miles about Ellensburg

Crops on the sage brush land around Pasco are looking splendid The hay crop is being harvested, and farmers are busy.

Old man Dugan, the father of Mrs. Teller, has mysteriously disappeared, says the Spokane Chronicle. As his disappearance dated from one day prior to the killing of Teller it is a source of much speculation among his neighbors. His wife asserts that she has no knowledge of his whereabouts.

Walla Walla Union During the past six days there has been shipped to the north and east, 402 cases, amounting to 18,000 pounds of strawberries

The wagon bridge in the gap below Yakima City, across the Yakima, is in a critical condition. Yakima county commissioners have men at work to save it.

The snow has gone off on the wagon road on the mountain toward Wenatchee to a great extent, and wagons are crossing every few days, says a Kittitas paper

The report that Sol Reynolds wheat warehouse, on Snake river, at the mouth of the Alpowa, had floated down the river, is an error. The warehouse is safe

Kittitas Localizer The crops in Wenatchee settlement are several weeks ahead of those in this locality, and we have been informed that they look very promising

Black bear are more numerous in the settlements this year than usual, says a Whatcom paper Several have been seen recently along the highways leading into town

Spokane Falls paper The rain seems to have been general and farmers are elated over the crop prospects A gentleman from Deep Creek Falls reports a heavy rainfall in that section Monday night.

The Baccalaureate sermon to the graduates of Whitman college, was delivered Sunday morning at the M E church, by Rev E L Loomis, of Dayton says the Walla Walla Union The church was crowded with an appreciative audience

Maj Thomas McGregor, of Walla Walla, departed for Fort Sherman (formerly Fort Cœur d'Alene) Wednesday He will be attended by the president of the military court and one prisoner, who will be tried by court martial at Fort Sherman

Thursday the body of a Chinaman, supposed to have been in the water for about ten days, was caught at Pennewawa. At the inquest held there it was found that he had been shot through the heart and the skull fractured in two places with a sharp instrument

Walla Walla Statesman It has been stated that the recent rain had thrown down a great amount of standing grain along Dry creek From a gentleman who visited most all of the fields along that stream yesterday it is learned that there is no truth in the report

Columbia W T, Chronicle O O Roe living two miles northeast of town, has 120 acres of corn, which he says is as good a stand as he ever saw in the states, not a hill failing to come up and entirely clear of weeds His is without doubt the largest field of corn in this county

L L Burch the bridge engineer, is at Pasco completing arrangements to finish work on the Columbia river bridge An engine and crew of train men have been placed at his disposal to deliver bridge material, the regular trains on the Cascade branch being too busy to move construction materials

The floods did little damage at Asotin, except to gardens and orchards along the creek Between the footbridge and the river backwater spread the creek to from a quarter to a half mile wide, according to the Sentinel A good deal of soil was washed from the banks of the river and creek

The carcass of a brown bear, weighing about 300 pounds, was brought to town from Wickersham smill Monday morning, says the Walla Walla Journal. One of the employes killed the animal, which was in company with four others in the Mill creek canyon at the time. Bear are uncommonly numerous in that neighborhood

A correspondent writing from Brown, Klickitat county, to the Walla Walla Journal says We have had some very dry and hot weather lately, and grain is suffering badly from the effects—especially spring grain—and if we don't get rain soon grain that looked a week or ten days ago as if it would make twenty or twenty-five bushels per acre, can't possibly make over twelve or fifteen

Walla Walla paper In the Cascade tunnel, 2075 feet from the west portal, the workmen struck rock that is full of fossil leaves, etc. Judge Kennedy is in receipt of specimens, sent him by his son Lincoln, which show perfect impressions of fern leaves Judge Kennedy sent some of the specimens to Prof Condon, the geologist How came the fern leaves in the middle of a high mountain"

The people of Garfield county are much excited over the discovery of a bed of coal on the ranch of Joseph Rafferty, on the Pataha creek above Pataha city If this coal should prove to be of good value as experts think it will, says an exchange not only is the fortune of Mr Rafferty made but our town and county will then boom in earnest. If our people could get fuel without hauling wood thirty miles, and could get living prices for their produce, you would see Garfield county take the lead

The Whatcom Reveille says It is reported that the raging Nooksack is out of its banks at the Crossing In fact, the river is higher now than it was in the winter of 1881, and it is feared that considerable damage will be done to property situated in the low lands of the valley Fraser and Skagit rivers are also higher than has been known for years, and considerable damage will be done to dykes along the outlets of the rivers There is more snow than usual at this time of the year in the mountains, and the recent warm sunshine is producing these unusual floods

FROM SPRAGUE

SPRAGUE June 6

It commenced raining here Friday afternoon and rained at intervals during the afternoon and night Saturday the rain fell steadily all day, causing the farmers and merchants to wear a smile of contentment while a fair crop would have been realized without this rainfall, its presence makes a bountiful crop sure

A full crop this season with good prices will have the effect of an increased acreage next season It will also have a material effect in inducing immigration to flow this way We have no desire to exaggerate facts, neither is it necessary for us to do so in stating that in the Big Bend of the Columbia, comprising Lincoln, Adams and Douglas counties, lies the largest body of farming land in Washington territory, and some of the most prolific Lincoln county, the chief of the three—with Sprague as its distributing point—is further advanced in population and wealth than either Douglas or Adams counties their principal objection at the present time being lack of transportation, but with the completion of the Sprague & Big Bend railroad starting from Sprague and running into Douglas county, touching the Columbia river, thus affording transportation by both water and rail to the markets of the world, it will open to settlement and cultivation a region that will in time be the most populous as a farming district, of any in the territory Time will develop these facts even to-day our county is benefited by the mines along the Salmon river the breadstuff, the hay, grain and feed consumed by those going into the mines, and those located there, are all purchased in this county The farmers will find a ready local market for their surplus produce, at least for the number of producers at the present time so long as these circumstances exist but we must expect increased population among the producers and then we shall have to look to some other than a local market for the absorption of the surplus produce The Sprague & Big Bend railroad will supply the means of carrying this surplus to the main line railroad there to be distributed to all parts of the world On the completion of that road our prediction of the wonderful flow of immigration will be realized

The sheep men throughout Lincoln and Adams counties have about completed shearing their sheep, and have commenced to haul their wool to market. Each day teams may be seen driving into town from every direction, loaded with wool Wm Burrows, a large sheep man living east of town, informs us that the yield of wool this year is large and of a superior quality to that of former years Other sheep men are of the same opinion Mr Burrows sold a band of wethers to a Montana purchaser and we understand the same party made several other purchases here since shearing

The trial of Mrs Langenour for shooting at A W Long, mention of which was made at the time of the occurrence took place before Judge White, of Sprague The testimony as to the shooting was conflicting The defense claimed that Long had his revolver raised and leveled at Mrs Langenour when she shot The prosecution claimed that he did not draw his pistol until after the shooting occurred. However Judge White held Mrs Langenour under $[illegible] bonds to appear before the grand jury, which she promptly furnished

MONTANA

The other night the body of Gus Pelkey was found in a culvert under the railroad track just across Rattlesnake creek, within the town limits of Missoula, with his neck broken and bruises on the face He had been working on the railroad at Bearmouth and was coming home on a freight train and it is supposed he mistook the water near the culvert for the road leading to his home, and jumped off with the intention of saving the walk back from the depot. He was about 40 years old and had been a resident of Missoula since 1864 He leaves a wife and nine children

Helena Herald Tunnel work on the Helena & Butte branch of the Montana Central is progressing favorably This is true as to the big bore of a mile and one-eighth near Wickes, twenty-six miles southwest of Helena, and as to the smaller tunnels at Woodville and Yankee Doodle gulch toward the Butte end Graders at various points along the line have done fairly well during the past week except in the Park section, where work is still to some extent hindered by melting snows and muddy ground Gangs of men have been put to work during the past few days extending from points below Jefferson City to Corbin, where the conditions are all favorable to rapid headway in road making

IDAHO

Weiser will celebrate the Fourth of July in good style

The sheepmen on Sucker creek are now shearing their flocks and getting a good clip of wool

There is trouble among the Piute Indians near Fort Bidwell, on account of a squaw being killed

Graders are now at work on the Nampa branch road at both ends and in various other places along the line

The peach crop in the vicinity of Weiser unless a hard freeze occurs, will be large this season than ever before

The strawberry, gooseberry, blackberry raspberry and current crop promises to be a good one, says a Boise exchange

At Grangeville quite a number of horses are in training for the races over the new track on the coming Fourth of July

A Grangeville paper says From all reports the acreage seeded to grain in these parts exceeds that of any former year

Woods, the brutal wife murderer is attempting to fasten the crime on a cowboy named Carson The defense is a very thin one

Fannie M Palmer has recovered $[illegible] from the Utah Northern railroad for injuries sustained by the killing of her husband on defendant's road

Boise Statesman From a reliable source it is stated that 41,[illegible] acres of land has been taken up near the Oregon Short Line railroad in this county, since May 1, 1886

Grangeville Free Press Cattle on the range are rolling fat It is estimated that from $[illegible] 000 to $[illegible] 000 has changed hands in cattle trading on the prairie since May 1

Says the Avalanche Parties from Jordan valley say that the hay crop will be very light this year owing to the fact that Jordan creek did not overflow its banks this spring

Silver City exchange We hear that a good many stock horses have been missed on the ranges of Squaw, Sucker and Jump creeks, and that it is thought that horse thieves have driven them off

Says the Reno [illegible] Valley Some kind of a disease last winter killed nearly every rabbit in the valley A rabbit is now an uncommon sight Last year they were a nuisance, and could be seen by the thousand

C D Bachelder, of Soldier creek, informs the Avalanche that unless rain comes soon the grass will be very short for cattle next winter and that the loss will be large The grass is drying up as well as the water

The construction of a pack trail direct from Thompson Falls to Libby is delayed by deep snow on the divide, says the Murray Record The nearest trail is now by the way of Vermilion creek, and the distance is reported to be fifty four and a half miles

Says a Murray paper Billy Chambers, who was on Bald mountain on Thursday, says bear and deer are numerous in that region One big black bear had to be driven away from the Golden Dawn cabin in the morning with clubs there being no gun about the premises Deer are daily seen by prospectors

The Union Pacific surveyors have succeeded in finding a good practicable easy grade from the prairie to Salmon river by way of Grave creek The party are now extending the line up Salmon river and will continue on and up the Little Salmon until they connect with Gen Clark's survey from the Weiser

John Connors, of Trout creek, met with an accident by which he came near losing his life While roping a horse the saddle turned and he was pulled off the animal he was riding, and one foot catching in the stirrup, he was dragged a considerable distance When found he had laid in an unconscious state fully three hours,

At Ketchum a few days ago a man named Stevens, a stranger in that vicinity, attempted to commit a criminal assault on the little 5 year old daughter of George Montgomery The villain was not successful in his design The father, in his righteous indignation administered a terrible beating to Stevens, who left town before he could be arrested

Blackfoot Register A robbers rendezvous on Horseshoe creek in the Teton basin has been broken up One of the gang James Robinson resisted arrest and received a shot in the leg from one of the posse making the arrest from the effects of which he died Two other men Ed Harrington and Lon Nickerson surrendered and are now in the Blackfoot jail A coroner's jury exonerated the officer and posse in shooting Robinson A special grand jury is to be summoned to investigate the case of the other men

D C Curley of Custer county, is evidently a bad man if he doesn't hail from Bodie The Record says he paid Salmon City a visit during the week He patronized the saloons freely, and started in to give the town a coat of red paint Armed with pistols and bowie knife he made himself generally obnoxious shooting and threatening to kill Sheriff Kirtley, armed with a rifle started after Curley who had taken to the willows to avoid arrest Several shots were fired at him and a posse of men, armed with rifles guarded his supposed hiding place till midnight

ELECTIONS

Calapooia Lodge, I O O F, of Brownsville, elected the following officers to serve the ensuing term B Cushman N G W D Washburn, V G Geo A Dyson, R S J Arthurs Treas

At a meeting of company B O N G held Saturday evening at Pendleton, presided over by Col James H Raley, the following officers were elected J N Young re-elected captain A L Dart, first lieutenant J A Fee second lieutenant

Seaside lodge No 1 A. O U W, of Astoria, elected officers Saturday evening, as follows M W N Jones foreman, G W Rucker recorder, C Brown financier, S T McKean receiver J hn Bryce guard, A Johnson I W [illegible] Jefferson O W, H A Smith trustee, G W Tucker representatives to grand lodge, [illegible] Brown, S T McKean

At a regular meeting of Albany Engine Co No 1 the following officers were elected C H Stewart, president Joseph Webber, foreman A L Ketchum, secretary J Miller, treasurer Walter Parker financial secretary Henry Seusere first assistant J B Murray, second assistant J B Murray and A L Ketchum were elected delegates to the firemen's tournament

At the regular meeting of the A. O U W lodge at Albany held Monday night, the following officers were elected A Sailor, W M W A McClun F A D Barker, O N J Henton, recorder E A Parker financier A B Woodin, receiver J K Davis, guide M Cowan, J W F M Westfall, O W L Senders, trustee Representatives to grand lodge, A D Barker and A B Woodin

The following officers have been elected by the W C T U convention, just closed President, Mrs Jas Braden, Walla Walla vice presidents, Mrs McCoy of Walla Walla, Mrs W G Preston of Waitsburg, Mrs Ed Ross of Prescott recording secretary, Mrs Gunn, of Walla Walla assistant secretaries, Mrs. Weller, of Waitsburg, Mrs Hill of Walla Walla corresponding secretary, Mrs Foster, of Walla Walla treasurer, Mrs Hays of Waitsburg

A WOMAN SHOT

A DRUNKEN INDIAN'S MURDEROUS ACT NEAR SALMON CITY

Idaho Recorder

Mrs Horace Rood, residing upon a ranch about three quarters of a mile from Salmon City, with her family of four children, was shot by a drunken Indian known as "Charley" The Indian called at the house and wanted Mrs Rood to purchase a pony, and becoming angry at her refusal to do so, broke a window, inserted a gun through the aperture and commenced shooting The first ball struck Mrs Rood in the breast just over the heart plowing its way through the flesh about four inches and lodged in the wall of the room The second shot passed over the head of one of the children, going through the footboard of a bed and a basket of clothes and then struck the wall After the shooting the Indian rode away and two of the boys started to town for medical assistance and related the circumstances of the shooting The report of the outrage created great excitement, and a party of men went to the Indian camp near Rood's force and took eight bucks, seven squaws and a number of papooses prisoners Under threats of immediately hanging the whole tribe the Indians acknowledged that "Charley" did the shooting and had started for his home in Custer county

A meeting of citizens was held the same day when resolutions were adopted pledging the lives means and energies of all to suppress the sale of liquor to Indians. It is generally believed that the Indians obtain liquor from Chinamen, and a committee was appointed to notify the celestials that they would find it to their best interests to keep Indians from their premises and abstain from selling them intoxicating drinks The resolutions were signed by all the prominent men of Salmon City, and any one found selling or giving liquor to Indians will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law

The wound of Mrs. Rood is not a dangerous one Her husband was not at home at the time, being engaged in the butchering business at Dynamo and Leesburg The agent at the Lemhi reservation has been requested to keep the Indians on the agency grounds, as required by law Indian police from the agency have gone to Chehalis to capture "Charley, if possible

FIRE AT LITTLEFIELD.

May D Littlefield, in the Cœur d'Alene country was visited by a fire which destroyed considerable property Carpenter's sawmill and dwelling narrowly escaped destruction and was saved only through the most heroic efforts

The losses were as follows, as near as could be learned John Callahan house $300 Dan Sieger furniture etc $[illegible] John Hitchcock house $[illegible] Mrs Medline house $100 together with some [illegible] on cabin and effects, $[illegible] Schmidt & son stable, $20) The loss to the Idaho [illegible] by the burning of a portion of the flume [illegible] mining that they would estimate at about $[illegible] The California Ditch Company built a big fire to protect their flume and trestle across Butte creek The county bridge across Butte creek was so badly burned that a new one must be put in

The origin of the fire was stated to have been due to the burning some stumps, and that the sparks set the brush above a hundred feet away

There [illegible] many cabins in the line of the fire and that [illegible] of them if not all, have been [illegible] ashes

[illegible] BAY

Yaquina Post

[illegible] at [illegible] of here is having [illegible] Messrs Biddell [illegible] are putting in a cannery at that place the [illegible] steamer [illegible] held [illegible] succeeded [illegible] the schooner [illegible] of the [illegible] on which was loaded the material for the cannery A [illegible] has purchased ground and is now at work clearing it off for the purpose of erecting a large steam sawmill at that place to utilize the abundant cedar and spruce timber to be had in abundance A hotel is needed at that place to accommodate the large number of visitors that frequent the bay during the summer months and the right man would do well and meet no obstacles in erecting and conducting such an institution Nestucca is an attractive little [illegible] and is a very good harbor for small vessels Its future and large [illegible] are hopeful

INCREASE IN BULLION

Boise Statesman

For each month this year the receipts of gold bullion at the government assay office at Boise City have been from three to five times greater than those of the corresponding months last year the extraordinary inducements offered by the government and the satisfactory returns given by the United States assay office here having turned the bullion to this office from mining districts never before reached The receipts for May of this year were [illegible] ounces of gold bullion valued at $[illegible] against [illegible] ounces valued at $[illegible] for May of 1886

MINING CAMPS

Kittitas Localizer Quite a number started from here last week for the Salmon mines

Rich gold mines are reported on Bear river, west coast of Vancouver Island Miners going in by hundreds

According to an exchange the mining outlook for Baker county looks better at the present time than ever before

The Pine creek mines will be quietly worked this year by men who have the necessary experience and means to give them a thorough test

Says the Baker City Reveille [illegible] Roll of Silver creek has stopped operations in his quartz mines for the present on account of surface water

An important discovery of quartz has been made on the McKenzie in Lane county The rock is very rich in gold An assay will be made in Portland

Murray Sun The Badger claim, which gave such magnificent returns last year, and seven eighths of which is now owned by the bank of Murray is being worked with a full force of men

A Whatcom paper says From present indications there will be a general stampede all along the line for the rich gold diggings on Ruby creek in the southeastern part of Whatcom county during the coming summer months

Mr F Parker, engineer of the Schlagel & Cunningham mines says that the machinery will be ready to work in about two weeks This will be a great thing for Douglas county Oregon as the mines are among the richest known on the coast. It is said that these mines are also very extensive

The Yakima Republic says The Goodenough & Thorp Mining company has commenced operations on their mining property on the north side of Mt. Rainier, under the superintendency of Mr Wiggins The outfit is complete, including smelter, assayer and large force of help The company purpose to construct a telegraph line with the outside world

Says the Olympia Transcript About four weeks ago Joe King, an old Hudson's Bay miner who was at work in McMillan's logging camp above Ticknor's prairie on Skookum chuck left the camp on Sunday and was gone about three hours When he returned he brought in about [illegible] cents worth of bright flaxseed gold which he found in a gulch in the foothills He claims he has found good four dollar surface diggings, but as yet refuses to show the place, he not being ready to go to work.

SILVER CREEK MINES

The La Grande Journal of June 4 says Wm Kinsey and Ed Larson, who went up to the Fairview mining district last week to make an investigation of the route and the chance to get a full supply of equipments into the camp, returned the latter part of the week with very encouraging reports They found the snow nearly all gone and everything in fine condition to begin operations at once Accordingly a party of La Grande gentlemen was formed, and on Wednesday, being well equipped with horses provisions and tools, they departed for the scene of the hidden treasures

These mines are situated in the Auburn mountains about twenty miles nearly west of North Powder At present it is necessary to travel the last eight miles over a trail which will be made into a good wagon road at an early day Until then the ore will be carried by pack horses that distance, and from there to North Powder from which place they will do their shipping it will be hauled on wagons

The greatest amount of work thus far has been done on the Silver King, although the other ledges are considered equally as good A tunnel about eighty feet in length has been run in on this ledge which shows a vein three feet eight inches in width

ROCKY BAR

The Elmore mine, since work commenced under the present management, has paid out over $150,000 in dividends says the Ketchum Keystone Taking into consideration the great expense the company has been under in erecting a new mill and other improvements, this showing is a good one The company pays out between $12,000 and $15 000 every month, which adds greatly to the prosperity of the town The Elmore is showing great improvement as work progresses and it will prove itself to be one of the best mines in the territory

IDAHO CAMPS

The Silver City Avalanche of June 4 has the following notes

The Silver Cord mine is now being worked with a force of six or eight men who are extracting good ore a considerable quantity of which may be seen on the dump, which will be hauled in a few days to the mill The boys will run through about 500 tons

The Idle Wilde mine never looked better than at the present time Good ore is in the bottom of the shaft and in the levels both north and south, with considerable on the dump

[illegible] Morning Star mill site on the north [illegible] of Jordan creek, in this town, is being mined out by Chinamen who are making money pretty fast, the ground being rich in gold dust and amalgam

Rich ore is now being extracted from the Fairview [illegible] at Flint As the shaft attains depth the lode grows larger and richer while the ore on the levels is also fair milling About 200 tons of ore is now on the dump that will mill at least $[illegible] per ton while some of it will assay several thousand dollars per ton The water has been lowered in the Rising Star mine, and some of the lower levels have been found to contain large quantities of good milling ore, left by the old Rising Star Company As far as the water has been lowered good ore is in sight all the way down Hoisting works will be placed over the old [illegible] shaft and the mine thoroughly opened The reduction works are about ready to commence reducing ore

The Old Judge and Old Squaw, owned by French & Farmer is looking better than ever and very high grade ore is being extracted, while the mine of Way Greto & Co is showing up one of the richest ore ever found in Flint, some of it being so rich that the silver can be whittled with a knife Lynam & Forest are running a tunnel to cut the Lady Washington near the center, when it is expected to reach a gouge, whereby the ore can be more easily extracted than from the shaft. The lode is large, well defined, and carries good ore.

COST OF RAISING WHEAT AGAIN

MACLEAY, June 5

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

The difference, if any exists, between the expense of a farmer's doing his own work and hiring it done, is a question of interest to a vast majority of your readers I beg, therefore, a short space in THE OREGONIAN to consider some objections which Mr J W Morton, of Hood River, mentions in THE WEEKLY OREGONIAN received to-day, to my idea of that difference, as expressed some two weeks ago

To illustrate I supposed that I had in my pocket $3 with which to pay for plowing two acres of ground I plow one of the acres, and hire the other one plowed I pay $1 50 to the hired man and asked what I must do with the other $1 50 I plowed the other acre, and if it costs $1 50 to plow an acre of land, no matter what the circumstances, then that other $1 50 must be paid out, I presume, to somebody But to whom Surely, if I did the work I am as much entitled to the pay as the hired man was If, then I keep the pay in my pocket, how am I "out anything?

Mr Morton says it is strange I could not see that "if I was out nothing, neither had I made anything Why He places my own work and time on an exact equality with that of the hired man by saying that if I had put myself in my hired man's place, I would see that the time spent in plowing the acre of land was worth $1 50 the amount I put in my pocket Then if I have to be out $1 50 in order to make that much have I really made it or any other sum [illegible] without first spending that amount and in that case how have I made it

An intelligent understanding of this question can only come from a careful consideration of the difference between the cost of an article and its actual worth as represented by the labor required to produce it If I sit by the fire and read your paper [illegible] I have used [illegible] muscles [illegible] in other word I have [illegible] slight extent the same work [illegible] If afterward I chop stovewood half an hour I have worked again if I then go and plow till supper I have done no more except in an extended manner than when I [illegible] simply poured the coffee Manual labor, such as farmers usually perform is neither more nor less than the exercise of the muscles that is all there is primarily of work [illegible] and since it doesn't [illegible] anything to shut your hand or bat your eye, it necessarily follows that you could continue that performance all day free of cost—therefore it doesn't cost a man anything to do a day's work

But, did you ask, isn't it worth something to do a day's work? Oh well that is quite a different thing Whether a day's work is worth anything "depends A thing may cost a great deal more than it is worth, and it may be worth a great deal more than it cost It may cost nothing and be worth a great deal, and it may be worth nothing and cost a great deal While the physical labor required to do a day's work for yourself certainly "costs you nothing, whether it is ever "worth anything to you will be governed by future surrounding circumstances and unforeseen conditions therefore, Mr Morton while my own labor required to plow an acre of land costs me absolutely nothing that very same day's work may be worth a great deal to me Don't you see

Every farmer will admit that it is less expensive to do his own work than to hire it done which is not the case if what I have said be not true Yet Mr Morton's and Mr Allen's idea is that a day's work is a day's work, no matter who does it. What do you say Mr Morton

Each motion of a man's body is as much "work in the sense under consideration now as any other similar motion In walking to the barn after my team I am doing exactly the same kind of work that I do all the afternoon while plowing Now the question is, is your theory correct, that every movement of the muscles runs a man in debt and that he can't bend his elbow without losing money Must a man carry a memorandum book around with him, and every time he walks to the woodshed must he sit down and charge himself with a dollar and six bits and can't he crook the pregnant hinges of his knee without necessarily being on the high road to bankruptcy In short, can't a man follow his plow around for a day without coming out in debt to somebody to the amount of $1 50

Now, in my judgment here is the truth of the whole matter The ability to work is a God given power, and since it cost neither you nor I anything to get it, so it does cost us anything to use it Every workingman arrives at man's estate fully equipped with the power to labor for a lifetime this power is a heritage whose actual value is incomputable in dollars and cents a boundless stock of capital that cost him nothing and [illegible] he is free to use at any and all times free of cost But there his power stops He finds that same power existing in his neighbor and in his hired man but he can't command it like his own without compensation, and right there is where the "cost" comes in [illegible] Here is the difference between hiring your work done and doing it yourself [illegible] the reason, Mr Morton, why, when I [illegible] plowed my acre of land I could put the $1 50 in my pocket See

Yes, I surely meant to say that I raised 1[illegible] bushels of wheat on thirty acres, sold it for $[illegible] paid the outside expenses with $[illegible] and had $[illegible] left I did all the work except what $[illegible] paid for You see my work cost me nothing but it was worth $[illegible] Isn't that plain

Mr Morton says I seem to think we are creatures of chance, and had as well work at one thing as at another By no means If he will visit me at my farm I will show him that I usually have my work for each day planned ahead for a week, and as nearly as possible work to my plans I fully recognize that labor to be profitable, must be intelligently employed and skillfully directed but it doesn't follow therefore, that my own manual labor is an expense to me and must cost me as much as that of my hired man

If Mr Allen's and Mr Morton's argument be true that it costs me as much to do my own work as to hire it done, then I might as well hire it all done and since the same principle will apply to the hired man he might as well hire his work done and we will all go flying through the skies on flowery beds of ease

But it may be urged that a man's living must be met by the proceeds of his work That is true but it only proves what I have been maintaining, viz that a man's work is not the expense it is profit, and is without cost while it is the living and not the work that constitutes the expense A man might work for a stated salary of $[illegible] per month and his expenses might amount to $100 per month or they might amount to only $[illegible] or he might have no monthly income at all and a monthly expense of $50 So it will be seen that a man's daily expenses are not a result of his daily work as Mr A and Mr M claim because the amount of his expenses is largely dependent upon his personal habits and are likely to go on even though he works not at all

It costs a man something to live, but it costs him nothing to work therefore, farmers everywhere, so far as I know except Mr Allen and Mr Morton, agree that it must have cost me more to hire that acre plowed than it did to plow the other acre myself

Mr Morton says it seems that I cannot "get done criticising Mr Allen Mr Morton evidently forgets that Mr Allen first took this question to THE OREGONIAN and there criticised me I have simply acted on the defensive each time dodging, as best I could first the destructive onslaught of a bewildering apparition from one side, and then the deceptive advances of a wily "ghost on the other I would much rather raise wheat than engage in newspaper controversies but some one has it to do, and rather than see it done in a slovenly manner I sometimes take a hand myself

T T GEER

Sheridan Outgeneraled

Pittsburg Times

A very amusing story about Gen Sheridan has just been told me that is well worth reproducing It seems that some artist about three or four years ago painted a portrait of Gen Sheridan that proved a dismal failure, but nevertheless was hung up in the general's private office and there it remained to hang until it became [illegible] as to cause comment Finally, after the portrait had been hung nearly three years there [illegible] request came from a G A R post in Ohio for a picture of the hero of Winchester with which to adorn the walls of their rooms The general was much [illegible] as to how he could fill their request when his eye lit upon the caricature of himself that hung upon the wall

The very thing sprung into his mind and as it is well known, with him to think is to act he straightway tapped his bell and bade his orderly take down the picture and box it ready for shipment That night at dinner he informed Mrs Sheridan of the request from the Ohio post and the manner in which he intended complying with it

"Oh Philip said Mrs Sheridan "not that horrible thing that has been hanging on your office wall for the last year or so"

"The very same said the general

"But, Philip, if you send this picture out it will be placed prominently on the wall and labeled as a present from you, and that awful daub will go down to posterity as a likeness of yourself, and some future day will turn up, to the unspeakable horror of your children and friends as a perfect likeness of how you looked when in your prime"

Then followed a stormy scene, Mrs Sheridan arguing that the picture should not be sent, and the general taking the side that he must, in some way, comply with the request, and, as he had nothing else to send, this picture should go. The argument waxed hotter and hotter, until finally General Sheridan got up and marched to the door, and, having reached that strategic point, turned and said

"Mrs Sheridan, that picture shall go Now let neither of us ever mention its existence again"

Having said this, he left the room before Mrs Sheridan had time to say a word in reply

But he little knew his wife's pluck for early next morning, before anyone was up she went down to his office and surprised the orderly in the very act of boxing the picture

"Is there any paint or varnish here that will stick and not wash off?" she sweetly asked

"Yes, madam," answered the unsuspecting soldier

"Bring it to me, please, said Mrs Sheridan

The orderly fetched some black paint from the outer office and gave it to Mrs Sheridan Then she, deliberately turning the unlucky painting on its back, brushed every resemblance of a picture from off the canvas, only leaving a dim vista of black paint

"Oh, do stay here until the general comes, was all the wretched orderly could gasp as he saw this surprising proceeding But he had no need of this request, for hardly were the words out of his mouth before Sheridan's light step was heard in the outer office, and in an instant his stout figure darkened the door His quick eye in a second took in the state of affairs, and, turning red in the face he said

"Mrs Sheridan, what does this pro— —

"Ep, Philip said she last night you made the request that neither of us should ever mention this again pointing to what remained of the picture "Do not be the first to break that request and without another word she swept out of the office leaving Little Phil absolutely rooted to the floor

It is perhaps, needless to tell that that picture has been a dead letter in the Sheridan household from that day to this and bids fair to remain so

ITCHING LAST LONG YEARS

[illegible] 188

HOP BITTERS CO

I wish to say to you that I have been suffering for the last five years with a severe itching all over I have heard of Hop Bitters and have tried it. I have used up four bottles, and it has done me more good than all the doctors and medicines that they could use on or with me I am old and poor but feel to bless you for such a relief from your medicine and torment of the doctors I have had fifteen doctors at me One gave me seven ounces of solution of arsenic another took four quarts of blood from me All they could tell was that it was skin sickness Now, after these four bottles of your medicine, I am well and my skin is well clean and smooth as ever HENRY KNOCHE

GOOD WORDS—FROM GOOD AUTHORITY.—[illegible]

We confess that we are perfectly amazed at the run of your Hop Bitters We never had anything like it, and never heard of the like The writer (Benton) has been selling drugs here nearly thirty years, and has seen the rise of Hostetter's, Vinegar and all other bitters and patent medicines, but never did any of them in their best days begin to have the run that Hop Bitters have We can't get enough of them We are out of them half the time

From letter to Hop Bitters Co, from BENTON, MYERS & CO, Wholesale Druggists, Cleveland, O

GOOD FOR BABIES —"We are pleased to say that our baby was permanently cured of a serious protracted irregularity of the bowels by the use of Hop Bitters by its mother, which at the same time restored her to perfect health and strength —THE PARENTS

MISERABLENESS.

The most wonderful and marvelous success, in cases where persons are sick or pining away from a condition of miserableness that no one knows what ails them (profitable patients for doctors) is obtained by the use of Hop Bitters They begin to cure from the first dose and keep it up until perfect health and strength is restored

WICKED FOR CLERGYMEN

"I believe it to be all wrong and even wicked for clergymen or other public men to be led into giving testimonials to quack doctors or vile stuffs called medicines but when a really meritorious article is made up of common valuable remedies known to all, and that all physicians use and trust in daily we should freely commend it I therefore cheerfully and heartily commend Hop Bitters for the good they have done me and my friends, firmly believing they have no equal for family use I will not be without them —REV L R WARREN Scipio, N Y

A COLD ACCOUNT—To sum it up six long years of bedridden sickness and suffering, costing $[illegible] per year total $1 [illegible] all of which was stopped by three bottles of Hop Bitters taken by my wife who has done her own housework for a year since without the loss of a day and I want everybody to know it for their benefit —JOHN WEEKS, Butler

Never Forget This

If you are sick Hop Bitters will surely aid Nature in making you well when all else fails

If you are costive or dyspeptic, or are suffering from any other of the numerous diseases of the stomach or bowels it is your own fault if you remain ill for Hop Bitters is a sovereign remedy in all such complaints

If you are wasting away with any form of kidney disease stop tempting Death this moment and turn for a cure to Hop Bitters

If you are nervous use Hop Bitters

If you are a frequenter or a resident of a miasmatic district barricade your system against the scourge of all countries—malarial epidemic, bilious and intermittent fevers—by the use of Hop Bitters

If you have rough pimply or sallow skin bad breath pains and aches and feel miserable generally Hop Bitters will give you fair skin, rich blood and sweetest breath and health

That poor bedridden invalid wife sister, mother, or daughter can be made the picture of health with Hop Bitters, costing but a trifle Will you let them suffer

In short they cure all Diseases of the stomach, Bowels, Blood Liver Nerves Kidneys, Bright's Disease $1000 will be paid for a case they will not cure or help TOO EASY.

[illegible] —Clean this [illegible] John [illegible] [indignantly] Humph! [illegible]

A [illegible] known is half cured If your [illegible] dirty buy a cake of SAPOLIO.

It [illegible] of Scouring Soap [illegible]

[illegible]

Private Dispensary,

Nos. 132, 134 Third St.

Portland Or

Young,

Middle-aged and Old,

Single or Married

And All who Suffer from

LOST MANHOOD.

Nervous Debility, Seminal Loss's Failing Memory Weak Eyes Lack of Energy Impediment to Marriage also Blood and Skin Diseases Syphilis Eruptions Hair Falling Bone Pains Swellings Sore Throat Ulcers Effects of Mercury Kidney and Bladder Troubles, Weak Back Burning Urine Gonorrhea Gleet Stricture—receive searching treatment, prompt relief and cure for life.

Both Sexes consult confidentially [illegible]

MANHOOD RESTORED. A victim of youthful imprudence causing Premature Decay Nervous Debility Lost Manhood, etc having tried in vain every known remedy has discovered a simple self-cure which he will send FREE to his fellow sufferers. Address, C J MASON, Post Office Box 3179 New York City.

[illegible]

DR. FLINT'S HEART REMEDY.

[illegible] At all Druggists

J. J. MACK & CO [illegible]

CURES Cancer, Scrofula, Eczema, Blood Poison Malaria, Ulcers, And all Diseases Caused from Impure Blood.

Cancer of the Tongue

My wife some three years ago was troubled with an [illegible] the throat [illegible] of sleep and producing [illegible] Accompanying this [illegible] had passed from the [illegible] wrist of one hand [illegible] Between the suffering of [illegible] burdensome By the use of a half dozen sized bottles of Swift's Specific she was entirely relieved and restored to [illegible] years ago, and there has been no return of the disease [illegible]

Sparta, Ga., June 5 1886

Treatise on Blood and Skin Diseases mailed free THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO Drawer 3, Atlanta, Ga 157 W 23d St N Y

FREE TO MEN

DR. LIEBIG'S WONDERFUL GERMAN INVIGORATOR.

THE OLDEST GREATEST [illegible] for the cure of Nervous and Vital Exhaustion Seminal [illegible] Failing Memory [illegible] of the Generative [illegible]

It speedily cures Impotence [illegible] Loss of Vigor SEMINAL [illegible] effects of youthful follies [illegible] OF MATURITY

It permanently prevents [illegible]

It is indeed a wonderful remedy [illegible]

PROSTATORRHEA [illegible]

DR LIEBIG'S INVIGORATOR [illegible]

Price of [illegible]

Dr Liebig & Co [illegible]

CHRONIC [illegible]

DISEASES OF WOMEN

Qualified and responsible [illegible]

[illegible] DR LIEBIG DISPENSARY [illegible]

Most powerful electric belt [illegible]

To prove the wonderful power of the Invigorator a $2 bottle given free

Consultation free and private

LIEBIG DISPENSARY,

400 Geary st., San Francisco Cal.

Private Entrance 405 Mason [illegible] Geary street from Fremont [illegible] Dispensary Drug Store

HUMPHREYS'

HOMEOPATHIC VETERINARY SPECIFICS

For Horses Cattle Sheep Dogs Hogs Poultry

500 PAGE BOOK on Treatment of Animals and Chart Sent Free

[illegible]

Stable Case [illegible] Witch Hazel Oil [illegible]

Price, Single Bottle [illegible]

Sold by Druggists [illegible]

Humphreys' Med Co [illegible]

HUMPHREYS' HOMEOPATHIC SPECIFIC No 28

In use 30 years [illegible]

Nervous Debility [illegible]

[illegible]

Astley Cooper's [illegible] BOTTLES FREE

to anyone [illegible] MEDICAL DISPENSARY

ENGLISH No 11 Kearny St San Francisco, Cal

FOR THE FINEST [illegible] go to Frank [illegible]

recent attack of indigestion or constipation [illegible] cured [illegible] the right remedy is applied [illegible] except Hamburg [illegible] is so disgusting [illegible] small that a person prefers to let the disease [illegible] its course [illegible] a laxative cannot [illegible]

R. FLINT'S HEART REMEDY.

When the Heart, Kidneys and Circulation are in a healthy condition all other [illegible] to treatment. [illegible] Dr. Flint's [illegible] $1.50.

[illegible] MACK & CO., [illegible] San Francisco.

CURES Cancer, Scrofula, Eczema, Blood Poison, Malaria, Ulcers, and all Diseases Caused from Impure Blood.

Cancer of the Tongue.

[illegible] wife some three or four years ago was troubled with an ulcer on the side of her tongue near the throat. The pain was incessant, causing loss of sleep and producing great nervous prostration [illegible] this trouble was rheumatism [illegible] from the shoulders and centered in the [illegible] one hand, she almost losing the use of it [illegible] the suffering of the two life had grown [illegible] By the use of a half dozen small [illegible] of Swift's Specific she was entirely [illegible] and [illegible] to health. This was three [illegible] and there has been no return of the disease.

H. L. MIDDLEBROOKS.

[illegible], Ga., Jan [illegible] 1886.

[illegible] on Blood and Skin Diseases mailed free. [illegible] Swift Specific Co., Drawer 3, Atlanta, Ga.

DR. LIEBIG'S WONDERFUL GERMAN INVIGORATOR.

[illegible] greatest remedy [illegible] Physical Debility [illegible] Weakness, Loss of Man[illegible] and [illegible] and Enfeebled [illegible] cures Impotence, Early Decay, [illegible] and excesses.

[illegible] permanently prevents [illegible] noted a wonderful remedy [illegible]

[illegible] qualified and responsible [illegible] Dr. Liebig & Co. [illegible] Dr. Liebig's Invigorator No. 1 [illegible] for the above complications [illegible] wonderful power of the Invigorator [illegible] bottle given or sent free [illegible]

LIEBIG DISPENSARY, [illegible] Geary st., San Francisco, Cal.

HUMPHREYS' HOMEOPATHIC VETERINARY SPECIFICS For Horses, Cattle, Sheep, Dogs, Hogs, Poultry.

[illegible] BOOK on Treatment of Animals and Chart Sent Free.

Fevers, Congestion, Inflammation, Spinal Meningitis, Milk Fever, Strains, Lameness, Rheumatism, Distemper, Nasal Discharges, Bots or Grubs, Worms, Coughs, Heaves, Pneumonia, Colic or Gripes, Bellyache, Miscarriage, Hemorrhages, Urinary and Kidney Diseases, [illegible] Diseases, Mange, Diseases of Digestion.

[illegible] $7.00 [illegible] Humphreys' Medicine Co., 109 Fulton st., N. Y.

HUMPHREYS' HOMEOPATHIC SPECIFIC No. 28

[illegible] Nervous Debility, Vital Weakness, [illegible]

[illegible] Cooper's Vital Restorative [illegible] SAMPLE BOTTLE FREE [illegible] MEDICAL DISPENSARY, [illegible] Kearny St., San Francisco, Cal.

THE FINEST GLASS OF BEER IN THE CITY [illegible] to Frank Keller, First and [illegible]

COMMERCIAL.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 8.

Weather fair and warmer, the day closing cloudy.

PRODUCE RECEIPTS—Past twenty-four hours: [illegible] sks wheat, [illegible] ctls millstuff, 2[illegible] ctls [illegible] bdles hides, 30 cs butter, 180 cs eggs, 114 [illegible]

The following is a statement of wheat delivery by English farmers, imports into the United Kingdom and quantities afloat for the [illegible]

FARMERS' DELIVERIES.

[illegible]

IMPORTS.

[illegible]

QUANTITIES AFLOAT.

[illegible]

[illegible]—To San Francisco [illegible]

FREIGHTS—The wooden ship [illegible] is now on the berth [illegible] up to load lumber [illegible] This [illegible] has been pending some time [illegible] the Australian Register's [illegible] has been devoted [illegible] this year and [illegible] production [illegible] bushels or 1,000,000 tons for export [illegible] tons more than in last year.

[illegible] have again been [illegible] on bread [illegible] It was hoped that the liberty to [illegible] on prices and [illegible] of free [illegible] on which [illegible] to the bakers [illegible] gradually make bread [illegible] and the masses of the [illegible] out differently and the masses of the [illegible] been oppressed by [illegible] that it [illegible] necessary to [illegible]

WHEAT—Nothing of a striking interest [illegible] The [illegible] The local market is [illegible]

FLOUR—Receipts for the week [illegible] Shipments by the steamers [illegible] barrels. Local demands [illegible] while California continues [illegible] advance values [illegible] may soon result in a higher [illegible] standards are quoted [illegible] for some time past [illegible] wheat [illegible] has been [illegible] figure all [illegible] Millers are not [illegible]

MILLSTUFF—Receipts for a week [illegible] are not increased [illegible] kept [illegible] demands. San Francisco is [illegible] high prices [illegible] may soon be named here [illegible] Jobbing prices are: Bran [illegible] chop [illegible] ground barley [illegible] oil meal [illegible]

OATS—Receipts for the week [illegible] centals and [illegible] two steamers [illegible] and trade [illegible] for the most part [illegible] San Francisco reported [illegible] large arrival [illegible] all that can be [illegible] the inside [illegible] made at [illegible]

PROVISIONS—Generally [illegible] Values are not [illegible] Hams [illegible] eastern hams [illegible] best local or Eastern [illegible]

DRIED FRUITS—Receipts [illegible] in a week. Stocks are very low [illegible] Nonsun dried apples [illegible] dried being about out [illegible] boxes [illegible] They sold at 1[illegible] San [illegible] here [illegible] raisins [illegible] prices from dealers are [illegible] apples nominally [illegible] sliced [illegible] prunes [illegible] French [illegible] plums [illegible] peaches [illegible] pears 10 [illegible] raisins [illegible]

BUTTER—Market [illegible] The stock of poor to fair is lowered [illegible] San Francisco. Good to [illegible] roll is [illegible] inferior [illegible]

POULTRY—Chickens [illegible] market [illegible] Other poultry [illegible] turkeys [illegible]

EGGS [illegible]

WOOL—[illegible] from [illegible] market [illegible]

HIDES, ETC.—Very fair [illegible] market [illegible] We quote: Dry hides [illegible] light [illegible] heavy do [illegible] dry kip and calf [illegible] salt kip and calf [illegible] salt veal [illegible] valley [illegible] for winter and summer. East [illegible] Oregon [illegible] for winter and summer sheep [illegible] 25 for short and long wool [illegible] hides [illegible] beaver $[illegible] bearskins $[illegible] Tallow [illegible] for common.

HOPS—No movement [illegible] California has lately reported higher demands on the part of growers and contracts of [illegible] made last month [illegible] now be duplicated. The New York market [illegible] better demand and best [illegible] lately commanded [illegible] prices with ease [illegible] reports from New York state [illegible] the crop prospect there as [illegible] per cent worse than [illegible] season when it will be remembered [illegible] no reason to believe the harvest would [illegible] However it was in June that [illegible] and used up by pests and there is still plenty of time for a similar [illegible] such a possibility speculation is not [illegible] venture now.

WOOL—Heavy movement the past week [illegible] as much as 1,000 sacks [illegible] forward so far have [illegible] been important [illegible] for this purpose and the market [illegible] Locally the [illegible] the parcels [illegible] before reaching [illegible] that are offered here [illegible] Eastern [illegible] markets there [illegible] has nearly [illegible] to trade out [illegible] this state. By [illegible] of higher [illegible] round [illegible] manifested [illegible] year [illegible] prices [illegible] speculative or [illegible] have not felt [illegible] the best of the [illegible] figures paid for Chicago [illegible] San Francisco account and [illegible] these last [illegible] have offered great [illegible] About [illegible] heretofore [illegible] now known is [illegible] Eastern market [illegible] What they will do yet in [illegible] On Tuesday the London sales opened with a large attendance of home and foreign buyers [illegible] bidding was not brisk though some better [illegible] than expected while prices were a half to a penny [illegible] than in April. A total of [illegible] bales is available at this sale. This advice is not calculated [illegible] the American market [illegible] that prices [illegible]

The Merchandise Markets.

As so often the experience at this time of year, very rainy weather gave way to rains during the week. The precipitation of [illegible] days being [illegible] hundredths of an inch. Wednesday came in clear and with promise of fair weather. The week's rain has been general on both sides of the mountains and of material benefit to growing cereal crops. Those of the eastern section as they have previously shown get less rain and more rain and now a full yield is an assured fact. Spring sown grain in the valley needed this new moisture and fall sown has not been hurt by it. The prospects of the valley crop may be stated to have improved during the last few days. High water in the rivers overflowed a large area of low land and some farmers will have to replant potato fields. On lands overflowed some damage was done the hay crop. The fruit crop will be a fair to good one. Small fruits will be short in some portions of the state. Cherries are well along and a few days of sunny weather will hurry them to market. The yield will not be a heavy one. Berries come in slowly but will be very plenty.

The goods movement is showing little of [illegible] interest. Distributive demands are of fair proportions only, the valley being a slow buyer just at present. The eastern section is [illegible] only in real assortments. Wool sales have [illegible] not [illegible] new money over that section. This business will be well towards an end by the close of June [illegible] is fast moving. [illegible] are bought liberally here. The [illegible] movement is [illegible] one that [illegible] steady but very small enlargement [illegible] by steamer keeping even. A vessel from Hong Kong is at dock with rice and merchandise [illegible] Liverpool the lead [illegible] vessel is [illegible] days [illegible] One from London is eleven days behind her while from New York the leading one [illegible] 10 days [illegible] the different lines are not [illegible]

San Francisco has lately report[illegible] ready [illegible] business [illegible] in the range of [illegible] With the California wheat [illegible] per cent [illegible] a year there is little opportunity [illegible] of a [illegible] Advices [illegible] of [illegible] fair [illegible] at [illegible] A few [illegible] others have [illegible] salmon [illegible] two vessels [illegible] next month [illegible] The salmon run [illegible] Columbia [illegible] two thirds of the boats are light [illegible] all over [illegible] that what [illegible] there may be [illegible] Columbia [illegible] is fast [illegible] that there is [illegible] the Columbia river [illegible] plenty [illegible] good salmon [illegible] Baltimore [illegible] Bahamas [illegible] of new [illegible] We [illegible] the boys a chance [illegible]

Anxiety [illegible] Chicago large dealers in canned goods have [illegible] the market [illegible] prices will be [illegible] is the [illegible] the new [illegible] kept the price [illegible] California [illegible] is also on the [illegible] the corn [illegible] would be swept [illegible] of the [illegible] for that the market next spring will be only a repetition of this. [illegible] cheap and plenty of it. [illegible] about the [illegible] crop of fruit [illegible] this year that [illegible] sprung up among the trade that this [illegible] packers [illegible] give them the canned [illegible] but a chromo of Danny in the [illegible] alfalfa would be [illegible] take the goods [illegible] packers commenced looking into the matter [illegible] would be but the mercenary [illegible] label manufacturer [illegible] food [illegible] the way and [illegible] worth and we [illegible] abandon [illegible] ask cost for the goods [illegible] the canner [illegible] wonderful [illegible] last year [illegible] pears [illegible] and prunes [illegible] overlaid [illegible] of the [illegible] the [illegible] prices will rule [illegible]

[illegible] MARKET.

COAL OIL—[illegible]

CANNED GOODS—[illegible] the new season is near at hand and old [illegible] are reduced [illegible] strength in the market. [illegible] is why [illegible] for there is an absence of anything like a variety to sell by [illegible] Quotations are: Table fruits assorted $[illegible] table apricots [illegible] blackberries, gooseberries and cherries $[illegible] currants $[illegible] grapes $[illegible] peaches $[illegible] strawberries $[illegible] raspberries [illegible] pears [illegible] plums [illegible] pineapples [illegible] fruits assorted [illegible] $1 40 and [illegible] apricots, blackberries and gooseberries $1 [illegible] cherries $1 [illegible] peaches $1 [illegible] fish $1 [illegible] Jellies and jams assorted $[illegible] corn $1 [illegible] for best and $1 [illegible] for [illegible] tomatoes $1 [illegible] beans and peas $1 [illegible] asparagus [illegible] mushrooms $[illegible] French peas [illegible]

COFFEE—The regular weekly advance is to be recorded. This time it is general [illegible] one and in one grade only [illegible] figure is dropped. Java and roasted have advanced [illegible] Not [illegible] stock the most of this crop going to Europe this year. We quote Salvador [illegible] Costa [illegible] Java [illegible] Arbuckle's [illegible] New York closes rather quiet but has been [illegible] and higher.

RICE—A vessel from Hong Kong [illegible] about [illegible] mats [illegible] market [illegible] weaker [illegible] holders will [illegible] Southern [illegible] Island [illegible]

SALT—Market [illegible] and [illegible] Liverpool [illegible] large lots being [illegible]

SUGARS—[illegible] Sixty-day quotations [illegible] confectioners A [illegible] granulated [illegible] crystal fine crushed and powdered [illegible] boxes [illegible]

[illegible]—Advance sharply in first marks [illegible] threes [illegible] less [illegible] per cent [illegible]

BEANS—Generally higher [illegible] butter [illegible]

NAILS [illegible]

THE MEAT MARKET.

[illegible]

MARKETS BY TELEGRAPH.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

NEW YORK, June 8.—The stock market [illegible] was fairly active today but continued [illegible] throughout the entire time. Traders were still bearishly inclined were active in [illegible] the market and in the absence of any [illegible] circulated reports of the death of Emperor William and rumors in regard to the [illegible] No confirmation could be had [illegible] these stories but they served their purpose. For a time among the specialties several sharp breaks occurred. St. Paul & Duluth being the most prominent. Dividends on Western Union had no effect whatever upon the course of the stock having been fully discounted during the last two days. The close was quiet and steady, almost the entire list is lower this evening, and St. Paul & Duluth is down [illegible] Union Pacific [illegible] preferred [illegible]

Governments were dull and steady to firm.

MONEY, BONDS AND STOCKS.

NEW YORK, June 8.—Money on call [illegible] per cent; exchange [illegible]

BONDS.

4s	[illegible]	4½s (coupon)	109[illegible]
4s (coupon)	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

STOCKS.

American Express	[illegible]	N P preferred	[illegible]
Canada Pacific	[illegible]	Northwestern	[illegible]
Canada Southern	[illegible]	Improvement	[illegible]
Central Pacific	[illegible]	Oregon Navigation	10[illegible]
Chicago B & Q	[illegible]	Transcontinental	[illegible]
D L & W	[illegible]	Pacific Mail	[illegible]
D & R G	[illegible]	Rock Island	[illegible]
Erie	[illegible]	St. Paul	[illegible]
Lake Shore	[illegible]	Texas Pacific	[illegible]
L & N	[illegible]	Union Pacific	[illegible]
Michigan Central	[illegible]	U S Express	[illegible]
Kansas & Texas	[illegible]	Wells Fargo Exp	[illegible]
N Y Central	[illegible]	Western Union	[illegible]
Northern Pacific	31[illegible]

MONEY MARKET.

LONDON, June 8.—Consols 101 11-16. Bank of England rate of interest, 2 per cent. Silver bullion per fine ounce 43 13-16.

NEW YORK, June 8.—Silver bullion per fine ounce [illegible] Sterling exchange long $4 8[illegible] short $4 8[illegible] U. S. bonds 4s 129[illegible] 4½s 109[illegible]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—Transfers 20. Exchange, 60 days, $1 85; documentary, $1 8[illegible]

SAN FRANCISCO MINING STOCKS REPORT.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 8.—The market improved slightly this morning but trading was [illegible] Con. Cal. & Va., Ophir and Best & Belcher attracting the most attention.

Con Cal & Va	[illegible]	Ophir	10
N B Isle	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Best & Belcher	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Gould & Curry	[illegible]	Savage	[illegible]
Hale & Norcross	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Nevada Queen	[illegible]	Bodie	[illegible]
Yellow Jacket	[illegible]	Alta	10
Sierra Nevada	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Mexican	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Crocker	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Peerless	[illegible]	Andes	[illegible]
Peer	[illegible]

SAN FRANCISCO MARKETS.

SAN FRANCISCO, June [illegible]—Weather [illegible]

Receipts: Wheat 14,000 ctls [illegible] barley 1,[illegible] ctls [illegible]

Chartered: For [illegible] from Seattle [illegible] Santa [illegible] American [illegible] A. Briggs [illegible] from Puget sound [illegible]

Cal. [illegible] Dull and [illegible] to heavy [illegible]

[illegible] Firm [illegible]

Hops [illegible] Eastern [illegible] New York [illegible]

Barley [illegible] spot feed $[illegible] seller year [illegible] closed $1 10.

Wheat [illegible] market dull and firm [illegible] mills have been trying to [illegible] but their machinery not [illegible] Sales of options: Buyer year [illegible] at $1 [illegible] 100 tons at $1 [illegible] [illegible] August [illegible] Seller year [illegible]

After [illegible] session—[illegible] tons at $1 [illegible] 200 tons [illegible] seller year [illegible] tons [illegible]

NEW YORK MARKETS.

NEW YORK, June 8.—Wheat opened [illegible] higher [illegible] August [illegible] asked June [illegible] July [illegible] bid September [illegible]

MISCELLANEOUS.

NEW YORK, June [illegible]—Petroleum was [illegible] opened [illegible] highest [illegible] lowest [illegible] closing [illegible] Sales [illegible] 000 barrels.

Mining shares were in better demand. Alta [illegible] Brunswick $[illegible] Hale & Norcross [illegible] Standard $[illegible] Stanislaus [illegible] Security [illegible] Sutro [illegible]

Hops steady and quiet. California [illegible]

Coffee—Spot fair [illegible] options [illegible] lower [illegible] Sales 114,000 bags [illegible] September [illegible] October [illegible]

Sugar—Quiet and steady [illegible] refined steady [illegible]

Copper [illegible]

Tin quiet and weak.

CHICAGO MARKETS.

CHICAGO, June 8.—Wheat opened easier [illegible] July [illegible] August [illegible] September [illegible] Closed [illegible] June [illegible] July [illegible] August [illegible] September [illegible]

Provisions—Pork [illegible] July [illegible] Lard [illegible] July [illegible] Short ribs [illegible]

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK MARKET.

CHICAGO, June 8.—Cattle: Receipts [illegible] shipping steers $4[illegible] stockers and feeders [illegible] Texas [illegible]

Hogs [illegible] receipts [illegible] rough and mixed $4 [illegible] packing [illegible] light $4 [illegible]

Sheep [illegible] receipts [illegible] Western $[illegible] Texans [illegible]

Foreign Markets.

LIVERPOOL.

LONDON, June 8.—Weather very [illegible]

[illegible]

PARIS [illegible]

LIVERPOOL [illegible]

LONDON WOOL SALES.

LONDON, [illegible]—At the [illegible] sale [illegible] statement of the [illegible]

New South Wales 4000 [illegible]

[illegible] locks and pieces [illegible]

Victoria [illegible] bales [illegible] greasy [illegible] locks and pieces [illegible]

Queensland [illegible] bales [illegible] greasy [illegible]

New Zealand [illegible] bales scoured [illegible] locks and pieces [illegible]

South Australia 100 bags [illegible] locks and pieces [illegible]

Tasmania [illegible] greasy [illegible] locks and pieces [illegible]

Natal [illegible] greasy [illegible]

Cape [illegible] bales scoured [illegible] locks and pieces [illegible]

LIVERPOOL GRAIN MARKET.

[illegible] Wheat firm, demand fair [illegible] western spring [illegible] new mixed western [illegible]

SHIPPING INTELLIGENCE

SHIPPING NOTES.

[illegible] grain fleet reported [illegible] day are [illegible] James [illegible] The [illegible] carried [illegible] arrived [illegible] grain fleet [illegible] to Mar[illegible] Morning [illegible] Brown and W. H. [illegible]

At daylight [illegible] steamer [illegible] the [illegible] Astoria [illegible]

[illegible] SAN FRANCISCO [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] ARRIVED [illegible]

THE HOTELS.

ESMOND.

D I [illegible] Dayton	I A Turner McMinnville
W I Reed Mint Dell	S M Beard Wyoming
Rob [illegible] New York	J O [illegible] Chicago
R C Dorsett do	W S Drake Austin Texas
Dr [illegible] Bird Pennsylvania	O Brush do
J F McCarther Spokane	J S Tabor San Francisco
E J Taylor Kelso	H J Wing Lone Rock
Mrs E J Taylor do	Mrs W J Waters Chicago
R S Strothorn Idaho	C C Randall San Fran
W M Gazzow Cincinnati	J B White do
I Abrams Lincoln	F M Reed North Yakima
Miss Abrams do	D M Woodbury St Louis
J L Sayers San Fran	Mrs McC[illegible] & [illegible]
S M Farley Eugene City	Eagle Cliff
M Farley do	I I Indy New York
Mrs Westjohn Seattle	E M Baxter Wheeling
C F Trapper Albany	E N [illegible] Salem
S I Jervis Astoria	M E Hickas St Helens
J J Dywar St Louis	A H Morris Omaha
J N Marston Oakland	Mrs H Morris do
I Longstreth Columbus	J A M Cord Walla Walla
Mrs Longstreth do	Mrs I W Foster Oakland
Chas Lewis San Fran	Master Foster do
J B Crocket do	Miss M Raynor do
Mrs H Crockett do	H C Drake St [illegible]
Mrs H C Drake St Paul

HOLMAN.

B Norris U S A	I Brooks Vancouver
T B W Smith Denver	W W Iden St Louis
C Schoerman Chicago	F F Spitz San Fran
J P Bo[illegible]man do	J H Breeze do
C A Houck Corvallis	F F Whipple do
J Fvenden McMinnville	A Rothschilds do
W Fvenden do	C F Stanton do
E I Shepherd do	D Shepherd Washo[illegible]
B B Miller St Paul	Mrs Shepherd do
J F Hamilton do	S [illegible] Corvallis
I Melderon Baker City	John Farmeter San Jo[illegible]
E Behawell do

INTERNATIONAL.

[illegible]

ROUGH ON RATS
TRADE MARK
DON'T DIE IN THE HOUSE

Gone Where the Woodbine Twineth. Rats are [illegible] Rough on Rats. It clears out Rats, Mice, Roaches, Water Bugs, Flies, Beetles, Moths, Ants, Mosquitoes, Bed-bugs, Insects, Potato Bugs, Sparrows, Skunks, Weasel, Gophers, Chipmunks, Moles, Musk Rats, Jack Rabbits, Squirrels. [illegible]

ROUGH ON BILE PILLS. Little. Good. [illegible] Small Dose [illegible] Headache [illegible] Dyspepsia [illegible] Druggists or [illegible] 10 & 25c.

ROUGH ON CORNS for hard or soft corns 15 cts. At Druggists.

ROUGH ON Toothache. Instant Relief 15c

PENNYROYAL PILLS "CHICHESTER'S ENGLISH." The Original and Only Genuine. [illegible] LADIES. Ask [illegible] Druggist [illegible] NAME PAPER. Chichester [illegible] Madison Square, Phila[illegible]

COCKLE'S ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS. THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY. [illegible] Agents—L NOLEY & MICHELS [illegible]

WEAK MEN MADE STRONG [illegible]

MARKETS

W. W. SPAULDING [illegible] CORNER FIRST AND MADISON STS. Wholesale and Retail Dealers in Fresh and Cured Meats.

O'SHEA BROS., Wholesale Butchers & Packers [illegible] Dealers in all kinds of Meats [illegible] Stalls 2[illegible] and 21 Central Market, Portland.

A. H. JOHNSON, CENTRAL MARKET, Wholesale Butcher and Packer. Special attention paid to supplying ships. Highest cash price paid for all kinds of fat stock.

PACIFIC MARKET. H. H. SPAULDING. THOS. PAPWORTH. SPAULDING & PAPWORTH, BUTCHERS AND PACKERS, DEALERS IN ALL KINDS OF MEATS, Corner Third and Ash Streets.

ASTORIA TO GRAY'S HARBOR STEAMER "GEN. MILES" Will Leave Astoria for Gray's Harbor 1st and 15th each month. Fare including meals [illegible] Freight per ton [illegible] Special rates on [illegible] Apply to J. H. D. GRAY, Agt. Astoria, Or.

Steamer Isabel, COMMENCING MAY [illegible] 188[illegible] WILL LEAVE [illegible] Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday for DAYTON at 9 A. M. [illegible] CAPT. J. D. TAUKABERY, Master.

INSURANCE.

The Fire Insurance Association (L'd) of London

[illegible] pleasure in announcing that [illegible] of this late Messrs. JAS. LAIDLAW [illegible] REES [illegible] represent the Company in this field [illegible] Respectfully, JACOBS [illegible] W. F. HAYMERS [illegible]

The Northwest Fire & Marine Insurance Company

No. 5 Washington St., Portland, Or.

CAPITAL $300,000

DIRECTORS

[illegible]

Money to Loan on Approved Real Estate Security.

MARINE AND RAILROAD INSURANCE.

Commercial Union Assurance Company OF LONDON. CASH ASSETS $12,476,16[illegible] 00

MARINE BRANCH, WM. S. SIBSON, Agent.

Commercial Union Assurance Co. (limited) of London. Assets $12,476,165

Sun Insurance Company, OF SAN FRANCISCO. Assets $502,491 56

[illegible] Fire Department [illegible] E. QUACKENBUSH, AGENT.

UNION INSURANCE CO. Fire and Marine. [illegible] Capital [illegible] 0,000 AGENCY [illegible] No. 9 Stark St. JAMES S. REED, Agent.

[illegible] THE [illegible] OREGON FIRE & MARINE INSURANCE CO OF PORTLAND. Cash Assets - - $353 279 15 PRINCIPAL OFFICE 31 Stark St.

LONDON ASSURANCE CORPORATION ESTABLISHED A. D. [illegible] Fire Assets, $10,742,000 00 EDWARD HALL, General Agent, 11 Stark Street.

THE THAMES & MERSEY MARINE INSURANCE COMPANY OF LIVERPOOL.

Capital	$2,000 000
Reserve fund (in addition)	$375 000
Deposit in Oregon	$10,000

Agency in Portland at No. 6 First street. PHILIP G. SCHUYLER, Agent.

NORTHERN ASS'CE CO., Engl'd. SCOTTISH UNION & NATIONAL INS CO. Scotl'd. Combined Cash Assets $40 000 000 [illegible]

TRANSPORTATION LINES

NEW ROUTE

Portland & Willamette Valley

Between Portland and Airlie—80 miles.

[illegible]

Between Portland and Coburg—123 miles.

[illegible]

TICKETS [illegible]

General Offices N. W. cor. First and Pine.

[illegible] CHAS N SCOTT [illegible]

[illegible] Washington Steamboat Transportation Co

TACOMA, SEATTLE & PORT TOWNSEND

[illegible]

For Astoria—Fast Time. STR. TELEPHONE [illegible] Close connections at Kalama [illegible] Connections at Portland with O & O and Westside Trains, Vancouver and Oregon City [illegible] bound trains. H. A. SELEY, Agent, Portland. U. B. SCOTT, Pres't. Telephone No. 3[illegible]

[illegible] PASSENGERS AND FREIGHT. [illegible] Oregon City [illegible]

COWLITZ ROUTE [illegible] for Kellogg [illegible] Toledo [illegible]

Vancouver Transportation Co.'s STEAMER LURLINE OF VANCOUVER. Capt. Jas. T. Gray leave Portland at 3 P. M. and Vancouver at 8 A. M. daily Sundays excepted. For freight or passage apply on board at foot of Morrison street. TOWING between 10 A. M. and 3 P. M.

TRANSATLANTIC STEAMSHIP COMPANIES' GENERAL AGENCY [illegible] United States and vice versa at lowest rates. Apply to [illegible] PFLUGER, General Agent, [illegible] Third st. Portland, Oregon.

BANKS.

Portland Trust Company OF OREGON

OFFICE Room 12, Portland Savings Bank Build'g Cor. Second and Washington Sts.

OFFICERS [illegible]

Board of Directors [illegible]

Commercial National Bank OF PORTLAND GENERAL BANKING BUSINESS TRANSACTED

President	D. P. THOMPSON
Vice President	R. M. WADE
Cashier	R. L. DURHAM
Assistant Cashier	H. C. WORTMAN

SIGHT EXCHANGE AND TELEGRAPHIC TRANSFERS sold on New York [illegible] and all principal places [illegible] EXCHANGE sold on principal cities in Europe and on Hong Kong. Collections Receive Prompt Attention.

[illegible]

Metropolitan Savings Bank [illegible] Directors [illegible]

Merchants National Bank, PORTLAND OR. TRANSACTS GENERAL BANKING BUSINESS

President	JAMES STEEL
Vice President	[illegible]
Cashier	L. A. MACRUM

ISSUES LETTERS OF CREDIT available throughout the United States. SELLS SIGHT EXCHANGE and TELEGRAPHIC TRANSFER on San Francisco and New York. MAKES COLLECTIONS on favorable terms.

THE SOLICITORS' COMPANY OF PHILADELPHIA Capital $300,000

MORTGAGE LOANS. [illegible] property in Oregon and Washington [illegible] J. CARROLL McCAFFREY, Resident Manager, Office 23 Stark St. Portland, Oregon.

First National Bank OF PORTLAND. Designated Depositary and Financial Agent of the United States.

President	HENRY FAILING
Vice President	H. W. CORBETT
Cashier	G. E. WITHINGTON
Assistant Cashier	H. J. CORBETT

LETTERS OF CREDIT issued, available in Europe and the Eastern States. SIGHT EXCHANGE & TELEGRAPHIC TRANSFER sold on New York, Boston, Chicago, St. Louis, St. Paul, [illegible] San Francisco and the principal points in the Northwest. SIGHT and TIME BILLS drawn in sums to suit on London, Paris, Berlin, Frankfort-on the Main, Hong Kong. COLLECTIONS made on favorable terms at all accessible points.

Ainsworth National Bank OF PORTLAND—cor. Third and Oak.

L. L. HAWKINS	W. K. SMITH	J. P. MARSHALL
President.	Vice President.	Cashier.

U. S. Depositary and Financial Agent. TRANSACT A GENERAL BANKING BUSINESS [illegible] Safe Deposit Department connected with the [illegible]

The Dundee Mortgage & Trust Investment Co., L'd.

Capital Authorized	$5 000 000
Capital Subscribed	4,[illegible]00 000

Head Office 1[illegible] Panmure street, Dundee, Scotland. Local Directors in Portland. DONALD MACLEAY [illegible] Money to loan on Improved Farms in Oregon and Washington Territory and [illegible] Portland City Property. [illegible] Full information may be obtained on application to HUGH ROGER, 4[illegible] Second street, cor. Ash.

FRANK DEKUM	W. K. SMITH	H. C. STRATTON
President	Vice Pres't	Cashier

The Portland Savings Bank OF PORTLAND OR. PAYS INTEREST ON DEPOSITS.

DIRECTORS:

D. P. Thompson,	W. K. Smith,	[illegible]
[illegible]	C. A. Dolph,	Ward S. Stevens
E. J. Jeffery	R. M. Wade,	Cleveland Rockwell.
Frank Dekum,	Geo. H. Durham,

S. W. cor. Second and Washington sts.

THE Portland National Bank. Transacts a General Banking Business. ACCOUNTS kept, subject to check. SELLS EXCHANGE on San Francisco and New York. MAKES COLLECTIONS on favorable terms. LETTERS OF CREDIT issued, available in Europe and the Eastern States. WILLIAM REID, President. GEN. RUFUS INGALLS, Vice President.

London and San Francisco Bank, LIMITED. Capital and Reserve $3,300,000. Head Office 23 Old Broad st. London. This Bank transacts a General Banking and Exchange business, makes loans, discounts bills, and issues commercial and travelers' credits, available in any city in the world. Portland Branch, 48 First St. W. MACKINTOSH, Manager.

Ladd & Tilton, Bankers, Transact a General Banking Business. INTEREST allowed on Time Deposits. COLLECTIONS made at all points on favorable terms. LETTERS OF CREDIT issued, available in Europe and the Eastern States. SIGHT EXCHANGE and TELEGRAPHIC TRANSFERS sold on New York, Washington, Chicago, St. Louis, Denver, Omaha, San Francisco and various points in Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana and British Columbia. EXCHANGE sold on London, Paris, Berlin, Frankfort and Hongkong.

Bank of British Columbia. Incorporated by Royal Charter. Paid-up Capital ...... $1,850,000 Reserve 400,000. Head Office, 28 Cornhill, London. Branches—Portland, San Francisco, Victoria, [illegible] This Bank transacts a General Banking and Exchange business. Loans made, Bills Discounted and Commercial Credits granted. Deposits received on current account, subject to check, also on special certificate. FRED'K TOWNSEND, Manager.

OREGON & WASHINGTON Mortgage Savings Bank 81 First street, Portland, Or. Rates of Interest on Deposits, Three months 4 per cent. Six months, 5 " Nine months, 5½ " One Year 6 " LOANED ON MORTGAGES $7,597,721 in 11 Years. CORRESPONDENCE is solicited, and every information and facility for examination will be furnished by applying to WILLIAM REID, President. CITY, COUNTY AND SCHOOL BONDS WANTED.

RAILWAYS AND STEAMBOATS

OREGON PACIFIC RAILROAD [illegible] Miles Shorter [illegible] 20 Hours Less Time [illegible] DAILY PASSENGER TRAINS [illegible]

Oregon Development Company FIRST CLASS STEAMSHIPS [illegible] YAQUINA & SAN FRANCISCO! [illegible]

GREAT OVERLAND ROUTE. Northern Pacific Railroad, Shortest Line to Chicago & the East. The Shortest Line to Council Bluffs, St. Joseph, Atchison, Leavenworth, Kansas City, [illegible] Quincy, St. Louis, Indianapolis, Cincinnati, New Orleans, and all points south and southeast, VIA ST. PAUL and MINNEAPOLIS.

THE NORTHERN PACIFIC R.R. is the ONLY Line Running Passenger Trains, Pullman Palace Sleeping Cars, Palace Dining Cars [illegible] Luxuriant Day Coaches, Emigrant Sleepers free of charge From Washington and Oregon Points To The East VIA ST. PAUL AND MINNEAPOLIS [illegible] via the Northern Pacific R. R. and avoid change of cars. Leave Portland at 3 P. M. daily, arrive at Minneapolis or St. Paul at noon, fourth day. PACIFIC DIVISION. Train leaves Front and G daily at [illegible] A. M., arrive New Tacoma [illegible] P. M., connecting with Co's boats for all points on Puget Sound. CHAS. S. FEE, Gen. Pass. Agent, St. Paul. A. D. CHARLTON, Gen'l West'n Pass. Agent, No. 2 Washington st. Portland.

OREGON RAILWAY AND NAVIGATION CO. COLUMBIA RIVER ROUTE. Train for the East leaves [illegible] wharf every day [illegible] P. M. Through Pullman Sleeping Cars [illegible] Train from the East arrives at 10 15 A. M. every day. SAN FRANCISCO LINE [illegible] TO ASTORIA [illegible] TO DALLES AND CASCADES [illegible] To Oregon City, Dayton and Corvallis [illegible] TICKET OFFICE, ASH STREET WHARF. A. L. MAXWELL, Ticket Agent. JNO. J. BYRNE, Gen. Pass. & Ticket Agent.

OVERLAND TO CALIFORNIA VIA Oregon & California R. R. And Connections. [illegible] $15 [illegible] $30 [illegible] Only 20 Miles Staging [illegible] Portland and San Francisco [illegible] 12 Hours [illegible] California Express Trains run Daily BETWEEN PORTLAND AND ASHLAND. [illegible] Local Passenger Daily except Sunday. [illegible] BUFFET SLEEPERS [illegible] West Side Division. BETWEEN PORTLAND AND CORVALLIS. Mail Train. [illegible] Express Train. [illegible] Corner F and Front Sts. Portland, Or. [illegible] R. KOEHLER [illegible]

CANADIAN PACIFIC RAILWAY. SHORTEST, QUICKEST, AND IN EVERY RESPECT THE BEST ROUTE. —TO— Montreal, Toronto, Ottawa, Halifax, Portland, Boston, New York, Chicago, St. Paul, Omaha, Kansas City, St. Louis, and All Points East and Southeast. Finest Dining & Sleeping Car Route in the World! Private Drawing Rooms, Luxurious Smoking Rooms and Elegant Bath Rooms attached to all sleepers. New and Elegant second class Sleepers from Port Moody to Montreal, Free of Charge! Courteous Employes, Splendid Passenger Equipments, Three Thousand Miles of Smooth Steel Rail Track Ballasted Along its Entire Length! An Ever Changing Panorama of Grand and Magnificent Scenery! The Canadian Pacific Railway is the Only Line to the East from Portland via Tacoma, Seattle, Victoria and All Puget Sound Points. [illegible] RAPID TRANSIT—LOWEST RATES. For information [illegible] C. G. McCORD, Passenger and Freight Agt., No. 6 Washington st. Portland Or. B. E. BROWN, District Passenger and Freight Agent, Port Moody. The journey from the Pacific to the Atlantic by the [illegible] Mountains, lakes, rivers. Passing through the most magnificent canyon in the world. Twenty miles along a glacier front. The Rocky Mountains, The Selkirks and the Gold Range [illegible] to Grandeur and Sublimity that of the Alps of Switzerland.

TRAVEL IN EASTERN OREGON

The Well Known Route from Pendleton to La Grande

A Birdseye View Discounted—The Ever Present Question of Prohibition Discussed—Mrs. Duniway's Theory Regarding It.

LA GRANDE, Or, June 7.

If the beautiful valley that environs Pendleton resembles a washbowl, that of Walla Walla, being larger and apparently shallower, looks like a chopping dish. Mr Samuels's birdseye map of Oregon happens to be open before me as I write, and although the artist has drawn too largely upon his imagination for his facts to satisfy a tourist who is thoroughly familiar with the details of the country's topography, there is much information gained from it in a general way which everybody may find available. A stranger looking at the map would be repelled, perhaps, by the undue proportion of mountain scenery that nature spreads before the birds as they fly. But the tourist who, like your correspondent, has patiently traversed the country in wagons from the days that antedated the railways that now accommodate the hurrying crowds and compass half the distances by night, the tourist who knows, by painful remembrance of many stage coach bruises, more about the country than flying bird or railway traveler can hope to learn, can readily understand that fully half of what the map portrays as mountains is in reality an indication of foothills, most of which are fertile to their tops and remarkably favored by adjacent water courses.

The foothills that surround Walla Walla and give the valley the appearance of a gigantic chopping dish abound in large, luxuriant wheat fields and refreshing orchards and vineyards, with room between the cultivated patches for innumerable duplicates, while the valley itself is teeming with cultivation, trees, streams and hamlets, in the midst of which, to complete the simile of the chopping dish aforesaid, Walla Walla [illegible], garnished by tasteful [illegible] I note these [illegible] comparisons as the [illegible] the station, and remember [illegible] regret that I haven't been [illegible] through with Walla Walla's generous bill of fare when the familiar cry of "All aboard" [illegible] arouses me from revery and starts the train toward Pendleton.

In the car I am pleased to meet a gentleman from Kansas, an [illegible] Illinois acquaintance and friend, who is looking at the country for the double purpose of examining the railway interests of the Union Pacific and hunting for himself and family a desirable location for a home. The conversation [illegible] turns upon prohibition, and my friend speaks loudly in its praises. He admits that anybody who chooses can get liquors of any kind in Kansas, and in any quantity, but he says there are no open saloons, except in a few of the principal cities, where public sentiment does not yet sustain the law, and he thinks the removal of open temptation from the young is the main point gained by prohibition.

"Pass the amendment in Oregon," he said, "and you will have an overwhelming population from other states, consisting of families seeking a place where children can be raised in safety. At least, this has been the experience of Kansas."

My friend looked a little surprised when I assured him that Oregon needed other immigration to subdue her forests and cultivate her rugged hillsides than the class who had to appeal to the cauterizing iron of the law to cure their sons of drunkenness. Then he laughed, and said he was glad to find somebody who wasn't afraid to speak so plainly. And he frankly admitted before the controversy was concluded, that the philosophy of self-dependence was the only true and natural guide to the best moral development. And I saw in his case, as with hundreds of others whom I meet in traveling, that he has simply fallen into the habit of commending prohibition to be in the fashion, that he didn't pretend to be a tetotaler himself, etc., etc. To a lady who had been an interested listener, I afterwards pointed out some puddles of coffee-colored alkali water in a pasture we were traversing, around which the cattle and horses grazed with impunity, although to drink of the poisoned water meant disease and probably death. Even the calves and colts gamboled near these dangerous puddles in safety.

"There," I said, "is the way I'd deal with intoxicants. I'd make them as free and abundant as God makes alkali. I'd teach the children the evil effects of them, that they might voluntarily let them alone, or, if that didn't succeed I'd give them such an overdose that they'd instinctively shun it forever after. Our children are just as much endowed by nature with the instinct of self preservation as our calves and colts. Give them knowledge and you will preserve that instinct."

"I never thought of it in that way before," said the lady reflectively, "but come to think of it, I don't know but you're right. The stock wouldn't touch any more alkali than is good for them, unless they're kept away from it so they can only get at it by breaking down the fences."

Then the good woman went off into a disquisition upon original sin, in which I could'nt take much stock, not being strictly orthodox, though I didn't controvert her opinions, seeing she took solid comfort in the theory and knowing that the mildest dissent from her view on the subject would give her great pain. But I tried hard to prove to her by copious illustrations that the worst of all sins is moral ignorance, that the reason why the sons of the devoutest clergymen, deacons and class leaders so often go wrong, is because the alkali is fenced away from them in childhood, etc.

The lady stopped at a way station and I wasn't a particle surprised to hear within three days that her husband, who is a prohibition agitator, was telling his neighbors that "Mrs Duniway was lecturing in favor of everybody's children drinking whisky and getting drunk." Such is fame.

Upon reaching Pendleton, on my return, I gratefully accepted the hospitality of Mr H H Selfridge, the popular station keeper, and his wife and family, formerly of Portland, with whom I spent the night in the midst of meeting and converging trains moving to the music of exchanging commerce and the rataplan of jarring cars. I meant to get an abstract of the grain shipments, stock transfers, etc, for the information of the present reader, but the early hour of departure the next morning was prefaced [illegible] by a comfortable fire and [illegible] breakfast, somewhat overcast by news of fire and flood in less favored localities which reached the station from over the wires as I [illegible] delicious coffee. Verily, [illegible]

[illegible] over the undulat[illegible] the Portland [illegible] the track, [illegible] little [illegible] the rising sun [illegible] washbowl and [illegible] water of [illegible] myriads of eyes. [illegible] must have been asleep when [illegible] the Blue mountains, for he gives [illegible] of the winding Umatilla, whose banks the railway skirts for a long distance as we journey through and past the most picturesque of landscapes during all the summer morning. Everywhere the earth is clothed with verdure [illegible] dotted at intervals by massive groves of [illegible] evergreen, among which the [illegible] mingles as if one of [illegible] fringing the horizon [illegible] trying in vain to reflect shadows from the Umatilla's busy current in [illegible]

[illegible] company of tourists beg in vain [illegible] coffee at Kamela, although [illegible] The breakfast station [illegible] removed to La Grande, where the train is not due till half past nine. The Pullman porter assures a lady [illegible] that she'll be [illegible] enough [illegible] breakfast before the [illegible] get anything to eat at [illegible] half past [illegible] of Mrs [illegible] company ought to [illegible]

[illegible] the beautiful scenery [illegible] La Grande [illegible] eyes. The [illegible] the waters [illegible] Umatilla and the Walla Walla [illegible] their way in peace toward the Columbia [illegible] of the Grand Ronde and Pelican [illegible] their winding way adown the descending slopes of the mountains toward what is now the valley of Grand Ronde, though it was once a mighty inland lake.

Here at new La Grande is the breakfast station, a little beyond the mountain's rim, its buildings nestled flat in the valley like a flock of ducklings at roost on a pretty grass plat. In the background, rising in bold undulations, like a heaving ocean, are the vernal walls of this medieval lake, with evergreen trees standing at intervals in solitary state, like masts with all sails set. At their base the old town sits in [illegible] deserted dignity, smiling in a queenly way and the lap of plenty that lays before it, spreading away into the hazy distance like the generous apron of mother Earth, which it is.

I have barely time to look around me and greet the host of hospitable friends, such as I meet everywhere, before a gentle rain begins to cheer the people with its welcome pour and patter, giving promise of abundant harvests, which, but for its timely visit, would have suffered much from drouth. The clouds hang low in the mountain gorges, and the moaning winds sweep drearily over the plains. But the storm doesn't deter the good women of La Grande from visiting your correspondent at the Commercial hotel, nor abated one jot or tittle of their patriotic zeal in the cause of freedom and progress. I find the advocates of woman suffrage with pleasing unanimity resolved to let men manage their pending battle of ballots among themselves. They have decided opinions upon prohibition, both pro and con, but they say frankly, that women who have no votes and yet attempt to run politics are "out of their sphere,"—a staff of words with which none of us have been familiar for many a day, when pitched at us in a different key in response to our demand for equal rights with man to "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

New La Grande is improving as rapidly as its healthy growth will allow. Many new buildings of brick and wood, all with massive stone foundations, are going up, and the town is recovering slowly from the terrible fire which seemed for a time to paralyze it. Parts of the old town are all the time upon wheels moving slowly toward the new town, and business is well nigh dead in the former borough under the hills. But the old town is a delightful place for homes, and I wonder much that any family will leave it for the boggy flat that surrounds the station and the shops and stores. Overland trains, going both ways, now stop here for meals, and the people are jubilant because of certain advantages the place possesses as a commercial center over other places less fortunate but equally aspiring.

Two newspapers flourish here, the Gazette, which has long ceased to be a novelty, and the Journal, the new democratic rival, with which it seems to be on amicable terms. Both papers are clean, courteous and respectable reflectors of public opinion, and as such are commanding a healthy patronage. I find THE OREGONIAN in almost every house and feel that I can be pardoned for saying that my hurried contributions to its columns, so commented upon by the multitudes who read them and by the local press in [illegible], are quite gratifying to my feelings.

ABIGAIL SCOTT DUNIWAY

FREDERICK WARDE AS RICHELIEU

To successfully enact the role of the crafty cardinal in Bulwer's beautiful play requires talents of a vastly different order from those required in the delineation of such parts as Galba and Virginius. Richelieu is the embodiment of shrewdness, sagacity and crafty cunning, and to bring out the deep subtleties of his complex nature as portrayed by the author demands artistic powers of the highest order. Mr Warde's conception of the role, while differing in some respect from that of Barrett, is an admirable one, and well worked out. It lacks somewhat in fire [illegible] in the more quiet scenes, but in the climatic situations, where robust force is demanded, it is finely executed. The great act of the play, and the one which taxes the artist's abilities to the utmost, is the fourth act. [illegible] by his king, seeing all the work of a life about to be dashed to the ground, the conspiracy against his country and himself about to be accomplished, and his loved ward and her young husband separated before his very eyes, it is then that the "indomitable heart of Armand Richelieu" seems about to be crushed. But as he summons to his aid the power of Rome and launches her maledictions upon his enemies, he seems to be reanimated. In this scene Mr Warde was simply superb. He was the very personification of pontifical majesty as he towered above the crouching conspirators. In the scenes with Julie too he was tenderness itself and the [illegible] cardinal's grim humor in dealing with Joseph and De Mauprat was well expressed. Taken as a whole, while Mr Warde cannot be called great in this role, as he unquestionably is in Virginius, yet he works so hard and so conscientiously, and last night particularly, with so many disadvantages, that he is entitled to more than a fair meed of praise for so excellent a portrayal. Mr. Warde was several times most enthusiastically recalled.

Miss Blair's Julie de Mortimer was a creditable piece of work. She threw herself into the spirit of the part and in the third act told her wrongs to the Cardinal with a dramatic fire that denoted the artist.

Mr Herman made a very earnest and impulsive Chevalier de Mauprat, and managed all his scenes with dramatic skill. His reading could be improved by not running his words one into another in rapid speech.

As to the remainder of the cast, perhaps the less said the better, though Mr Hatch as the King and Miss O'Connor as Marion de Lorme are worthy of more than passing mention. They managed, by an inexcusable ignorance of their lines, to completely mar every scene in which they appeared. The close of the last act, especially, by Mr Hatch's evident flourishing about after something to say, was bungled up most terribly, and Mr Warde had the cordial sympathy of his audience. The least an actor can do is to learn what is set down for him. There may be some excuse for bad acting, there is none for not knowing his lines. To-night, "Richard the Third."

BRIEF MENTION

Frederick Warde to-night in "Richard III."

Seventh Friday surprise sale at Meier & Frank's to-morrow.

Don't forget the "Forester's" moonlight excursion Saturday evening.

THE OREGONIAN has received from the Unitarian Sunday school $18 75 for the Nanaimo fund.

A new militia company is to be mustered in at Albina to-night, to be attached to the First regiment.

Go to Magoon's stable for a stylish outfit. Elegant new buggies and fine horses. Telephone 301.

A trip to Oregon City and falls on the steamer Latona, at 10 A. M., has more attractions than any other in Oregon.

A big lot of extra fine bamboo and rattan settees, easy chairs, work tables, etc, brought on the Coloma, will be ready for delivery to-day.

A large number of people daily go up to Sellwood to look at it as an investment, and all pronounce it the prettiest location for a city that can be found near Portland.

Workmen were engaged yesterday morning in unloading lumber at the corner of First and [illegible] streets, to be used in repairing the damage done by fire to Keith's oyster house.

Water consumers will remember that if their water bills are not paid by the 10th inst. the water will be shut off. All water bills must hereafter be paid in advance at the office on [illegible] street.

About 10 o'clock last night a drunken man fell [illegible] horse he was riding, at Third and Columbia streets. The horse proceeded to [illegible] stable, where it was cared for. What became of the man was not learned.

The chief of police has wrestled with the delinquent [illegible] roll as long as required by law, and just now returned it to the auditor. The roll amounted to $1,5[illegible] 40. The chief collected [illegible] leaving a balance of $[illegible] 50. The [illegible] will now have to take steps to collect this [illegible]

In Justice Bushwiller's court yesterday [illegible] was fined $[illegible] for assault and battery [illegible] of the Swiss restaurant [illegible] street, and for threatening [illegible] was held to answer in the sum of $[illegible]. The accused paid the fine and gave the bond.

PERSONAL

[illegible] Phillips, formerly of J. K. Foster & Co., but of late in the Colville district, is in the city.

J. S. Silverstone returned yesterday from a week's trip on professional business in Washington territory.

I P W Quimby, formerly proprietor of the Quimby house, went East yesterday via the Chicago, Milwaukee & St Paul railway.

C J Charles [illegible] Crocker, vice president of the Southern Pacific, who has been in this section [illegible] business, leaves overland for California.

[illegible] Wasserman, the eldest son of Mr. Philip Wasserman, graduated from the Albany law school May [illegible], standing fourth in his class. He is now on his way home.

Capt [illegible] of the Coloma, states that Mr and Mrs K B Knapp, of this city, were to leave Yokohama for home on the steamer sailing June 1. Mrs Knapp's health was much improved by her voyage. After Mr Knapp arrived they went to Canton and Macao, and then started for a cruise through Japan.

I G Davidson returns to Stampede pass on the switchback of the Northern Pacific. While over there at the spike driving June 1 he took a number of negatives, and he says it was the hardest work of his life. There was three feet [illegible] of the summit at the time. The first [illegible] passed over June 3.

FELL FROM A TREE.—Last evening George Brooks, aged about 15, who has been working at the Holton house as bell boy, fell from a cherry tree near the corner of Fourth and D. The hight was over fifteen feet. In the fall his head struck the top of a fence, cutting a terrible wound in the skull, but fortunately not fracturing the scalp. He was otherwise bruised though no bones were broken. Dr D H Rand was called and sewed up the wound and left his patient resting easy.

THE NEW ELECTRIC LIGHT WORK

STEAM RAISED IN THE BOILERS YESTERDAY—THE IMMENSE ENGINES

A reporter paid a visit yesterday afternoon to the large brick building located on the river bank just south of Weidler's mill, and owned by the Willamette Steam Mills Lumbering and Manufacturing Company. Work was commenced on the foundation of this building over two months ago, and the masonry was completed several weeks since. The building is one of the most massively constructed houses in the city, and is as absolutely near being fire proof as possible. Very little wood has been used in the building, and that is only the necessary timbers to support the roof.

The dimensions of the building, (measured from within the walls) are, length, eighty feet; breadth, forty feet. There are two stories, the lower one being twenty feet in the clear. Above the first story is a covering of brick, which serves as ceiling, or, rather, a horizontally laid "fire wall." Strong iron joists were first laid at intervals of about five or six feet crossing from wall to wall the narrow way of the building, and between these braces courses of brick were laid edgewise. The brick are laid in the form of a slight curve or arch, and are self sustaining. About five feet above the horizontal brick work a wooden floor has been laid, on which rests the heavy machinery in the second story. Fire starting either in the first or second story can easily be confined, as the fire wall prevents a further spread. This brick ceiling is an excellent and necessary precaution, as all the large boilers and furnaces will be placed on the lower story, and the heat above will be constant and intense.

The four walls have been built unusually thick and massive. However, the north side of the first story has been left almost entirely open, as the furnaces all front in that direction and the only access to the lower story is from that side. As mentioned above, the building has been constructed by the Willamette Steam Mills Lumbering and Manufacturing Company and leased for a term of years to the United States Electric Light and Power Company. The boilers, machinery, appliances, etc., will be used in furnishing the city with light as per contract entered into with the council.

Three large boilers, forty eight inches in diameter and thirty feet long, have already been put in position and the furnaces built around them. Yesterday steam was raised for the first time to give them a trial. Everything worked in a satisfactory manner. These boilers will be thoroughly tested for several days, and if found to work well nine more of the same dimensions and build will be added. Three more will be placed just east of where the present ones have been located, and six others just west. These twelve boilers will completely fill all the space in the lower story, and when ready for service will furnish steam power sufficient to drive any reasonable number of engines. Among other things it is proposed to remove from the mill north, the old boilers and furnace which for so many years have furnished the motive power to drive the machinery. The engine will be left and steam is to be obtained from the electric works. As the distance will not exceed 400 feet, steam can be conducted through a large iron pipe, securely wrapped so as to protect it from exposure and loss of heat. Steam, it is claimed, can be conveyed in like manner for any reasonable distance and used in driving any kind of machinery. Besides affording power to drive the electric works it is proposed to distribute steam at certain rates to those who may desire it in the same way that water power is furnished.

Four large, powerful engines which are to be used in driving the dynamos have been placed in position and are practically ready for service. All the apparatus for generating the subtle light will occupy the second story of the building. Each engine is of sufficient power to drive two dynamos. Light of the latter have been set in position and will be ready for service in a few days. There is ample room in the upper story to place several more engines, but the four already in position will be adequate to furnish all the light which is needed by the city. In all, the Electric company have nine new dynamos, besides the plant which is now being used at the foot of Oak street. When the new works are ready for operation, all the machinery at the place mentioned will be removed to the brick building, in the north end. With all the appliances then in possession of the company, ample light can be furnished for years to come and the machinery increased from time to time as the demand augments.

East of the main building a large sawdust house is being constructed which will be capable of containing an immense quantity. By means of machinery the sawdust will be conveyed from the mill to the building, and from there, by a clever contrivance near the boilers where it is fed automatically, into the furnaces and perform an important function in generating steam. When everything is in full blast there will be no need of firemen to shovel the sawdust into the furnaces, for they will be kept supplied by machinery.

THE COUNTY COURT

DETECTIVES APPLY FOR REWARD—THE BIDS FOR CARING FOR INDIGENT SICK

The county commissioners met yesterday, present, Judge Catlin and Commissioner J. A. Newell. Detectives Barry and Simmons applied for the $300 reward offered for the arrest and conviction of Ili Roberts and W T Byrneys, who burned Ladd's barn. It was ordered that they appear to-day, when due consideration will be given to the claim.

The matter of the remission of $11 0 of the taxes of Henry Wemhard for the year 1884 was heard and taken under advisement.

John Lake was allowed a rebate on $217 in his assessment for taxes.

Bids for the care of indigent sick were opened, when it was ascertained that both the Good Samaritan and St Vincent hospitals bid 50 cents a day for each patient. No award has yet been made.

The commissioners considered various reports of county officers and ordered numerous bills paid.

BATTERY ELECTION.—At a meeting of Battery A, First artillery, Oregon National Guard, held at their armory last evening, forty seven members took the oath of service and proceeded to elect officers. Capt Wm J Riley and First Lieut Joseph Wilkins were elected and quartermaster Sergeant Edward Mosher elected second lieutenant. A short drill was had, the movements being well executed, particularly the saber drill. By request Major Taylor made a few remarks recommending [illegible] [illegible] to war. J A Adams [illegible] of the [illegible] [illegible] in the same capacity.

THOMAS HEATH'S ESTATE.—The county court yesterday issued a citation to the nearest [illegible] of John S. [illegible], now confined in the insane asylum, who was the administrator of the estate of the late Thomas Heath, to show cause why certain property belonging to Raleigh should not be sold to cover a deficiency of $[illegible] alleged to exist in the account of the estate of Thomas Heath, deceased, which accrued during the period that Raleigh had charge of it. This does not imply that Raleigh appropriated the funds to his private use, and if he were in sound mental health the apparent deficiency might be satisfactorily explained.

GRAY WOLVES KILLED.—Monday J. M French returned from Harrisburg to Albany, bringing with him the scalp of a large gray wolf, which had been killed the day before by Charles Arnspiger in the hills east of Harrisburg, says the Herald. He killed two of the wolves, which were of the gray variety and larger than an ordinary dog. They had been preying upon stock in that locality. These are the kind of wolves which were a terror to early western settlers and are now very rarely found in the state. A bounty of $5 is paid for the scalps by the county.

THE RAINS.—In the 24 hours ending at 8:30 yesterday morning, Snake river at Riparia fell 11 inches and marked 14 feet 5 inches, a total fall since June 2 of 7 feet 5 inches. The Columbia at Celilo fell 6 inches and marked 21 feet, a total fall since June 3 of 3 feet, 4 inches. The Willamette in the 24 hours ending at 8 o'clock last night fell five tenths and marked 23.2.

AT THE GILMAN HOUSE, PORTLAND, JUNE 14, 15 AND 16

Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness and Hay Fever—A New Treatment

Sufferers are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nose and eustachian tubes. Microscopic research has proved this fact, and it is now made easy to cure this curse of our country in one or two simple applications made by the patient at home. Send stamp for circular describing this new treatment to A H Dixon & Son, 303 West King street, Toronto, Canada. By special request Mr Dixon Sr will be at the Gilman House, Portland, June 14, 15 and 16. Sufferers should call and see him. Consultation free.

The excursion to Vancouver by the Albina Sunday school next Saturday, promises to be a very pleasant affair. Everybody invited. Steamer leaves Albina at 8 A. M. Tickets, 50 cents; children, 25 cents.

THE EAST SIDE

PROPOSED LINE OF THE SELLWOOD & VANCOUVER COMPANY—THE NEW SCHOOL HOUSE—ETC

It seems that the Sellwood & Vancouver Street Railway Company have by no means abandoned their projected line. A petition is being circulated and generously signed by property owners of East Portland asking the city council to grant this company the right to run their line over the following route: Commencing on Grant and Fourth streets (north city limits) and running thence on Fourth street to J, thence west on J to Water, thence south on Water to U, thence east on U to Fifth, thence south on Fifth to V, thence east on V to Seventh, thence south on Seventh to Adams, thence east on Adams to Tenth, thence south on Tenth to Division, thence east on Division street to Eleventh street. From the southern extremity of the city on to Sellwood the line comes within the control of the county, and the company have secured from the county the right of way. On the northern extremity of the city the line runs on to Vancouver. The system of lines of the Sellwood company embrace an extensive range and tends to build up the suburban interests. Its representatives disclaim any intention to discriminate against bridges or ferries. Indeed, lines extended to Sellwood on the south and Vancouver on the north would increase the traffic across the river very largely. A company has secured the right to erect and maintain electric lights. Free school houses are to be built, and what the city needs is an extensive system of street car lines.

COMFORT, BUT NOT ORNAMENTATION

In the construction of the new school buildings there seems a general wish that the directors shall aim at comfort and convenience and not ornamentation. The citizens feel that every dollar should be put where it will do the most good, and do not care to have any filigree. Latest improvements in the way of furniture, etc, [illegible] more essential than anything else. It seems conceded that furnaces should be introduced in place of stoves on the score of economy and [illegible] health. Also it seems the general wish [illegible] the directors shall [illegible] at once and take [illegible] action. Monday new teachers will be [illegible] and the entire time will be [illegible] take up with that important [illegible] should be called for the specific purpose of taking up the building question.

EAST PORTLAND PUBLIC SCHOOLS

[illegible] public [illegible] district No. [illegible] for [illegible]

[illegible]
North School	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]			8[illegible]		1	1 4
[illegible]	[illegible]	2 5	1[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	10[illegible]
[illegible] street school	[illegible]	2[illegible]	1[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]	4	1[illegible]

[illegible] W. A. WETZELL, Sup

FAIRVIEW NEWS

Several gentlemen were in from Fairview and Troutdale yesterday, and among them was Mr Howard. It seems that some days ago a woman drew a gun on Mr Howard and in a most threatening manner. He came in yesterday with the intention of swearing out a warrant for her arrest, but changed his mind in relation to the matter. It is not exactly a reign of peace in the Rooster Rock district, but it is hoped matters will now assume a more placid aspect. Last Saturday Mr Howard met with an accident by cutting his right hand cut with an ax.

GONE TO ECHO

Mr J F Sperry yesterday afternoon took the train for Echo, Umatilla county. He had just come in on the O & C from Eugene City when a dispatch came stating that a quantity of his firm's wool at Echo had been seized by the sheriff of that county for some one who thinks he has a claim upon the same. Mr Sperry had no idea when he left what the seizure means, but thinks he can straighten matters out when he reaches Echo. The firm has just had a similar experience at La Grande in relation to some wool.

BUTTERFLY SOCIAL

Last evening the butterfly social given by the ladies of auxiliary committee of the Y M C A was a complete success. The ladies having the matter in charge deserve credit for the excellent entertainment given. Ice cream was served to a large number, and the receipts of the evening were substantial.

FINED TEN DOLLARS

A young fellow by the name of Witterwood pleaded guilty yesterday to disorderly conduct and was fined $10. He was charged with disorderly conduct by disturbing a party in Stephens addition about ten days ago. He lives in Albina.

NOTES

The public schools of district No. [illegible], East Portland, closed yesterday.

Kit Poyne, who has been at Baker City for the past six months, returned to East Portland yesterday.

Mrs. S A Thrall, who has been visiting in Salem, has returned. Miss May Chapin came with her.

About 150 head of sheep came in on the O & C and two carloads of cattle came in on the Northern Pacific last night.

Miss Anna Kesall, who has been attending the public schools in this city for the past year, returned to her home at Fairview yesterday.

Pete Salts and Jones left yesterday evening for Goldendale, W T. They begin to-night a series of religious meetings to continue ten days.

Secure your tickets at once for the Baptist and Presbyterian union excursion to Bonneville Saturday. Multnomah leaves Portland at 7, touches at Woodward's landing at 7:15 and Dodd [illegible] at 7:30. Tickets, adults 50 cents, children under [illegible] cents.

OREGON PIONEER ASSOCIATION

PORTLAND, June 8.

To the Pioneers of Oregon:—You are requested to make special effort to be present in this city on Wednesday, June 15, to attend our fifteenth annual reunion. The citizens of Portland, many of whom belong to our association, are making a great effort to make this occasion one of great interest and pleasure not only to pioneers, but to their wives and children as well. [illegible] arrangements have been made for reduction of [illegible] over the lines of the Oregon & California [illegible] and the Oregon and Railway [illegible] It is hoped there will be a large attendance at this [illegible] will [illegible] at the court house and there [illegible] formed into [illegible] by Col. John M [illegible] grand marshal [illegible] thence to [illegible] will proceed to the Mechanics' pavilion [illegible] the [illegible] by Rev [illegible] of East Portland and [illegible] of Ashland, interspersed with music [illegible] instrumental. In the evening a grand [illegible] music to be furnished by the [illegible] band from Fort Vancouver. [illegible] a committee to have a fine picture of [illegible] painted and [illegible] It is [illegible] Afterwards the painting will be placed in the [illegible] chambers of the state house. The first [illegible] ready for the [illegible] besides the engravings [illegible] Mr McLoughlin, Hon J W Nesmith and [illegible] John H [illegible]

All who cannot come in person are requested to send their annual dues [illegible] address acknowledgment of which will be [illegible] made.

An earnest invitation is extended to the pioneers of Washington territory to meet with us on this occasion.

GEO H HIMES,
Secretary Oregon Pioneer Association

THE LATE JOHN SCHEURER

All that is mortal of the late John Scheurer will be laid to rest to-day in the cemetery near his old home at Fulton. He was born in Darmstadt, Germany, August [illegible] 18[illegible], and came to the United States in 18[illegible], and settled in Illinois, where he remained two years. In 18[illegible] he enlisted for the Mexican war for one year, and served for two years, returning to Illinois in 18[illegible] He was shortly after married to [illegible] and in 18[illegible] immigrated to Oregon, arriving here in September of that year [illegible] in Portland three months [illegible] to Fulton, where he resided till 18[illegible] [illegible] Portland where he resided [illegible] Mr Scheurer was a [illegible] esteemed by a large circle of friends. He leaves a wife, three sons and three daughters [illegible] to mourn.

$5000 Reward $5000

For a better or more pleasant remedy for the cure of Consumption, Coughs, Asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough, and Bronchial trouble than Greene's Lung Restorer Santa Abie the Abietine and Mountain Balm Cough Cure. Every bottle warranted by your chemist or druggist.

THE SPARKS Fashion Magazine for July at Ed Dekum's, 40 Washington street.

CHATTANOOGA.

Dr John Fiske's Fourth Lecture at the Tabernacle.

The fourth lecture of Mr. Fiske was received by a still larger audience than the last, in spite of many social counter attractions. For two hours without pause, Mr Fiske held the attention of the crowded hall, and the universal remark is that the lectures are the most instructive and attractive ever listened to in our city. It is pleasant to think we are to now have a second series, on early New England history, the first being Friday next, June 10. The following brief resume will give an idea of what the lecturer said yesterday evening, though no abstract does any justice to the magnificent description and illustrations.

Next to Vicksburg and Richmond the most important objective of the Union armies was Chattanooga. It was the gateway to Georgia. It commanded the southern approaches to East Tennessee and its possession by the rebels enabled them easily to send reinforcements back and forth between Virginia and the West. The fall of Vicksburg had lopped off from the Confederacy the three states of Texas, Arkansas and Louisiana. The fall of Chattanooga would virtually lop off Mississippi and Alabama also and throw what was left of the war into the seaboard states. It was the indispensable preliminary to Sherman's great march first to the sea and then northward toward the rear of Lee's army.

After the battle of Stone River the armies of Rosecrans and Bragg lay facing each other for nearly six months, the former at Murfreesboro, the latter at Shelbyville and Tullahoma. Each tried by bold and sweeping cavalry raids to destroy the other's line of communications. Late in June Rosecrans began a series of skillful flanking movements which forced Bragg out of middle Tennessee and into Chattanooga. This preliminary campaign ended on the 3d of July, the same day that witnessed the victory at Gettysburg and the hoisting of the white flag by the rebel commander at Vicksburg. Grant, Meade and Rosecrans were at this moment the three most conspicuous figures in the field. But now Rosecrans had a very difficult task before him. To move by his left flank and attack Chattanooga on the north would necessitate a long wagon haul over Walden's Ridge, making a very inadequate line of communication. It was safer to move by his right flank, [illegible] crossing the river at Bridgeport [illegible] and moving straight [illegible] threaten Bragg's communications [illegible] Dalton [illegible] keep his [illegible] so well covered [illegible] how at the enemy [illegible] and formidable [illegible] of [illegible] gave the audience a very good idea of the nature of that mountain region [illegible] Bragg [illegible] adversary was [illegible] Dalton [illegible] Chattanooga and retreated [illegible] cover his [illegible] fall upon the Union [illegible] from the mountain [illegible] Crittenden [illegible] Union left wing, took possession of Chattanooga.

Now Rosecrans [illegible] a fearful mistake. The two wings of his army were already [illegible] apart. Instead of concentrating with all possible speed he was misled by the belief that Bragg was in flight toward Atlanta, and he issued such orders for pursuit as to separate his wings still more widely. When he found that Bragg was at Lafayette he was astounded and almost panic stricken. Bragg had the opportunity to strike his three corps separately and overwhelm them one after [illegible] But [illegible] perhaps because he was expecting reinforcements from Virginia under Longstreet, Rosecrans drew his army together as quickly as possible but owing to McCook's being deceived as to the condition of the roads and therefore diverging from the course it was not till September 14 that the army was concentrated in Chickamauga valley. McCook was unlucky or unskillful here at Stone river. But for his delay the battle need not have been fought in Chickamauga valley at all. It was the interest of Rosecrans to get to Chattanooga without a fight, occupy the hights and force Bragg to attack him in a strong position. But Bragg succeeded in forcing the fight in Chickamauga valley in the hope of cutting off Rosecrans from the passes through Missionary Ridge, especially Rossville Gap.

Mr Fiske then illustrated with diagrams the great battle of Chickamauga, the extraordinary blunder which made a gap in the battle front, the consequent rout of the right wing and imminent destruction of the Union army. Here came a [illegible] description of the wonderful fighting of General Thomas, the Rock of Chickamauga, which warded off impending ruin and converted the enemy's triumph into a barren victory. Next came the seizure of Lookout Mountain and Missionary Ridge by Bragg. The Union army in Chattanooga was thus reduced for its supplies to the single line of wagon road over Walden's Ridge, and provisions soon began to run short. Most of the horses died. Bragg believed that he had only to sit still and see the Union army succumb to starvation. Rosecrans had a plan for opening a line of communications with his base at Stevenson by way of Brown's and Kelly's ferries. It was exactly the same plan which was carried out after Grant's arrival. But it could not be carried out except with the aid of a strong force co-operating from without. Hooker was detached from the Army of the Potomac with the Eleventh and Twelfth corps and upon his arrival at Bridgeport Rosecrans was preparing to put his plan into execution when he was suddenly removed from command and Thomas took his place and Grant just appointed to command all the armies between the Mississippi and the Alleghenies hastened to Chattanooga. Toward that same point started the army from Vicksburg, now led by Gen Sherman.

The beautiful manœuvre for opening communications through Brown's ferry was then fully illustrated. Grant deserves none of the credit for this as the plan was fully developed before his arrival. The credit for its admirable execution belongs to "Baldy" Smith. The lecturer then discussed [illegible] mistake in sending Longstreet away at this time into East Tennessee. It was probably because Bragg knew that the Union army could not move for want of horses until Sherman's [illegible] should arrive, and Halleck, true to his [illegible] traditions, had set Sherman to work mending the railroad yard by yard as he advanced. When Grant took command his prestige had become such that Halleck did not like to interfere with him. Grant at once stopped this nonsense and ordered up Sherman with all possible speed. On Sherman's arrival his army was stealthily marched across Brown's ferry and Moccasin point to a place above Chattanooga, where he was able to occupy the northern end of Missionary Ridge and threaten Chickamauga station on the railway which formed Bragg's line of communications. Thomas captured the isolated hill, standing in Orchard Knob, which served as an excellent base of operations against Missionary Ridge. On the extreme Union right Hooker was to make a demonstration against Lookout Mountain, but the accidental breaking of the bridge at Brown's Ferry prevented Sherman's rear division from crossing, and left it at Hooker's disposal. Owing to this accidental increase of Hooker's force, Grant ordered him to carry the mountain by storm. Mr Fiske gave an account of the far famed battle above the clouds, and showed the skill and heroism of Gen Geary. He then described the great struggle of the next day, Bragg's [illegible] weakening his center on Missionary ridge in order to strengthen his right which was hard pressed by Sherman near Chickamauga station. This left his center so weak that by and by Thomas was able to storm the ridge, break through the rebel center and drive their army from the field. All these events were described in the most vivid detail, and with the general remarks on the importance and results of the campaign the lecture ended.

On Friday evening next the subject is "The Roman Idea and the English Idea," being a more [illegible] study of the theory of government underlying the two dominant races of modern history.

TRUTH NATIONAL LEAGUE

[illegible]

Grand Display

Look at our Windows.

FOR THREE DAYS ONLY, —COMMENCING—
MONDAY, JUNE 6th.

[illegible]

SILK-FINISH
SATEENS
All Shades, Imported Designs,
—AT—
20 cts. a yard.

Crinkled
Seersuckers
—AT—
8 10
12½ and 15
Cents per yard.

STRAW HATS!
Men's and Boy's, for 25, 50, 75c and $[illegible]

The above goods at these figures for THREE DAYS ONLY.

CALL EARLY.

E. Meyer & Co.
Cor First and Yamhill Sts

Catarrh to Consumption

Catarrh in its destructive force stands next to and undoubtedly leads on to consumption. It is therefore singular that those afflicted with this fearful disease should not make it the object of their lives to rid themselves of it. Deceptive remedies concocted by ignorant pretenders to medical knowledge have weakened the confidence of the great majority of sufferers in all advertised remedies. They become resigned to a life of misery rather than torture themselves with doubtful palliatives.

But this will never do. Catarrh must be met at every stage and combatted with all our might. In many cases the disease has assumed dangerous symptoms. The bones and cartilage of the nose, the organs of hearing, of seeing and of tasting so affected as to be useless, the uvula so elongated, the throat so inflamed and irritated as to produce a constant and distressing cough.

SANFORD'S RADICAL CURE meets every phase of Catarrh, from a simple head cold to the most loathsome and destructive stages. It is local and constitutional. Instant in relieving, permanent in curing, safe, economical and never failing.

Each package contains one bottle of the RADICAL CURE, one box CATARRHAL SOLVENT and an IMPROVED INHALER, with treatise; price $1.

POTTER DRUG & CHEMICAL CO., BOSTON.

Coughs, Sore Throat, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Croup, Bronchitis, Asthma, and every affection of the Throat, Lungs and Chest are speedily and permanently cured by the use of

WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY.

It does not dry up a cough and leave the cause behind, but loosens it, cleanses the lungs, and allays irritation, thus removing the cause of the complaint. CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED by a timely resort to this standard remedy, as is proved by hundreds of testimonials. The genuine is signed "I. BUTTS" on the wrapper. SETH W. FOWLE & SONS, Proprietors, Boston, Mass. Sold by dealers generally.

[illegible] PILLS

CURE

Malaria, Dumb Chills, Fever and Ague, Wind Colic, Bilious Attacks.

[illegible]

SOLD EVERYWHERE.

Ice Cream
[illegible] per quart
FREEZERS,
ONLY [illegible]
DAYTON & HALL,
1[illegible] First St

THIEL'S DETECTIVE SERVICE
Established 1873.
G. H. THIELE, Proprietor.
[illegible]
ST LOUIS [illegible]
NEW YORK [illegible]
PORTLAND OFFICE [illegible]
[illegible] Manager

Cures in 1 TO 5 DAYS. Guaranteed not to cause Stricture. Mf'd only by the Evans Chemical Co. Cincinnati, Ohio.

We cordially recommend your [illegible] We have sold [illegible]
Alcott & Lisk, Hudson, N. Y.
Sold by Druggists. Price $1.00.

FITS STOPPED FREE
Marvelous success. Insane Persons Restored. DR. KLINE'S GREAT NERVE RESTORER [illegible]

Electric Belt Free

To introduce it and obtain agents we will for the next sixty days give away free of charge, in each county in the U. S. a limited number of our German Electro Galvanic Suspensory Belts, Price $5; a positive and unfailing cure for Nervous Debility, Varicocele, Emissions, Impotency, &c. $500 Reward paid if every Belt we manufacture does not generate a genuine electric current. Address at once ELECTRIC BELT AGENCY, P. O. Box 178, Brooklyn, N. Y.

WOOD ENGRAVING [illegible]

MORPHINE AND WHISKY Habits Cured by DR. KEELEY'S Double Chloride of Gold Remedy [illegible] STRONG, Agent for Pacific Coast, [illegible] Third Street, San Francisco, Cal.

FARMERS' AND MECHANICS' STORE.

ONE PRICE TO ALL

For the past thirty [illegible] painters and [illegible] engaged in [illegible] to our sto[illegible] that he wil[illegible] prove the front of [illegible] tend to make [illegible] partment [illegible] more goods, [illegible] have in transit [illegible] have stored in [illegible] of Dress Good[illegible] cut is now checked [illegible] such that we have [illegible]

MONDAY MORNING,
May 16, at 9 A. M.,

And until further notice [illegible] ticle and in every dep[illegible] such an extent that [illegible] clear in a very short time [illegible] goods we have.

Cut the Price in Two!

WHITE GOODS.

Our stock in this department [illegible] and embrace some [illegible] PIQUES, MARSEILLES [illegible] TORIA LAWNS [illegible] LAWNS [illegible] SWISS, LACE CHECKS [illegible] below will give you an idea [illegible] are making.

1000 yards Piques Price cut in [illegible]		[illegible] per yd
2000 yards Piques The cut in [illegible]		[illegible] per yd
1000 yards Nainsook Price cut in [illegible]
1000 yards Nainsook The price cut [illegible]
1000 yards Nainsook The cut price [illegible]
500 yards Victoria Lawn The cut p[illegible]
500 yards Victoria Lawn The cut p[illegible]
500 yards Bishop Lawn Price cut in [illegible]
500 yards plain [illegible] The cut price [illegible]
500 yards plain White Swiss Price cut in two [illegible]
500 yards White Dotted Swiss The cut price [illegible]
500 yards Cream Mull Price cut in two [illegible]

SUMMER DRESS FABRICS.

Organdies	Cream [illegible] Pink Blue	[illegible] per yd
Price cut in two [illegible]		[illegible] per yard
Crepe de Chinese The cut [illegible]		[illegible] per yd
Princess Toile Suit[illegible] The cut [illegible]
Manchester Ventie[illegible] Price c[illegible]
32 inch Foulards The cut [illegible]		[illegible] per yd
30-inch Percales Price cut [illegible]
200 pieces Printed Ca[illegible] Price c[illegible]		[illegible] per yd
40 pieces Curtain S[illegible] Price c[illegible]		[illegible] patterns, [illegible] yd

FOREIGN AND AMERICAN DRESS GOODS.

30-inch Diagonal Price cut in tw[illegible]	[illegible] per yd
30-inch Cashmere Price cut in tw[illegible]	[illegible] per yd
30-inch Cashmere, two [illegible] The cut price [illegible]	[illegible] per yd
42 inch Cashmere St[illegible] The cut p[illegible]	per yd
38-inch English Tri[illegible] The c[illegible]	per yd
38-inch Inverness Tr[illegible] The c[illegible]	[illegible] per yd
38-inch Novelty Plaids The cut [illegible]	[illegible] per yd
38 inch All wool Serge The cut [illegible]	per yd
44 inch Tailor Stripes The c[illegible]	per yd
44-inch Drap d'Avignon The cut [illegible]	$1 per yd

PLUSHES, VELVETS, VELVETEENS.

16-inch Plush, cut price	[illegible]
1[illegible] inch Plush, cut price	[illegible]
1[illegible] inch Velvets, cut [illegible]	[illegible]
1[illegible] inch Brocaded Velve[illegible]	[illegible]
2[illegible] inch Colored Velve[illegible] Price cut in tw[illegible]	[illegible]

DOMESTIC DEPARTMENT.

BLEACHED & UNBLEACHED [illegible]

8 4 Pequot
9 4 Pequot
10-4 Pequot

GINGHAMS, [illegible]

Sateen Prints
Best Quality Prints
Second Quality Prints
Indigo Blue Prints, [illegible]

FANCY GOODS.

ALL-SILK GROS GRAIN RIBBON

No 4 price
No 5 price
No 7 price
No 9 price
No 12 price
No 16 price
Price [illegible]

No 4 for
No 7 for
No 12 for

Ladies' Brown [illegible] ful [illegible]

Ladies' French [illegible] Pr[illegible]

Misses French [illegible]

Misses' Ribbed [illegible] Price [illegible]

These are, without [illegible] gains ever offered [illegible] coast.

Ladies' Kid G[illegible] Black and Color[illegible]

To Our Country Friends

I[illegible] we [illegible] ing [illegible] cannot be [illegible]

[illegible] & [illegible]
200, 2[illegible] 204 206 First st.
PORTLAND

VOL 27 [illegible]

The A. P. H[illegible]

[illegible] 1, 2 [illegible] 7 [illegible]

Importers and Wh[illegible]

[illegible] F. CUTTE[illegible]

[illegible]

GRAND CELEBRATION

—AT—

PORTLAND, ORE[illegible]

[illegible]

Herrmann and Lorella Brewe[illegible]

[illegible] Grand Marc[illegible] Play and Parade [illegible] Sports [illegible] Event [illegible]

Also [illegible] new and nove[illegible]

Grand Illumination of [illegible] Willamette [illegible]

In the evening [illegible]

PYROTECHNIC DISPL[illegible]

SPECIAL — The SECOND CAV[illegible] BAND of Walla Walla [illegible] bands have been engaged for this [illegible] REDUCED RATES [illegible]

BALL'S

HEALTH PRESERVING

CORSETS

BONED WITH KABO

[illegible] WEAR [illegible] THREE [illegible]

PERFECTLY SATISFACTORY

[illegible]

CHICAGO CORSET CO.,
202 FRANKLIN ST. [illegible] CHICAGO
[illegible] New York

[illegible]

A[illegible]
Rea[illegible] a [illegible] C
[illegible]

CONSUMPTION

[illegible]